While Mr. and Mrs. Webber (the stage name of the latter being Miss Elvina Grey) came to their home in August, the rest of the troupe went to Boston, whence they will scatter over the country for the summer.—Kennebec Journal, August, 1894.

and has extensive lumber interests in Canada. He was appointed Senator last winter and has been prominent in political affairs in Canada for years. The following story about Senator Edwards is circulating in the lumbermen's papers: W. C. Edwards of Ottawa, one of the newly appointed Senators, is a lumberman who operated far up the Gatineau River, and he tells the story of a shantyman who had spent a couple of seasons working for him in the bush; and was coming out again shortly after the death of Queen Victoria: At Maniwaki the shantyman made his first stop on the way down, and in a chat with the hotelkeeper asked what was the news since he had gone to the woods. "Oh, there's nothing much new. I suppose you heard up there that the Queen was dead?" "No, you don't tell me she was dead! I'm sorry I hear that; I'm sorry. She was a good woman, de Queen, and a good Queen, too. Well, we'll all die some time, even de Queen."

Dying in Harness.

Only a fallen horse, stretched out there on the shafts and in the broken shafts, and crushed by the heavy load. Only a fallen horse, and a circle of wondering eyes. Watching the frightened teamster goading the beast to rise. Hold! for his toll is over—no more labor for him; See the poor neck outstretched, and the patient eyes grow dim; See on the friendly stones how peacefully rests the head— Thinking if dumb beasts think, how good it is to be dead; After the weary journey, how restful it is to lie With the broken shafts and the cruel load—waiting only to die. Watchers, he died in the harness—died in the shafts and in the broken shafts. Fell, and the burden killed him; one of the day's mishaps— One of the passing wonders marking the city road. A toiler dying in harness, heedless of call or goad. Passers, crowding the pathway, staying your steps awhile, What is the symbol? Only death—why should we cease to smile At death for a moment of burden? On, through the busy street That is ever and ever echoing the tread of the hurrying feet. What was the sign? A symbol to touch the careless still? Does he who taught in parables speak in parables still? The seed on the rock is wasted—on heedless hearts of men. That gather and sow and grasp and lose— Labor and sleep and— Then for the prize!—A crowd in the street of ever echoing tread— The toiler, crushed by the heavy load, is there in his harness—dead!

The Great Base Ball Game.

Giants of the Diamond? Struggle for Supremacy. Last week some of the business men on the south side of Water street issued a challenge to those on the north side to meet them on the base ball diamond. The challenge was accepted and on Friday last, on the grounds of the Miramichi Agricultural Exhibition Association, was witnessed one of the finest combinations of athletic skill and all-round tumbling work ever perpetrated on the public outside of the gyrations of the National League. The players were arranged against each other in the following order: South Side. W. Strang, c. H. Nealey, Ken. Braun, p. Dr. Dickson, C. P. Hickey, 1. b. W. Bernard, H. Gunning, 2. b. Fred Maher, Jas. Johnston, 3. b. Geo. Day, M. McKendry, s. s. R. Murray, M. Goggio, r. f. J. Irving, J. Mulvey, l. f. J. Stothart, P. Archer, s. f. Fred W. Freedie. The North side went to the bat first and the run immediately became fast and "careous." Some of the playing was good, some better and some extraordinary. The pitching of Braun and Dickson would have made Russia green with envy; nevertheless there was much good batting, several of the players making three baggers, which astounded the onlookers as well as the pitchers. If the incidental matter of running bases and sliding for the bags the professionals were not in the same class with either side of Water street. New methods of stealing bases were in evidence, as when Jas. Johnston came into contact with third baseman Day. The unfortunate baseman took header backwards and landed right side up in a way that would have put a circus acrobat out of business. One of the features of the game was the running of Short-stop Murray of the North and centre fielder Archer of the South, both of these gentlemen having therefore successfully concealed the fact that they were at least ten second sprinters. It is not known, however, just how fast they could have gone, for they were handcuffed by large straw hats of the most modern make, the flowing brims of which held much wind and interfered greatly with break-neck speed. The fielding of Messrs. Johnston, Day, Gaggio, Archer and Mulvey would have surprised the O'Neill look like thirty cents. It surprised the spectators to see how many hot grounders they stopped when they fell, but it didn't surprise anyone to see the number of balls coming their way which went through their legs, between their hands, under their arms, over their heads and in numerous other different directions. It looked, for a time as if the South were to be wiped out of existence as completely as the South was in the "late unappetizing" in the United States, but Braun pulled himself together and put on so many shots and curves that the North side men declared there was a hole in the bat. Desperate swings were made at the unoffending ball, which, fortunately, for the South, only swished through the air and occasionally caused the "wicker" to lose his balance. The South began to pile up runs, eating up the lead of the North and passing them. At the end they had a score of 26 to 21. A large number of spectators were present who greatly enjoyed the fun. Many of the players, not being used to such violent exercise, are displaying signs of stiffness in the joints, but it was understood that the North were not satisfied with the result and that their opponents must again meet them on Monday.

