Marlin 32 Cal. High-Pressure Smokeless IN MODEL 1893

WE are prepared to furnish our full line of Model '93 for the new 32 Caliber HIGH PRESSURE SMOKELESS rifle. This rifle has a velocity of over 2,000 feet per second, making it the most powerful rifle made for an American rifle, with an exception of the 30-40 U. S. Army. It is especially deadly for any game found in North America. Another great advantage is that the barrel is made of nickel-plated steel, which is not only stronger than the ordinary steel, but it is also proof against rust. This rifle is a high-pressure rifle, and its high-pressure action is developed in this country for a better longer life, and the first to use a slow moving bullet to get the most accurate and most powerful rifle made in this country. THE MARLIN FIRE ARMS CO. NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT.

Canada Eastern. Hon. Mr. Emerson gave notice on Wednesday in the House of Commons of the resolutions for the taking over of the Canada Eastern Railway, including its main and branch lines, for $300,000; also, of the intention to take possession of the Fredericton Railway bridge, the bridge company having defaulted in payment of advances by government—and to operate said bridge as part of the Government Railway system. This will be very gratifying to the people of New Brunswick, and we congratulate Mr. Emerson on his success in the matter.

The Advocate nominates Lord Dundonald as the "next Minister of Militia." What's the matter with Sir Frederick Borden, who knew enough about the duties of that office to turn the bumptious General down?

The work that Lord Dundonald is doing in Canada as a political agent for the Opposition at Ottawa is receiving attention in Great Britain, and protests are being made against it over there. It has come home to the Briton that the course his lordship has pursued in Canada in retaliation for the government not permitting him to spend the millions he unreasonably asked for, will tend to confirm the sentiment in this country that the importation of imperial officers to command in the highest position in our military organization may not be the best thing in the interest of Canada.

A demand for Lord Dundonald's recall to his own country, where he may be utilised in a way less harmful to closer unity between the Mother Country and Canada, is therefore being made with increasing seriousness, and it is even said that he is to go home to receive a wiggling for his indiscretions on this side of the water. He will not, of course, undertake to do so important a figure at home as he did here, and for which he was very properly called down and dismissed by the Dominion Government.

The "Truth." The Advocate says: "The Chatham Advance declares that Chatham is the chief and most populous commercial town of the North Shore of New Brunswick. Really, you could never expect a fisherman to tell the truth."

According to McAlpine's Gazetteer and Guide of the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland for 1904 Chatham is "The largest incorporated town on the North Shore." It gives the population of the different North Shore towns as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Town Name and Population. Chatham: 6,000; Bathurst (town): 3,000; (village): 1,100; Campbellton: 4,000; Newcastle: 3,000; Dalhousie: 1,500.

Perhaps the Advocate will favor its readers with an idea of the inference it wished them to draw from its paragraph as above quoted. Perhaps, however, it is an outbreak of "intuitive genius."

About Prohibition. Robert J. Burdette says: "About the power of prohibitory laws to prohibit—the laws of the state against murder do not entirely prevent murder. But, nevertheless, I am opposed to licensing one murderer to every six thousand persons, even on petition of a majority of the property owners in the block, that we may have all the murder that is desirable in the community under wise regulations, with a little income for the municipality. I believe in the absolute prohibition of murder."

"The laws of the country prohibiting stealing do not entirely prevent stealing. Nevertheless, I am opposed to a high license system of stealing providing that all theft shall be restricted to certain authorized thieves who shall steal only between the hours of say 6 a. m. and 11.30 p. m., except Sunday, when stealing shall be done except, by stealth, entrance to be made in all cases on that day by the back door, and at the thief's risk. I believe in laws that absolutely forbid theft at any hour, on any day of the week."

"And, on the same ground, and just as positively, do I believe in the prohibition of the liquor traffic."

