The Provincial Public Accounts.

Those who read the customary re flections on the manner of keeping the public accounts of the province, by certain newspapers and, at election times, by the candidates who have the bad luck not to be on the right side, will, no doubt, also be much interested in the report of the Assembly's committee appointed at the last session to examine and report on the subject. It is in this issue of the ADVANCE. It will be observed that Messrs. Humphrey and Melanson of the opposition were members of the committee, and that the report was a unanimous one. The Duty of Chatham's Citizens.

To-morrow is the last day for making nominations of candidates for the offices of mayor and aldermen of the Town of Chatham. We earnestly hope that all citizens will divest their minds of narrow prejudices or unimportant side issues and make their selections after a conscientious consideration of their duty to the town, in whose progress we are all so much interested. The need of the occasion is a council which, as a whole, will deserve the respect of people at home and abroada body of men that will be truly representative of the place, and whose purpose it will be to promote its progress | province has to a greater degree enjoyed the and developement with every proper regard for the welfare and means of its citizens.

Men of good business standing, of a knowledge as possible of and experi-Railway ence in public affairs are the kind who of our heartiest goodwill and co operation in should compose Chatham's Town Council at all times. It is especially necessary Pullman Sleeper runs through that it should be so at the present time, when large expenditures for the proposed water and sewerage works are to be made, for it goes without saying that the opportunities for outsiders to profit at the town's expense will be greatly increased if we have any but | not the sligh est intimation of what was in the strongest, most experienced and most honest men available at the council board to deal with them.

So far, we are not aware of who the aldermen. We have heard of several who are good men and several others who are very indifferent kind of timber. We can only hope that there will be sufficient of good men to choose from.

For the office of Mayor, we are glad to see that ex-alderman W. B. Snowball has been induced to enter the field. He has been solicited to do so for some time and consented only la'e It was possible that in their desire to say on Tuesday. He is one of the young men of Chatham of whom the town has every reason to be proud. His record, both public and private, is good. No citizen of his years has had a wider business experience, has seen more of the world, or can lay claim to-we believe-as good an all-round equipment for the office of the Town's chief magistrate. Fredericton, N. B., April 3, 1901. To the Honorable Lemuel J. Tweedie, K. C. Premier of the Province of New Bruns

Dear Mr. Premier, -At the conclusion of the first session of the Legislature of this province in which it has been your duty to fill the position of Premier and head of the party which we have the honor to support, the undersigned, your col eagues and sup porters in the administration of the public affairs of this province, desire to express our hearty satisfaction at the manner in which the honorable and onerous duties of your office have been performed. As members of the Legislature we cannot fail to be impressed by the difficulties sur rounding the leadership of a party, and attendant upon the office which you so honorably fill We beg to express our appreciation of the uniform courtesy which has characterized your dealings with us, as well as the readiness and willingness which you have ever evinced to meet the views of your supporters and to assist them in their legislative duties.

The latitude of expression and freedom o opinion which you have noticeably er couraged among your supporters in the House have, in our opinion, shown that you desire to be the leader of a party, which, by the free expresaion of its views, enables the leader to keep in comp'ete touch with the party, and thereby ensures harmony between the members of the party and its head.

We have thought fit, and trust that it may not be unsatisfactory to you, to accompany the expression of opinion embodied in this address, with the gift to you by the party within the Legislature, of a pair of horses which we hope will be fully up to the standard we have endeavored to obtain, and which will gie to you satisfaction in their posses sion, both for the utility they may prove to be, and as a reminder of the harmonious and satisfactory relationship which has heretofore existed and which we are convinced will continue to exist between yourself and your

Notwithstanding the fact that previous administrations within this province have had at their head men of ability and high standing, we desire to express our conviction that, in our opinion, no premier of this confidence and friendship of the party which he has led; and we consider that the position so worthily filled by those who have preceded you in the occupancy of your high and distinguished office has now been entrusted into the hands of one who in your person will perform to the satisfaction of the integrity and ability and with as wide party, and with benefit to the country, the the duties incident to the high office which you so satisfactorily occupy. Assuring you your public labors, we are Mr. Premier Yours Very Respectfully,

Chairman

W. F. Todd, Premier Tweedie, in replying to the address and testimonial, said that it was utterly impossible for him to express his feelings in the manner he would like. He could assure them that their action had taken him completely by surprise, as he had store for him. When asked to accept the leader hip of the party he did so not without some hesitation, because he was aware that, coming after men of great ability, he would be apt to call forth unfavorable comparisons, no matter how hard he might strive to discharge his duties satisfactorily. However, the difficult, onerous position of premier had been made much easier for him, because of the high standard of representation enjoyed by the constituencies of the province. Never, in his experience, had the Dear Sir,constituencies of New Brunswick beer represented in the legislature by a better class of men. It was not out of place for him to say that they were a credit to the province and to the Dominion of Canada nice things of him, the members had gone a little too far, as he was not aware that he had done any more than he should have done. A leader must necessarily be follower in order that he might ascertain the views and wishes of his supporters, and so long as he held the office of premier he would make it his business to keep in close touch with his supporters. The chosen representatives of the people are in reality the government, and those who constitute the executive are merely the exponents of their wishes. He was very grateful for their kindness, but he could assure them that he could accomplish but little without attorney general, he was always ready day or night to render all the assistance in his power to advance the interests of the province. He would also have to mention his old friend Mr. Hill, whose services during the session had been invaluable. In conclusion the premier made reference to the strong support extended to the government in the legislature, and expressed the hope that the same gentlemen who were time he drove the horses he would think of the pleasant associations of his first session as premier and of those names that were connected with the gift. (Applause.)

