As to Some Advices. The St. John Freeman, which is edited by a gentleman formerly of Miramichi, appears to have some ancient and undefined reason for opposing the election of Senator Snowball as the next governor of New Brunswick.

Changed Times in York County. The election in York was run on the strictly party basis, as was very evident from the quiet times around the polling booths. There were those however who were on hand to participate in the spoils if there had been any to get.

The War in South Africa. Interesting debates are at present taking place in the British Parliament in London, and the French Chamber of Deputies in Paris, on the South African War. No matter what action the French Chamber of Deputies may take on the matter it is not at all likely that it will alter the course that the British Government has decided to pursue.

Retard of Britain. The great majority of the nations throughout the length and breadth of Europe hate Britain with a bitterness, and if their power were equal to their will, Britain's power and influence in the world would soon be a thing of the past.

London Testimony to United States Industrial Supremacy. A Washington despatch of 15th says: "The standing of the United States as compared with other countries, especially those of Europe, is discussed in the London Daily Mail Year Book for 1902, a copy of which has just reached the Treasury Bureau of Statistics."

The Governmentship. The Gleaser of 15th said editorially that it was understood the appointment to the lieutenant governorship had been made and would be announced at the end of the week on Mr. Blair's return from the south, and that rumor, which had persistently fixed on Senator Snowball as the next occupant of the gubernatorial chair, had turned out to have been correct and would receive official confirmation.

French and American Trade Figures. The exports of the United States for the year 1901 were valued at $1,465,514,139, being $12,431,974 less than for the prior year, which was the highest recorded. The total value of the foreign trade of the country, including both exports and imports, was $2,345,919,485, which exceeded by $38,823,658 the high-water mark established in 1900.

Under the head of "The World's Wheat Crop," it is shown that the United States is far ahead of any other country in the production of wheat, the estimate of the world's crop for 1901 being: United States, 90,000,000 bushels; Russia, 42,000,000; France, 38,000,000; India, 30,000,000; Italy, 17,000,000; Hungary, 16,000,000; Spain, 12,000,000; Rumania and Bulgaria, 12,000,000; Germany, 11,000,000; United Kingdom, 7,000,000; Australia, 7,000,000.

N. A. F. and G. P. Association. The North American Fish and Game Protective Association, which held its annual convention in Montreal last year, is meeting in Burlington, Vermont, this year. The session began yesterday, and will, probably, close this evening.

Recently a boy named Wilhelm, living at Oswego, N. Y., had the inside of his mouth lacerated by the explosion of a torpedo concealed in a chocolate drop given to him by a stranger. The police spent much time trying to find the man, but without success. This week three High School girls went into a candy store bought chocolate drops and started down the street, eating them. One of the girls stopped suddenly and put her hand to her face as if in pain. She had bitten on a .22-calibre cartridge, concealed in a chocolate drop. Had the cartridge exploded in the girl's mouth it would have blown her head off. The girls went back to the candy merchant and showed him the cartridge. The girls refuse to give his name, because they say he was innocent.

News and Notes. The Government candidates were generally successful in last week's Dominion by-elections. Hon. Mr. Farquharson's majority in P. E. I. was 493. Montreal, Jan. 17.—The Patrie announces that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after attending the King's coronation, will be accompanied by Lady Laurier, make an extensive tour in France, Italy, and other European countries.

Reading the Speech. Etiquette required unbroken silence when the King, without removing his plumed hat or rising from his seat, read the speech, but there was an involuntary flutter and murmur of assent when the passage relating to the humanity of the soldiers was slightly emphasized. His voice rang out clear, in penetrating tones, throughout the speech, which was unusually well written and effective, especially the passages relating to the loyalty of Canada and the other colonies, the progress of the campaign in South Africa, the sugar conference and the canal treaty. The legislative programme was unpretentious, but large enough for coronation purposes. It was a stronger and less colorless speech than is ordinarily drafted for the opening of Parliament.

Comments on the speech in the Commons during the evening was favorable, stress being laid upon its Imperial character, and also upon the phrasing with reference to the sugar conference. It was reported that Mr. Chamberlain, who had been singled out for special honors at the Guildhall, in view of the gross affront received in the German Reichstag, had remarked that the Government office meant business in dealing with the sugar bounties.

The Pageant Outside. The pageant outside was witnessed by an immense throng all the way from the palace to the Houses of Parliament. The scene from the Abbey stand, opposite Victoria tower, was brilliant, notwithstanding a murky grey sky. One carriage followed another with gorgeous liveries and flashing plumes of Peacocks richly dressed, Peers in scarlet robes, and Court officials in gold lace. Now and again royal carriages trundled by, and hats were raised when the Prince and Princess of Wales drove by in a magnificent carriage, escorted by the Life Guards. There was unbroken silence when the Lord Mayor appeared in traditional state, and modest little "Bobs" driving by in a homely haughty with helmet in hand was recognized but not cheered. THE KING AND QUEEN APPEAR. It was not until the cavalcade with the royal carriages splendidly horsed had passed, and the gorgeous carriage of George III, drawn by the famous cream, was well abreast, that the spectators were ready to cheer. There was no lack of heartiness in the welcome, and while the Queen was bowing graciously, and the King was sitting more rigidly than his usual habit, soldiers were saluting silently, bells were chiming, bands were playing and guns were booming from St. James'.

It was reported that Mr. Chamberlain, who had been singled out for special honors at the Guildhall, in view of the gross affront received in the German Reichstag, had remarked that the Government office meant business in dealing with the sugar bounties.

THE BEST STORE TO PATRONISE! I beg to return thanks to my patrons for their favors of 1901, and as the year has come to a close the most important feature of any business is to make the next year more successful than the last. With that special object in view I have selected my stock from the best houses in the Dominion of Canada and United States, and bought it at the lowest prices, so as to still enable me to increase my business by selling goods cheaper than I ever did before. Call and prove my assertions when we show you my new stock at rock bottom prices. Thanking you for past favors, I await your visit. ROGER FLANAGAN. Water Street, Chatham.

EXQUISITE STYLE IN DRESS. Marquis' Life of Earl Roberts. Mr. T. G. Marquis, B.A., formerly of Chatham, who is taking a foremost place in the educational and literary circles of Ontario, has written and just issued a highly interesting history of the life of Earl Roberts, and we have to thank him for a handsomely bound and well printed copy. The book contains upwards of 500 pages, and in addition, is crowded with handsome illustrations of the exciting scenes and incidents in Earl Roberts' long military career in India, as well as in the Boer war in South Africa. The first chapter of the volume opens with a sketch of the early years of his life, which were spent in the English, and the next thirty chapters deal with his career in India, which lasted for upwards of forty years. During these years he took both a prominent and active part in the suppression of the Indian Mutiny, as well as the wars with the tribes which afterwards followed. On his return to England in 1850, he found himself the hero of the hour and was congratulated by Queen Victoria for the able manner in which he had performed the difficult work he had to do in Afghanistan. Upon the breaking out of the Boer war he was sent to South Africa, and as our readers are thoroughly posted in his deeds and doings while holding the position of commander-in-chief of the British forces there, we do not think it necessary to refer to them. As the book is well worth reading, we would advise our patrons who have a desire to be well posted in Indian affairs, as well as the Boer war to secure a copy. In addition to the Life of Earl Roberts, Mr. Marquis is author of "Stories from Canadian History," "Marguerite de Roberval," "Canada's Sons on Kojie and Veldt." As these works have met with high praise from the American and Canadian reviewers, we feel confident in predicting that Mr. Marquis has a brilliant literary future before him.
