Retired. Sir Charles Tupper has definitely announced his exit from public life, although several of the successful Conservative candidates in the late election offered to resign in order to open constituencies for him.

The U. S. Elections. Our Washington correspondent writes: The election is over and President McKinley is re-elected President of the United States for four years more.

With the People. Some of our disappointed friends, including the world, appear to think that the ADVANCE ought to sometimes imitate their example and not be in touch politically with public sentiment.

Politics in Newfoundland. The Marine party has been almost wiped out in Newfoundland. Its defeat is a heavy blow to railway and mining magnate Reid.

get elected to parliament by pretending to be a friend of Mr. Blair. We do not find fault with the World for supporting both the Liberal and Conservative candidates in the late election in this County, because it always runs with the hare and holds with the hounds.

By-Elections. There are four constituencies in New Brunswick for which elections for the local legislature must soon take place. They are York, Carleton, Albert and Kings.

Marine Insurance. The discrimination of the underwriters against the St. Lawrence route was thrashed out before the government at Ottawa on Monday by Lieut. Col. Bond and Capt. Riley, representing the Underwriters' Association.

Declaration Day in Newcastle. High Sheriff Call, Returning Officer, re-opened his election court, pursuant to adjournment, at Newcastle, on Saturday last, and with the assistance of election clerk, E. T. D. Aitken, made up and declared the votes polled for candidates James Robinson and John Morrissey.

Events of Campbellton, (Conservative) says: "The elections are over and the Liberals returned with a tremendous majority. The results have been a surprise to both parties for although Liberal papers prophesied a handsome victory the defeat of all the conservative leaders was not anticipated."

The Montreal Witness, which is, probably, the clearest daily paper in Canada, says in its issue of last Thursday: "In spite of the heavy rain which fell during most of the day, yesterday, the people seemed to have turned out in masses to resist the campaign of abuse, deceit and slander so unscrupulously waged against the government."

It seems probable that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have in the next parliament between 65 and 70 English-speaking supporters from outside the Province of Quebec, representatives that is of English-speaking provinces. His English-speaking supporters will probably be greater in number than the English-speaking supporters of Sir Hibbert Tupper, Mr. Haggart, Mr. William Maclean, or whoever will prove the Conservative leader.

puts down every Liberal from Quebec as French-Canadian, whereas twelve of them are English, and of these ten represent constituencies in which the English-speaking vote preponderates. As a matter of fact there are fewer French-Canadians in the present parliament than there were in the late parliament.

At the official declaration at Dalhousie Monday, the returning officer declared James Reid elected by 477 majority. Mr. Reid had 1,221 votes and Mr. McAllister 744.

There are many things known as good for a cough, yet the special virtue of all are combined in Adamson's Botanic Cough Balm. Purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, not narcotic, soothing, healing. 25c. All Druggists.

After the declaration was made Mr. Robinson spoke briefly. He said he had again to thank the electors of Northumberland for returning him as their representative. This was the sixth election he had run in this County and every time he had been successful.

Mr. Morrissey said he had to thank the nineteen hundred electors for the hearty support they had given him. It had been said that it would be impossible to save his deposit if he ran against Mr. Robinson, but he had beaten him.

Mr. Robinson's speech was a rebuke for them in a portion of Hon. Mr. Blair's speech in St. John on declaration day. Mr. Blair said: "The ex-minister of finance has taken up the question of the strength of the government representation in the province of Quebec. I know that has been very largely commented upon since Wednesday last, and it was a subject that I might well have referred to upon this occasion, and upon which I might have been justified in giving my opinion and bringing a few important facts to the attention of the people of this constituency; but I abstained absolutely from doing so. I feel I could have made a series of strong points upon this question if I had dealt with it; but I abstained, for in my opinion the subject is one which the both candidates and the people were pleased with his conduct. Following are the general returns, as accurately as they can be had to date: NEW BRUNSWICK. Constituency. Con. Lib. Ind. Liberal.

more it is dropped, and the further we public men keep from it, the better it will be in the true interests of our common country. (Cheers.)

Mr. Blair—I am not called upon to defend any other than my own course, and I have indicated just what course I thought it expedient for me to take. I think the same course should have been pursued by my opponent. He is, however, the best judge as to that.

It should be thought necessary to emphasize the fact that a man is a Catholic and a Frenchman any more than if he were an Episcopalian and an Englishman. There is only one explanation, and it lies at the very root of the matter. It is absolutely disqualifying the gentleman who belongs to the Conservative party from making any attack upon the province or the people of Quebec.

Mr. Blair—I say it unhesitatingly, and I can prove it out of the mouths of credible witnesses, that on many occasions he did not touch upon the issues. I do not say that he did not refer to them at some of his meetings; but that at very many of them he did not. I was told by many reliable gentlemen that his speeches consisted very largely of diatribes against "those miserable Frenchmen."

When Mr. Blair had concluded it was after 2 o'clock and he with most of the speakers, left.

Mr. Blair—I am happy to say that Mr. Stockton speaks of a time long since past. He knows perfectly well that I do not refer to the time when there was a serious struggle between the province of Ontario and the province of Quebec; but he cannot show that the Liberal party, in the sense in which I am speaking of the Conservative party in the recent campaign, ever made any such use of the fact. The Conservatives were glad enough to get that support, and they certainly had a right to it. You did not hear anything from them then as to any insecurity of danger to Protestant interests in that connection. They only put forward that view when they are out of office and want to take our places. (Cheers.)
