The Duke and Duchess Arrive Home.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 1 .- To-day's National pageant in honor of the return of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York was almost a reproduction of the ceremonial attending their departure. The town and harbor were astir early, immense crowds assembling along the rea front and rounds of cheers mingled with the national anthem and salutes from the harbor ships and laud batteries as the royal yacht Victoria and Albert started to meet the Ophir.

On board the royal yacht the King, in undress uniform of an admiral, stood on the after bridge at the salute, while the Queen and children of the Duke and Duches paraded the hurricane deck.

The Roads presented a striking spectacle owing to the great gathering of warships, dressed from stem to stern, with their yards manned and their sides lined with their crews: Nelson's old flagship, the Victory, started the salute to their majesties, and each in turn took it up as the Victoria and Albert moved down the Solent accompanied oy a flotilla of other royal yachts.

Still at it.

In announcing the coming to Chatham of he C. P. R. Royal train last week we said that at the suggestion of Premier Tweedie, Vice President McNichol of the Canada Pacific Railway agreed, a week or more ago. to send it here, as it had been sent to St. John, Halifax, Moncton and other centres in the provinces, that he had arranged that Chatham's hospital -that of the Hotel Dieu -should have the benefit of whatever was received from the visitors to the train when it came here and that as soon as he had completed the arrangements with Mr. Mc-Nichol, Premier Tweedie had the matter placed in the hands of Mayor Snowball, who would no doubt, sided by the members of the Town Council, see to the necessary local

To remove the misapprehension which the pitiful creature who is responsible for the above labors to convey, we may say that the ADVANCE merely stated the facts as they occurred. They are just as stated. V.cepresident McNichol of the C. P. R. could not give Mr. Tweedie a definite affirmative agsurance when he suggested that the train be brought to Chatham, but he subsequently sent him a telephone message when he was in Queens and had it conveyed to him by special messenger from Chipman to Neweastle in that county, complying with request, The other facts are as stated. Only an ignorances would fail to give all credit due in the matter to the generosity of the C. P. R. authorities. Since the Benson organ raises the question it is right to say that but for Mr. Tweedie's request the train would not have come to Chatham, The C. P. R. did the rest. Why is it that these papers can see no good in anything with which out leading men are connected. Are they envious of their success, in view of their own failures and the contempt our people have for them ?

A Serious Offence. Police Magietrate Connors was engaged yesterday in the hearing, with closed doors of a most serious charge against a young fellow-Stephen Doyle, jr. of Chatham. Considerable comment has been made on the non-service of the warrant for Doyle's arrest by policeman Dickieson whoaccording to an alderman-explained that when the police magistrate placed it in his hands he told him not to make the arrest, as the young man's father would deliver him in court when required. It turns out that Mr. but it goes without saying that the warrant should have been promptly executed when issued on so grave a charge.

A Serious Charge.

A young man named Gilbert LeBlanc who came here from Moncton about six months ago, and has since held a responsible position in the dry goods department of the W. S. Loggie Company, was arrested on Saturday charged, on complaint of Mr. Loggie, with having received money on the com sany's account and improperly converted the same to his own use.

The pages were supposed to have been numbered consecutively, but in this book one page was missing. It was the book in use by LeBlanc when he was arrested. Witness couldn't awear that the missing page had ever been in the book or was destroyed by prisoner, although the "The Devoted Apple," Miss Maggie was there, and he had no doubt that the page had been in its place when the book was given to LeBlanc, whose arrest was made before it was known that he had charged the $7 to himself. Nothing had been said of the missing sales slips. Prisoner's account was overdrawn $53 on Oct. 19. He had given notice of intention to leave the company's employ without repaying what he owed, and for which he wished to give his note. Witness was of opinion that something had been erased from the page LeBlanc's sales check book before the Williston transaction was placed Clerks were not allowed to charge themselves with cash, but the prisoner was not personally informed of this.

Joseph Williston, Bay du Vin, testified that on Friday last he was up stairs with prisoner and bought a suit, the price of which was $8; that he suggested to prisoner rather wearisome. that he ought to do something better than that, when he said he would make it $7.50; He gave prisoner a $5 note and two $2 notes and was handed back one dollar. Witness reminded prisoner that he owed him tifty cents, which witness said he would get down stairs, whereupon prisoner handed him another dollar and said for him to say nothing about it, which remark witness thought at the time was intended to refer to the price he paid for the suit. Miss Watling the company's casher gave testimony as to the system of making up sales and said she had not received from LeBlanc the money paid to him by Mr.

After some further testimony the prisoner was committed for trial at the January
