A "Has Been's" Statements. It is a humiliation for anyone who respects his word and is straighforward in his business transactions to be obliged to discuss any matter of that kind with ex-Alderman Watt. His vulgarly impertinent and untruthful letter in Saturday's World on the subject of the printing of the Town by-laws last year however, was, no doubt, written by him for the purpose of securing notice from We are pleased to hear from those who the ADVANCE, and while it cannot but increase the public contempt in which he is siready held and, perhaps, ought to be left in silence to the judgment of those who know him, a statement of a few relative facts will perhaps not be out of place,

As to Mr. Watt's denials and statements in connection with this or any other matter, they can have little weight. The Town pumping machinery transaction, for instance, indicates what he is capable of doing when his interests render it necessary for him to nake false statements and resort to other questionable devices. When the ADVANCE exposed his duplicity and new members of the Council wished to examine Mr. Coffin's letter on the subject, which had been addressed to Mr. Watt as acting chairman of the Public Works Committee, Mr. Watt could not find it, and subsequently said had placed it on fyle at the Town Hall with other papers. Here is a case in which Mr. Watt's duplicity and resort to misrepresentation cost Chatham some thousands of dollars, and when the trick was discovered the citizens had additional reasons to congratulate themselves that they had rejected him as a mayorality candidate.

It is generally such persons as Mr. Watt who indulge in coarse accusations of false hood against citizens whose reputation fo integrity they have good reason to envy, in view of their own dubious records. Mr. Smith and the ADVANCE will never be forgiven by Mr. Watt for the exposure of the questionable part he played in that pumping machinery business, and his abuse must be read in the light of that and other episodes of his career in which the AD-VANCE'S duty has required it to stand between the rejected mayoralty candidate Sackville. Douglastown R. C. Church Dedicated.

The handsome new R. C. church at Douglastown was dedicated on Sunday last by Rt. Rev. Thos. F. Barry, Coadjutor Bishop of Chatham, in presence of a very large number of people, many of whom had come from outside places, the steamers Nelson and Miramichi running special trips for the occasion. His Lordship, after the blessing of the new edifice in solemn form, assisted at a solemn High Mass. Rev. Father Varrily was celebrant, assisted by Rev. F. Power as deacon and Rev. H. O'Leary, sub-deacon. Rev. Fathers Morriscy and McLaughlin assisted the Bishop, and Rev. Father Dixon, in whose charge the new church is, was director of ceremonies. Rev. Father Morriscy was the preacher and his sermon held the undivided attention of the congregation, which completely filled the church. He said :-

The dedication of a new church to Divine Worship, has been from the earliest ages an occasion of joy and thanksgiving to God, It interests, and with reason, not only the people who erect it, but also their relatives. neighbors and co-religionists around them. This occasion awakens more than ordinary joy. gladness, and gratitude to God, because it is the dedication of the first R. C. church in this old town on the Miramichi-"dear old Douglastown," as former residents, now sojourning in other lands, and who claim it as their birth-place, love to call it-because of its devoted Catholic inhabitants, and their dear departed ancestors, several of whom came here seventy-nine or eighty years ago, bringing from across the waters longing and praying that, if they themselves might not live to see this day, at least their children should. This day has at length come, and that long-looked-for joy is felt gation, their relatives and well-wishers, goes up a fervent prayer of thanksgiving gratitude to the throne of Grace, that a church has been dedicated here solely and lantown's new church was in no way abated.

solemuly to the worship of God. This handsome church of faultless proportions, of workmanship that has received the highest praise from acknowledged judges, and whose decorations, without eing elaborately ornate, are chaste and effective, and carried out on correct lines of artistic taste, must be a source of joy and gratification to this congregation, their generous benefactors, -and to their zealous faithfully here, and of whose ministry. it may be said, in relation to this locality, "The end crowns the work."

Among the many emotions that would nd expression to day on the part of this flock is the deep feeling of gratitude to those generous benefactors, who have contributed so munificently toward the erection of this home, with its endearing memories—are not mere pleasing, passing impressions left on their memory, but enduring emotions that reach head and heart, finding expression in active sympathy and generous aid toward objects at home as well as abroad, worthy of encouragement spoken, and the generous aid given by those of other beliefs, shail be never orgotten, and must ever make the bends of friendship and brotherly love between Catholics and non Catholics strong and enduring. Speaking of the benefactors to this church. I must say that there would be one here to day, in spirit, if not in person. had not death overtaken him very unexpectedly, if not suddenly, but a few mouths ago.

Although not of our faith, yet he endeared himself to this congregation not only by his generosity, but by the kind words of cheer and encougagement he addressed to those immediatery interested in the work of building. No wonder that his memory is enshrined in the hearts of his fellow countrymen of all classes and creeds, as one of nature's noblemen, and that the history of his fair fame and noble deeds shall be handed down from sire to son, for many years to come.

