A social and dance held in the public hall on the 29th of August was most decidedly a very enjoyable affair. The hall was rented by a number of our enterprising citizens, who did all possible to make the event a success, which they did. Tweedie, Co. - one for each of his houses - and each theatrical companies. This plan gives patrons of Mr. Proctor's various theatres the benefits of a well organized stock system with the added advantage of seeing a different company each week.

The vaudeville numbers are interspersed between acts and obviate the usual tiresom waits attendant upon the presentations of dramas and comedies. The selections are made with a view to the entertainers' special fitness to appear in conjunction with dramatic offerings, and refinement and cleverness are invariably considered as potent factors in their engagement. One branch of the Proctor Stock Co. has been organized with a view to presenting a series of one-act playsthree at a performance-after the plan made popular some seasons ago by the late Rosina Vokes. Another branch will give a series of heavy dramatic productions, including a sumptuous revival of Joseph Arthur's "Blue Jeans." The four remaining branches will contribute revivals of favorite comedies.

The vaudeville interludes are offered supply the demand for the style of entertainment, while the dramatic element is pany last winter until they had obtained relied upon for the backbone of the Proctor bills. The plan is comprehensive elastic, permitting a great amount of expansion in either department, and, as it Manager Proctor's original scheme, it will be worked out in a careful manner by this manager of long and varied experience.

Wallace W. Copp. The Maritime Sulphite Fibre Company's Affairs.

[St. John Gazette of Friday Nov. 6.] The attempt of the Chatham World, the on and the Globe to make a political question out of the failure of the Maritime Sulphite Company proves the length to which some party journals will go to score a took place as to operating the mill during point against their political opponents. The which Mr. McLean stated that it would Maritime Sulphite Fibre Company, it may be unfair that it should be operated at the ing that in December last its property was the bank or trustees to operate it if they treal, to secure certain bonds which are understood to be held by the Bank of made by Mr. Theedie to the statement Montreal whose Chatham branch had been supplying funds to keep the mill running. surveyor general not having recognized the pulp. But perhaps the creditors who suffer operate on the company's timber limits and supplied them with the wood to run the mill. The claims of these men range from $2,000 to $6,000 and represent, in many instances, the savings of a lifetime. Immediately after the company stopped payment, proceedings were taken to place the company in liquidation, but while the case was pending, application was made to Judge Barker at the instance of the Royal Trust Co., and the Bank of Montreal for the appointment of a receiver and as a result of this application, Mr. Warren C. Winslow. Barrister at law and attorney for the Bank of Montreal and Royal Trust Co., was appointed receiver. Mr. Winslow, acting in the capacity of receiver, continued to run the mill until all the wood in hand was used up, and since then it has been closed. The liquidation proceedings resulted in the appointment of Hon. L. J. Tweedie as liquidator of the company and an application is now before the courts to set aside the appointment of the receiver it being claimed that the receiver represents only the Bank of Montreal and the Trust Company and not | HATS & CAPS, the other creditors. Under the mortgage the Trust Co. and the Bank of Montreal claim the entire assets of the concern which would leave the other creditors without the prospect of obtaining a single cent of their money, while the bank would practically go out of the affair without losing a dollar, provided the mortgage they hold will stand. It is asserted by those representing other claims that the mortgage under which the Trust Co. hold the property of the Pulp Co. will be set aside because of certain irregularities in connection therewith, but this is a legal question which can only be decided by the courts. At the present time, the Trust Co. is in possession of all the property of the Pulp Co., including the timber leases which are of considerable value. It is because of these timber licenses that the opposition newspapers are endeavoring to make the failure of the company a political question. It appears that when the Trust Co., obtained a mortgage on the mill property, they also obtained an assignment of the timber licenses held by the company. This transfer is dated November 20, 1900, but no notice of the assignment was sent to the Surveyor General until the company's failure was announced. Then the Surveyor General was asked to make the transfer to the Trust Company. About the same time the lumbermen who had operated for the company last year sent a petition to the Surveyor General asking that the t mber icenses held by the Maritime Sulphite Company and transferred to the Royal Trust Company should not be renewed until they had been heard. They claim that had they known that the leases were transferred they would not have operated for the coinsecurity from the Royal Trust Company, that their lumber would be paid for. 1 does not seem an unreasonable proposition that a creditor who finds himself practically ruined by the failure of a company should use every effort to secure some settlement of his claim, and it is not surprising that these men, seeing the logs they had furnished the mill and had not received payment for, cut up into pulp for the purpose of reducing the claim of the Bank of Montreal against the company, should endeavor to get some pay-ment for their logs. From a legal standpoint it is quite possible that the Bank of Montreal can retain all the property that has come into its hands, but it is a crying shame that poor men should be deprived of the results of their labor and of the property they had been years in accumulating to further enrich a great corporation. It may also be stated with equal fairness that the men who have lost their money through the failure of the Sulphite Company are not pursuing a course that is wrong or illegal. They are s mply endeavoring to secure payment of just claims in colling the attention of the Surveyor General to the fact that the Maritime Sulphite Co, was hopelessly bankrupt when this mortgage was made last year, and being in that position they should not have taken possession of the lumber these men had cut for them during the winter. Be sides, it does not follow that because an application for the transfer of license has been made to the Surveyor General that he must make that transfer. It is a matter in which he has the option of following the ETC.,-3 for 25c. course which he considers right. Under existing circumstances no one in the position of the Surveyor General would attempt to transfer these licenses until he was directed to do so by the courts. The whole matter at the present time i in the hands of the courts and until some decision is reached as to who is the real owner of the property the Surveyor General cannot make any transfer. It is all very well for the Bank of Montreal and the Royal Trust Co. to take the property that had not been paid for and work it up into material to be sold for their benefit. At the present, time the company have on hand some 1300 tons of pulp, worth, perhaps, $50,000. The people who furnished the wood from which the pulp is made have not been paid, and it is little wonder that they are trying to prevent one creditor from taking it all. When the mill stopped running, or rather when the company got into trouble, there was an indebtedness of about $7,000 for wages. Fortunately for the working men of Chatham the Lien Law passed by the New Brunswick government a few years ago came into operation and the working men were paid by the receivers. Had the lumbermen known that the timber licenses were transferred, they too would have been able to have collected the value of their labors on the logs before handing them over to the company, under the Provincial Lien Law. Notwithstanding the attitude of the opposition newspapers, the Surveyor General is clearly justified by the great body of the people in guarding the transfer of the licenses until such time as the courts decide the question of ownership of the property. In this course he will be some instances the lumbermen obtained the acceptances for lumber when it was delivered. Some of these drafts were discounted by the Bank of Montreal and new that the Sulphite Company cannot pay the bank is threatening to see endorsers.

[Telegraph, Monday, Sept. 9] Chatham Pulp Company Cass.

On Saturday afternoon there was short hearing on the mat er of the Maritime Sulphite Fibre Co. (Ltd.), of Chatham, before their honors, Mr. Justice Barker and Mr. Justice McLeod. The provisional liquidator, Hon. L. J. Tweedie, was present, also the attorney general and A. H. Hannington, K. representing unsecured creditors, and H. H. McLean, K. the sale j intly by the liquidator and receiver, the proceeds to be placed to their joint credit, subject to the order of their honors. Mr. McLean objected, claiming that the moneys should go to the Bank of Montreal which would be liable to account to the court for them. He also said that when there was an opportunity of making a sale he would prefer coming for a distinct order. No agreement being reached between the counsel no order was made.
