At 127 Years of Age He Is Received by Czar Nicholas.

The Czar received in audience recently a man who, from personal knowledge, could tell him about the war of the Crimea, etc. His name is Sinip (when he was born Russian peasants had no family names). He is 127 years old, and his former owner, Prince Wolkowski, was able to furnish the following authenticated data about him from his own archives:

Sinip was born in 1775 as a serf, drinks wadka and smokes, and has done so as long as he can remember; three pints are his limit, but he never was drunk in his life. As the Czar was able to perceive himself, Sinip's eyesight and hearing are perfect to this day. Every Sunday he walks eight miles to church, and never has required charity of any kind. He still earns his bread by kindting and sandal-making; also tends to the horses and poultry.

The old fellow's new early and hearing also tends to the horses and poultry.