The ceremony of church dedication has meaning and significance that awaken deep religious feeling, recalling to our mind the command of God to men from the beginning. to pay His worship. It dates back to the days when Abel, Abraham and Noah, by the command of God, worshipped on altars of sacrifice, erected and set apart for this endwhen Moses built the Holy Tabernacle according to the design that God had shown him on Mount Sinai, anointing it by His command with the oil of unction (Exod. XXV, 40, XL., 9). In obedience to this law imposed upon men, Solomon built that magnificent temple which was the pride and glory of God's people, and dedicated it to the most High with a pomp and grandeur surpassing everything witnessed or heard of before. Well might Solomon exclaim in the words of his father David on the completion of the magnificent temple : "I have loved, O Lord, the beauty of Thy house; and the place where Thy glory dwelleth. (Ps. XXV: 8) After the ark had been brought into the temple and placed in the Holy of Holies, the majesty of God filled the place so that the priest could not stand to minister because of the dazzling glory of the Divine presence. After Solomon prayed before the Altar of Holocausts, fire feel from heaven and consumed the offerings. Seeing this, the Israelities fell prostrate on the ground in awe and adoration, and they went away praising the holy name. God appeared a second time to Solomon, and told him that He had heard his prayer, and sanctified this house which he had built. This was the first dedication of a temple to the worship of God, but it was not the origin of the Jewish ceremony called the Feast of Dedication, consisting of religious exercises, rejoicings and grand illuminations (John X : 22). this feast was instituted. Judas having secured the possession of Jerusalem, immedi ate'v set about repairing the Temple, and reorganizing its services, setting up a new altar in the place of that which had been pollutedaby Antiochus (I Mac. III, IV). In memory of this event he instituted an annual feast of eight days to be called in future the Feast of Dedication. Our Lord participated in the ceremonies of this Feast in His time. Christians from the earliest times not only dedicated their churches, but they also celebrated every year the anniversary of their dedication. Among other reliable authorities, Cardinal Rona, and the well known Cardinal Wiseman, both agree in the opinion that St. Evaristus, pope and martyr, who suffered martyrdom under the Emperor Adrian, issued a decree relating to the rite of dedication, the blessing of altars, and the matter. This event happening in the early part of the second century, shows conclusive ly that the rite has come down to us from As soon as heathen persecution had ceased in the early ages, church dedication as a liturgical observance became law. History tells us that the consecration of the church of The Martyrs, built at Jerusalem by Constantine the Great, was annually observed as an eight days' festivity. In their invectives against Athanasius, the Arians held that he transgressed the rulings of the established ritual by having said mass in an unconse-

titles of churches; but the Roman martyr

ology should be for us authority in this crated church. St. Ambrose in his writings dwells upon the conditions to be complied with in dedication, pointing out one in particular that he thinks is essentially necessary. I shall quote but one instance more or this very interesting subject, the antiquity of the rite in quetion : In the year 441, the Council of Orange made some regulations concerning the already established ritual of dedication, a fact which proves that the ceremony had been regularly observed long before that time. This day, then, you have witnessed a form or part only of the ancient ritual of dedication, and while it appeared imposing and significant, yet to some of you, perhaps, in a certain sense, it seemed new, -but reading and reflection will convince you that it is as old as the church, inasmuch as its origin can be traced through past ages and convincing records, to apostolic times. This is a world of change, in which the watch-words are, change, reform, progress, power,-with their truly great objective results going on continually round us-old wave and forms giving place to new and better methods, and to wonderful developments in art and science. But in this changing world, it is a great consolation to reflect that neither our faith nor our religion chauges, but points directly for nearly two thousand years to their Divine Founder, Jesus Christ, or to that church which he has established upon earth, and against which neither change nor vicissitude of time

With all its grandeur and magnificence, our churches in which Jesus Christ, true God, and true man, dwells on our altars under the appearance of bread, bestowing upon us every blessing we need in time, and promising us that by eating of this bread we shall live in, and reign with, Him forever. What a happiness it is for you that you possess this sanctuary where you can gather together and offer up prayer in common, following the advice of our Lord: "Where there are two or three gathered together in My name, there I am in the midst of them. Matt. XVIII, 20.) When temptations beset, -combats bidding you nobly strive, await,-come to this beautiful church, that you have built and this day dedicated, and you will obtain strength to conquer. When trials and tribulations, earthly cares and disappointments, bear you down, and your cross seems too heavy to carry, come to this house of prayer, to your father Himself who dwells here, -seek that treasury of grace, always open for you, the sacraments, and you will find solace, peace and rest of soul; and from the depths of that soul of yours you will learn to love the beauty of this sanctuary, exclaiming in the words of the Psalmist: "I have loved, O Lord, the beauty of Thy house; and the place where Thy glory dwelleth " May these beautiful words of homage and praise, thrilling your hearts in time, echo in your souls for eternity. Amongst those whose liberality has enabled Father Dixon to erect this handsome and artistically finished church, Hon. Samuel Adams, of New York, was the first to con tribute. He gave the first subscription and has continued to give. Like other members of the well known family to which he belongs, he is very loyal to his birthplace and has, time and again, manifested the feeling by giving substantial aid toward its old faith, -and who lived, and died, local advancement. In May last he sent $1000 to Father Dixon for the new church fund, and on Sunday his son, Herbert, handed in a further gift of $100 for the offertory at deeply, and from the hearts of this congre- the dedication. Rev. P. W. Dixon, Hearty congratulations to you and Douglastown congregation on completion of church. Regret exceedingly my inability to be present at dedication services; but though far away, shall be with you all in thought tomorrow.

Other members of the Adams family were generous contributors to the work, Mrs. John Flanagan, of New York (nee Miss Elizabeth astor, who has worked so long, and so Adams) giving the altar and its furnishings. The late Edward Sinclair, although not a Roman Catholic, gave liberally to the building fund—as he expressed it, for the sake of Douglastown and to assist in having a handsome building near his mother's residence. Other gentlemen contributors might church. Of some of these it may be said be mentioned whose gifts have been the recollections of native place, -childhood's means of placing the handsome church where it is without a dollar of debt standing BUILDING STONE.