The First Honor of the kind in New Brunswick

Premier Tweedie has the distinction of being the first premier of New Brunswick to be presented with a testimonial by the supporters of the government in the Legislature. Those of his constituents in Northumberland who visited Fredericton during the la'e session had every reason to congratulate themselves on the position he occupied and the able and admirable way in which he did it. No predecessor in the office was ever more ready and efficient in all the ordinary requirements or emergencies which confront leader of the house," or more courteous, considerate and affable in his relationships with both supporters and opponents That his work was so well appreciated must be a source of satisfaction to both moted by private members, and has the popular leader and his friends, the number of whom is rapidly and deservedly Dominion Experimental Farms: Uniform Co-operative Dairy Herd Test Record.

The attention of Canadian farmers interested in the development of Canada's greatest industrial factor, the Dairy Herd, s drawn to the following letter, recently sent out to a few farmers in each province of the Dominion:-

CENTRAL EXPERIMENTAL FARM, OTTAWA.

Your name has been handed to me as that of a farmer who is particularly interested in the production of milk. It is well known fact that the great majority of dairy herds, if we may judge by cash returns alone, are losing investments. It is, however, certain that this need not be the case sufficient care and intelligence are exerised in selecting and feeding the cowintended for milk-producers. So, in order to be able to work more effectively toward improvement along this line, I am desirious securing some exact information as to the methods of feeding followed in different parts of Canada. I should, therefore, be much indebted to you if you would write me ori fl. upon the following points :-

1 - Kind and quantity of roughage ration ed to your miking cows in winter. 2-Kind and quantity of grain fed your nilking cows in (a) Summer, (b) Winte . 3-Quantity of milk yielded per cow 4-Do you use pure-bred bulls? What

Would you care to carry on a simple dairy herd test during 1901 in conjunction wi dairymen in different parts of Canada and and us here? The only expense would be spring balance for weighing the milk. We would furnish you with blanks each mouth for keeping the records. If Canadian dairymen are to raise the average yield of their herds and make a profit it must be by first tinding out what their individual cows are doing. The replies elicited by this letter were of such a character as to indicate the advisability of making the marter more public. With such an end in view, the foregoing is given for publication.

It is hoped that many of our dairy farmers may see the importance and necessity of keeping such records as are suggested, and that they may think it advisable to join in this Co-operative Dairy | the Consolidated Statutes of Rates and Herd R cord or Test.

Doaktown.

Our Doaktown correspondent writes under date of Monday last:-

There has been a continued spell of rainy weather, which has run the snow off very much, causing the river to rise about 3 feet; the ice went past here with great violence on Saturday evening, tearing away a good deal of the plank sheathing from the abutments of the bridge. At one time the whole structure appeared to be in danger, the ice shoving over the piers and crashing heavily against the sides of the trusswork. A large tree was forced over the floor of the bridge, the current and ice carrying the lower end down acted as a lever prying off a girt, with some boards, but, fortunately, the upper end let go in time to save doing much more harm. The whole population of the village turned out to see the sight. The wing built by the government last fall on the South side stood the pressure and saved the river turning around the end of the bridge which would have carried away Mr. Freeze's mill, as the ice would have followed the current and wrought great havock in its course. Many thanks to Premier Tweedie for his timely suggestion being carried out in the building of 75 feet of an additional wing to the bridge, saving both public and private

THREE PAPERS FOR $1.50. "World Wide."

WEEKLY REPRINT OF ARTICLES FROM LEAD ING JOURNALS AND REVIEWS REFLECTING THE CURRENT THOUGHT OF BOTH HEMISPHERES.

As many of the ablest writers are now engaged in journalism, much writing of the highest quality in matter and style is fugitive, seen only by the readers of each particular newspaper, and by them often lost before it is read. Much of such writing is only of local and very transient import, but much is of more permanent and world wide interest. It is proposed to fill the pages of WORLD WIDE with articles and extracts of this latter class, with occasional selections from notable books and scenes from striking stories. An effort will be made to select the articles each week so that due proportion well be given to the various fields of Luman interest-to the shifting scenes of the world's great drama, to letters and science and beautiful things. It was at first intended to publish WORLD WIDE upon fine paper at a higher cost, but recalling the long list of elegant publications | UIVE which in the past have been started in Canada, only to fail, and reflecting that good taste in literature does not always imply the means to pay for costly journals, and that people of taste can be relied upon to appreciate literary excellence on the plainest sheet, it has been decided to offer WORLD WIDE at the lowest possible price, in order to give all who desire good reading an equal