The New Str. "Miramichi."

The Str. "Miramichi" resumed her place on the route between Chatham, Douglastown, Bathville, Newcastle, and Nelson yesterday, and as will be seen by reference to the time table in another column, is to run five daily trips regularly hereafter during the season. On Tuesday evening a number of people took a run on the "Miramichi" as far as Newcastle, by invitation of the Miramichi Steam Navigation Company, to whose launch the boat belongs, and the generally expressed judgment was that in appearance, speed, and accommodations, the new boat is the best for her work owned by that enterprising organization. Under the superintendence of the Company's manager, Capt. John Bullock, the "Miramichi" was rebuilt during the winter and spring. Her frame was mainly found to be quite sound and was renewed where necessary; new deck beams, extending over the sides sufficiently to give 3 feet gangways fore and aft were put in, the hull and deck newly planked, new rails and haws put on, a new boiler, made by the Matthews of New Glasgow, put in, an upper deck laid and, in fact, all essential parts renewed. Engineer Charles Johnston thoroughly overhauled the engine and made it as good as new and Mr. William Johnston did the painting in his usual complete and artistic manner. The result of all the work done is that the "Miramichi" is the handsomest steamer on the North Shore, and so staunch as to guarantee the comfort and safety of excursionists and other patrons. The directors and Capt. Bullock are to be congratulated on their efforts to meet the requirements of the river service by furnishing this latest evidence of the company's enterprise. The "Miramichi" will be manned as follows: J. Betts, Captain. John Dickson, Mate. Chas. Johnston, Engineer. Dan Condon, fireman. The time for excursion trips is at hand and they will, no doubt be increasingly popular with such a boat as the Miramichi to make them out.

Nature's Remedy for Diarrhoea. FULLER'S BLACKBERRY CORDIAL. Price, 25 cents. THE BAIRD CO'Y, Limited PROPRIETORS WOODSTOCK, N.B.

