NOTICE.

Through the efforts of Mr. W. A. Hickman, Immigration Commissioner, who has been in England for some months past, it is expected that in the coming spring a considerable number of farmers with capital will arrive in the province, with a view to purchasing farms. All persons having desirable farms to dispose of will please communicate with the undersigned, when blank forms will be sent, to be filled in with the necessary particulars as to location, price, terms of sale, etc. Quite a number of agricultural laborers are also expected and farmers desiring help will also please communicate with the undersigned. Dated, St. John, N. B., Feb. 9th, A. D. 1901.

The failure of the lumber operators to get out the delayed drives of logs on the upper St. John is much to be regretted. Not only does it entail considerable loss to the owners, because many of the logs wil no doubt drift to sea with the ice in the spring, but it happens at a time when the British lumber market is particularly strong, and prices high, with an upward tendency. It is fortunate that the firms affected are financially strong, but there is none the less regret that they will not be able to place this lumber on the market under such favorable conditions as at present prevail. The lumberman must of course be a philosopher, because he cannot be certain about his logs or his market at the time he makes his logging contracts. The fact that these logs cannot be down this fall and that many of them may be lost in the spring, will also affect the labor market at the mills. A number of mills had to shut down earlier than usual this fall because their log suppl had run short, and now these must remain idle till loss come down in the spring. Thus the welfare of more than the owners of the logs is affected by the very poor stream-driving of the season that has just closed, -St. John Star.

Close of the Dairy Contest at the Pan-American Exposition

Many have been the things of interest which visitors to the "Pan-American" have had the privilege of seeing, and not least among these was the Model Dairy. Thousands of interested visitors daily thronged it and it was evident that only were the agricultural classes interested in it but people of all classes showed Swelling, Pains, Sore Throat and Lungs, and their keen interest in the production of pure milk.

This has not been a contest of Candadians against Americans, as in the case of the show cattle, but has been a contest of breed against breed. The Guerseys have been winners in the butter fat test, but i is the Guernsey breeders on both sides of the line, and not alone those of the United States from whence the Guernseys came, which will be benefitted. Likewise the Holsteins, which won the Total Solids prize. The Holsteins, it is true, were Canadians, but American Holstein men as well as Canadians will claim honors for their breed. The Canadians had the most profitable cows it is true, taking them as a whole, but the best dairy breeds were not repre sented by the United States. They brought out some breeds which Canada could not produce, viz., Polled Jerseys, Red Polls. Datch Belted and Brown Swiss. The Red Polls and Brown Swiss do not claim to be special dairy breeds while the other two did not distinguish themselves in that line.

Canada, on the other hand, sent three distinctly dairy breeds, Jerseys, Holsteins and Ayrshires, which, with the Guernseys formed the only strong competitors for the prizes offered. All the other breeds have more or less merit as dairy cattle The French Canadians are a distinctly dairy breed, not large producers, but very economical, and as family cows would make a particularly good showing.

Polled Jerseys,

"A what-a curling match ?" "No, skirling. It's worth seeing, and, for a feat of balancing, quite up to Cinquevalli's best. You haven't seen everything on the footstool yet." The "boy" resented the evnicism of the Hardened Sinner a little.

"Two men stand on a log in the water and try to roll it so that-oh, each tries to roll the other off. That's all."

"Not much in that. I could do that." "So you could-one part of it. Wait till I tell you. The match I saw was for $100 a side and the championship of the world. The man, who had been unbeaten for years, was called Campbell, and lived in Parry Sound. The other was French, and came from some place inland. A big crowd stood on the crib dock to watch them, but at first there was not much money up because the stranger was unknown, and they didn't trust him. As one old fellow said to me : 'You don't never know what them Frenchies

"The two came down and stood on the crib while the umpire read the rules. Each carried a pole about 10 feet long, straight, without a spike. They were dressed in blue shirts and blue trousers tucked into gray woolen socks. They were boots that laced well up their shins, and each boot had over 100 'corks,' little steel spikes about heel. The log was about 8 inches diameter, peeled pine, and alippery as if were greased. It was a most unstable look-

That tense stare might disconcert a monument, but the other receipts will be issued to those who prefer never sees it at all. His eves are bent on Campbell's feet, eager, quick, intensewatching for the slightest slip, the smallest second of hesitancy. "The crowd is growing warm and excited.

They almost push one another into the water. See that roll of bills? The big French-Indian mill hand is putting his last month's pay upon the game. There's lots to cover it. Betting is fast and furious, but all in silence or nearly so. Sometimes an excited Frenchman does a little war dance and whoops in the exhilaration of the moment but the umpire turns a wrathy eye upon him and he is silenced.

"The strain of keeping quiet when one wants to whoop and yell is truly painfulsomething must happen. "On the champions' faces the sweat stands
