Much sympathy is felt for the family and other relatives of Mr. Wm. G. Williston. who died at his home, Bay du Vin, or Monday, Mrs. Williston and a daughter died within a year, so that the last bereavement seems especially sad.

The death of Mrs. Lawlor, widow of the late John Lawlor, Registrar of Deeds for the county, and mother of Messrs. R. A. Lawlor, K. C., and J. R. Lawlor, Registrar of Deeds, died at the residence of the latter, Newcastle, on Saturday last. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at three o'clock and, although it was not generally known that the sad event had taken place, it was very largely attended by friends from different points. The pall-bearers were Col. R. R. Call. Geo. Hildebrand, Patk. Keating, James Harriman, Christopher Craig and Jas. Rundle. The remains were taken to St. Mary's church, where Rev. Father Dixon, assisted by an efficient choir, conducted the burial service, after which the interment took place in the church cemetery. Mrs. Lawlor was most highly esteemed for of other centres in the county, when they her good works and exemplary life and, [are abroad and are asked whence they although, because of failing health for some time, her death was not wholly unexpected. it is the cause of deep regret in a very large circle of friends on the Miramichi.

Chatham, N. B., Feb. 6, 1902. Canadian Cattle in Aberdeenshire.

The removal of the British embargo Canadian cattle is evidently still a live nestion in Scotland, as shown by the following item from a recent issue of the "North Bitish Agriculturist," a paper which has strongly opposed the free admission of Canadian "Stores."

"A rather curious debate for a Literary Society, "Should the restrictions on Canadian cattle be removed?" was held in the Public Hall, New Deer, under the auspices of the local Literary Society. The local papere state that there was a large attendance, and considerable interest was taken in the debate, Mr. Nilne, coachbuilder, supported the negative, and Mr. Godsman, of Mains of Fedderate, the affirmative, Mr. Nilne made an able speech in iavor of his

The gowns worn by Miss Eleanor Browning, the leading lady, have aroused no end of favorable comment, and she wears them with a grace and charm that set off their beauties to perfection. People who visit the house once, Burnt Church, Loggieville and Chatham, are sure to go again. There are hundreds of Douglastown and Newcastle, Nelson and families in Montreal and the surrounding Bridgetown, Millerton and Redbank, Blackcities, who never think of letting a week ville and Boiestown people, as well as those

Splendid seats may be obtained for twenty-five and fifty cents, and in the afternoon, except on Saturdays, ladies are admitted to all parts of the house, for ten cents. As a consequence of this liberality on the part of the management, the theatre is filled every afternoon, within half an hour after the doors are opened.
