FATAL FALL INTO THE N. W. MIRAMICHIS -On Friday about noon Robert Bryant, who formerly lived at or near Harcourt, while wooking for W. S. Kinnear & Son, Moncton, painting on the Northwest Miramichi bridge, slipped and fell into the river, a distance of 25 feet, and was drowned. When the alarm was given Mr. Kinnear and others rushed to the spot. The poor fellow was then struggling in the water and Mr Kiunear threw him a plank but he either did not see it or was unable to reach it and being unable to swim sank from view. Bryant, who was about 26 years of age leaves a wife, who, it is said, was taking his digner to him and was almost one of the witnesses of the drowning man's disappearance beneath the surface, to which he did not fully return after falling. The body was recovered and taken to Harcourt where the funeral took place on Monday afternoon.

that paper of 10 h :-"A sad story surrounded with peculiar circumstances came from Peter's River, a back settlement five miles from Bathurst, Oa Monday afternoon, Mrs. Bazile Arseneau went out in the field with her grandchild, a little girl two years of age. The old lady let the little child down on the grass and went a few yards away to pull a few stocks of potatoes. She heard one little cry from the child and a minute later went over to the spot where she had left the infant only to find it missing. After satisfying herself that the child was not to be found and fearing an accident, she gave an alarm, and a searching party was at once formed, and the surrounding woods, fields, etc., have been well searched, but all efforts to find the missing child have so far proved unavailing. The child was an orphan. No wild animals lar proprietor of Chatham's oldest Livery are known to exist in the immediate morning for their future home in New Glasgow. The bride was one of Black River's most popular young ladies and all wish her much happiness in her new home.

The King's Consent was Necessary to Secure the Leave for the Cold-stream Guards' Band.

The leave granted to the Coldstream Guards' Band to visit Canada is notable as being the first ever given to a regimental band to proceed to the Colonies for the purpose of giving concerts. This unprecedented leave was obtained only by Canadian and the Imperial Governments. The application was initiated by Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, on the request of the Dominion Exposition. A minute-in-council was passed and the request was forwarded by His Excellency the Governor General to the Secretary for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, wh forwarded it with his approval to the War Office. At the same time the Colonel co manding the Coldstream Guards made an apolication for leave for the Band which was sent to the Brigade Office, and wa forwarded and recommended by the Genera Officer commanding the Home District who sent it on approval to the General Officer commanding the Fourth Army Corps, whence it was forwarded to the War Office and Lord Roberts, who consented. The formalities were not however complete as the Band belongs to the Household Brigade and is in that sense attached to the person of His Majesty King Edward VII. The consent of the King who is also Colonel-in-Chief of the Regiment was necessary, and it being represented in the application that the visit of the famous Band would give great pleas ure to the people of Canada, His Majesty writer does not comply with the rule

This great band is to play at Moneton Saturday evening, Oct. 3rd. Excursio rates and trains held till after the concert. For further information address A. E. Holstead, Moneton.

The auimals King and Queen, are almost snow white, are singularly intelligent, and seem to enjoy the plunge from the high tower into the open lake, and swim back to the landing built for them.

When the apparatus was ready, the horses were brought out. Their beauty won for them the greatest admiration from the audience. King was led to the landing stage, where his mate Queen could see him. The mare then went up the long shute composedly and with an air of ease that led the people to understand that she enjoyed

When Queen arrived at the top of th shute, 40 feet above the water, she looked around for a moment, and, seeing King below, gave a delightful little neigh, to which King answered, then slowly placed her forefeet on the little shelf below the platform, and, lowering her head, launched out into space far enough to clear the platform. She struck the water head first and to the Canada Dock. The funeral took disappeared below the surface.

In a moment she arose and began swimming towards the landing stage, where King was standing. Queen ran over to him to caress him with an almost human affection. She was quickly rubbed dry, and then took her mate's former place on the stage, when A bountiful and luxurious supper well King ascended the incline and went through

How "Mr. Bowser" Would Have Relieved the Congestion of Accommodation at the Bowser

The Bowser House had two weddings performed under its roof on Tuesday. There arrived on Monday afternoon a clergyman from an up-r.ver centre to unite one of his parishioners, who came to town on that day, with a young lady from education. He said he was requested by the parish of Alnwick, who was expected to reach Cnatham from her down-river home, by the str. "Alexandra," and meet ber husband-to-be. The clergyman spent some time in discovering that the "Alexandra" was detained at Neguac that afternoon and did not leave until the evening, but though the steamer srrived with the prospective bride at a late hour. the latter was safely ledged at a private boarding house, the clergyman and groom putting up at the Bowser House, where the former was courteously assisted in his good offices in the interest of the couple he had come to town to marry, by "Mr. Bowser," as he called the genial host of the hotel bearing that well and favorably

This up-river clergyman had intended to unite the couple referred to on Monday evening and return by Tueslay morning's Canada Eastern train to perform a simi ar pleasant office for another young couple of Boiestown. Finding that he was coming to Chatham, the other couple came al o, arriving late. They too wanted to put up at the Bowser House, but other travellers had already found it filled to its full capacity and had to go elsewhere, and our clerical friend, who had met them on accommodation for them at the Adams

However. "all's well that ends well," for the up-river minister and his two couples met in Bowser House on Tuesday forenoon at 10 C. E. Express.

We understand that amongst the other modern improvements in its arrangements. which "The Bowser" is introducing, it is contemplated to have a clergyman on staff who will marry duly accredited and credentialed couples at the shortest notice. and thus make it possible for the favorite rooms.

[St. John Globe, 14th.] The treasury of New Brunswick will 3450 richer after today's influx of American huntsmen, but the forests of this part of Canada will undoubtedly be out much more "Mr. Bowser" had amongst his guests than that amount of money in moose, same gentlemen go home, for the party that passed through St. John today on their way to the Canaan camps are no novices, but veritable woodsmen led by that veteran Bostonian, Dr. Heber S. Bishop.

> In the party were Dr. Bishop, Mr. Chas. K. Fox, Boston; Dr. M. A. Cummings, J. B. Steward, also of Boston, and Mr. D. J. Flanders, general passenger agent of the Boston and Maine Railway. They were all fully equipped with shooting irons of sizes, and camping paraphernalia.

In conversation with a Globe reporter, Dr. Bishop said he anticipated the biggest season in the way of game yet. A guide who had been building another eamp for him in the Salmon River district says that during the time he was working on the shack he saw no less than 114 moose in the vicinity. The doctor smiled when he said this, but whether it was a smile of happy anticipation or that accompanying a joke it was hard to tell. He appeared in earnest.

"I have just paid over to the right authorities $450 in licenses for my own party and some others who are coming in a few weeks." he said, "There is going to be a big run of New England and New York folks to this province during the fall, and we are only an advance party. The season does not open until tomorrow."

Among those who are to come to New Brunswick before the season closes will be parties led by the following gentlemen Messrs, Grant Fuller, Jeremiah Richardson, and Charles Richardson, New York : Mr C. P. Nunu, Lexingten, Mass., H. M. Bacon, Boston; Mr. Philip Spaulding, Boston, and W. O. Partridge, Arlington, As a result of alleged wholesale slaughter | Heights, Mass.