The marriage of Miss Anastasia Beatrice Hennessy, daughter of Mr. P. Hennessy, Newcastle, to Dr. P. F. Duffy, Richmond, P. E. I., took place in St. Mary's church, Newcastle, on Tuesday. St. Mary's was beautifully decorated with shrubs, evergreens, cut and potted flowers, etc. The bride entered the church supported by her father during a wedding march played by the orchestra. Her sister, Miss Nellie Hennessy, was maid of honor, and twelve pretty little flower girls dressed in white strewed flowers along the aisle as the party advanced. The groom was attended by Mr. John E. Larkin, of Richmond, P. E. I. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Dixon, assisted by Fathers McGuire, of Newcastle; McDonald, of Miramichi, P. E. I.; McLean, of Summerside, and Power, of Nelson. The bride was given away by her father, Messrs. Dennis P. Doyle and Chas. J. Morrissey acted as ushers. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple with the guests retired to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. The bride's wedding gown was a Battenberg lace over white tulle silk, with tulle veil and lilies of the valley, and she carried a shabby bouquet of bride's roses. Dr. and Mrs. Duffy left on the accommodation train for an extended wedding tour, taking in Boston, Niagara Falls and other places. A large number of their friends assembled at the station to see them off and shower them with good wishes and roses. The bride's going away gown was of blue tulle, with white silk blouse, blue hat trimmed with grapes and op-ry. The bride was the recipient of numerous handsome and costly tokens of esteem. At Ottawa a very pretty June wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at a quarter past two at the residence of Hon. A. G. Blair and Mrs. Blair, O'Connor street, when their daughter, Kathleen Audrey, was married in the presence of only the relatives and intimate friends to Dr. George MacCarthy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Mitchell, of St. John's church. The bride entered the drawing room at the arm of her father, and looked very sweet in a simple but most becoming gown of white crepe de chine, very much tucked and trimmed with real silk lace collar and insertion. She wore a beautiful veil of real lace, the one, by the way, which was worn by her mother at her wedding. The veil was surmounted by a coronet of orange blossoms, and a beautiful bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley was carried. The bridesmaid, Miss M. J. Blair, looked very pretty in a gown of white crepe de chine, much inset with lace insertion. She wore a picture hat of white chiffon, with long white plumes tipped with pale blue, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridal party passed up the length of the drawing room, which was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers, between white satin ribbons held by little Miss Marjorie May and Master Robin Randolph (Dr. deacon), both of whom came in a gloriously shod, admirer. Dr. Fred MacCarthy acted as best man. Mr. Blair's gown was a handsome one of silver grey silk with a collar of cream lace applique. Mrs. Braun, the bride's sister, wore white crepe de chine, with handsome lace trimmings. After the reception to the guests, who numbered about fifty, Dr. and Mrs. MacCarthy left for the Canada Atlantic railway for a trip to the Adirondacks, nearly all the guests accompanying them to the station. On their return in September they will occupy Dr. MacCarthy's house on Somerset street. The gift of the bride's father was a chest of silver. Many other handsome gifts were received. Mr. Charles A. McCain, of Bangor, Maine, and Miss Maud A. Gunning, of Chatham, N. B., were united in marriage at Mahon, C. B., a fortnight ago, by the Rev. E. Nest Blaine. The bride was very becomingly attired in white silk trimmed with blue ribbons and white lace, with pearl ornaments. The groom was ably supported by the bride's brother, Mr. George Gunning. The bridesmaid was Miss Ida Gunning. She was attired in pale blue trimmed with white lace and pearl ornaments. Each wore a handsome gold bracelet presented by the groom. After the happy part returned from the church, Mr. and Mrs. McCain sat down with a number of guests to a sumptuous repast which was provided by the bride's mother. Mr. and Mrs. McCain left by the morning train for Bangor, Maine, where they will spend a few days of their honeymoon and will return to Mahon for a few months.

Kings' College, Windsor.

A Windsor, N. S., despatch of Wednesday 17th says:—"The Alumni of King's College held an important meeting to day. A large number was present, there having been nearly three hundred recent additions to membership. In his report on his work of the year Rev. S. Weston Jones said, amongst other things, that it had been impossible for him to do as much time to the work as he would have liked, since he had to look after his own parish as well as the work to which he had been appointed by the Alumni. During the year he had been away from home 16 Sundays and 90 week days. In that time he had delivered 90 addresses and secured 294 new members to the Alumni, with 12 new members at $100 each. He had organized 32 branches of Women's Auxiliaries in Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, and had received in collections from various sources $3,837.90. The expenses for the year were about $250.00. Besides these encouraging features, he could report others. One was a bequest of $50,000 in a Will just recently made by a Nova Scotian of advanced age, who had made the bequest with a view of the retention of King's College to the Church, and in encouragement here to show a similar interest in the old institution. Another bequest of $5000 which was supposed to have been cancelled, was still good on certain conditions, and has been, with the bequest's already known to have been made, would make the aggregate amount over $100,000. Another promise on conditions was made by a generous lady (Mrs. Wiggins) of $2000, while Sir Frederick Borden had made a promise of $900 over and above the $100, to be given in five annual instalments. In concluding, Mr. Jones stated that more valuable than the money side of the question, was the enthusiasm aroused everywhere among church people for their venerable institution, which gave promise that the rank and file would rally around and develop their University. Mr. Jones' report was unanimously passed as was, also, a resolution thanking him for his work.
