This course has, at least, the merit of being democratic. It embodies the Chicago-socialistic idea. It is, no doubt, somewhat "under color" and falls short of the standard ; it could not be commended by the Supreme Court which-if Mr. Currey is serious-will have eventually to deal with the case, but it is entirely consistent with the practice of Mr. Currey's client before and ever since he got himself into trouble at the Chatham police court by violating the provincial game law, and the blame, therefore, may not altogether be Mr. Currey's.

There has not been a statement in the ADVANCE concerning Dr. Cox which the facts did not justify. We refer, of course, to the statements themselves, and not to any misrepresentations of them which Dr. Cox or his friends may make. Mr. Smith has, in those statements, spoken directly in manly fashion, and has not dealt in veiled slander, like those who are anxious to stab the reputation of others, but lack the courage to do it openly and take the consequences.

Dr. Cox was so foolish as to write a lot on this part of the continent, to build up of silly verbiage in the press concerning

The City Council of Antwerp, rejected a motion of sympathy with Mr. Kruger.

At a meeting of the St. John Exhibition Association last week the Secretary's report showed the deficit at this year's fair to be $2,599. A resolution was passed to meet President Longley of the Nova Scotia Commission regarding the arrangement of dates next year.

In response to a confidential inquiry as to whether Mr. Kruger would be welcomed here, says a Vienna correspondent of the London Daily Mail, "a polite reply was re turned to the effect that Emperor Francis Joseph had made other dispositions for the next few weeks."

In proposing the Mayor and Town Council Premier Tweedie said that owing to curlers alone being invited on this occasion they had not the pleasure of Mayor Loggie's presence. Since 1896 great improvements had taken place in Chatham's appearance and also in the administration of its affairs. If taxes had increased there was something to show for it and there was a public spirit and pride in the town which required that we should keep pace with other places. In especially so to those of Chatham who the absence of Mayor Loggie he coupled the name of ex-Mayor Winslow with the toast. Ald. Burr made a brief speech, and concluded by reciting "The Island of the Scots.

Ex-Mayor Winslow expressed his appreciation of the kind things said of him by the Premier, and referred, at some length, to that gentleman's successful public career, his effectiveness as a representative of Northumberland and as an all-round legislator, whose talents had been recognised, until he had risen to the high position which they were all proud to know he so ably and acceptably filled. His course as a public man and his occupancy of the office of premier reflected credit on Chatham and