Mr. Burdette makes the mistake of departing from the true line. God, himself, has commanded: "Thou shalt not murder." "Thou shalt not steal," but He never commanded total abstinence, and never discouraged the use of wine in moderation. Christ, himself, being informed of the deficiency of the customary supply of wine at the marriage in Cana made it up by performing His first miracle; He was accused by His enemies of being the associate of drunkards and wine-bibbers, as he would, no doubt, be today by the distinguished humorist and preacher, Mr. Burdette. St. Paul enjoined the use of wine upon Timothy, and there are not a few other scriptural encouragements of true temperance, which is quite a different thing from prohibition on the one hand and over-indulgence on the other. It is extremists of the Burdette type, who going to the length of classifying the sale of liquors with the commission of murder and theft, alienate practical and self-respecting temperance men from identifying themselves with organizations under their control. These organizations cannot suppress, and they will not direct their efforts to the lessening simply of the evils of the traffic. All history and experience prove that the traffic cannot be suppressed. Moderation and sobriety in all things are best.

Wood. Our friend, the Advocate, gave its readers a leader last week which was an essay on Wood and a fair sample of the frantic style and the inventive in orthography. It seems to agree with "Sanny Jim" in proclaiming that what is required is more force and it proclaims a want of energy in bringing the forest wealth of New Brunswick to the attention of "men whose great intuitive genius and corresponding wealth would place us beyond the pale of pertunatory existence." The "intuitive genius" whose hysteria evokes the article in question seems to have been a great traveller and is very strong on wood. He says:

"When we go anywhere, sit anywhere, look anywhere—be it in Europe, Africa or America we should be impressed with the predominating material which surrounds us—wood. The floor we stand upon, the chair we sit upon, the table we eat upon—all are made of wood."

"Not everything, dear brother—not even all the heads,—for these are floors, chairs and tables not of wood. Without going out of America it may be learned that the best classes of floors have no wood near them; chairs, too, there are, which for restful occupancy are unsurpassed, whose frames and springs are metal overlaid with fleecy fibres of various kinds and covered with rare fabrics, none of them of woody origin; and tables are hewn and chiseled from marble, melinite, jadeite and onyx, as well as cast or wrought from the various metals. The "intuitive genius" which toots so foolishly as does the author of the article in question gives evidence of overwork, and we prescribe a summer vacation for him and advise that he take to the woods."

Yakon Pioneer's Work Recognized. Many who, in their own way, by different methods of enterprise, gratuitous labor, or instead of being "sharp" while promoting other's interests, have omitted to further their own and afterwards found that the general rule is "every man for himself" and "if another is fool enough to help you let him do it"—will read the following Ottawa despatch of last Saturday with approving interest:—

An order-in-Council was brought down to-day dated August 13 last, setting forth that a petition had been received from the mine owners, bankers, lawyers and prominent business men in the Yukon Territory that Robert Henderson, formerly of Pictou, N. S. and now of Dawson was the original discoverer of Gold on Quartz, Gold Bottom and Hunker Creeks, in the Yukon and that by his enterprise he had done much to make known the gold resources of the Yukon Territory. The petition further states that Mr. Henderson had been refused locations by the mining records and that consequently he had been deprived of the advantages to which his explorations entitled him. The petitioners asked that the Government recompense Mr. Henderson in some way. The petition was strongly endorsed by Mr. William Ogilvie, late commissioner of the Yukon Territory, who spoke in very high terms of Mr. Henderson.

In view of these representations, the Government decided to waive the mining regulations in Mr. Henderson's case and he was authorized to locate a total frontage of 2,000 feet of available placer mining ground in the territory without entrance fee, in full compensation for any loss he may have sustained. In addition, Mr. Henderson has recently been appointed on the staff of the Government engineer in the Yukon, at a salary of $200 per month."

Spence Deals in England. London Timber Trades Journal of 9th inst. says:—

"The decline in the value of spruce appears to have been momentarily arrested, but the point is whether, in view of the difficulty of making sales, cargo prices have yet touched bottom. A couple of cargoes of St. John spruce, with a big percentage of seven and eight has, we learn, been recently sold to Liverpool at 27, and we understand that below this shippers are not disposed to go. It should, of course, be remembered that at this period of the year, when shippers are in their busy time and manufacturing freely, they are naturally anxious to get their production shipped right away, so as to avoid storage expenses; and in previous years values about July have not infrequently been somewhat easier. At the present time, however, shippers have also to contend with a demand which is sluggish, and a Liverpool stock of largish dimensions."

In its London notes the Journal says:—

"Judging from the result of this week's sale, one would incline to the belief that spruce is better, and no doubt such is the case for anything like handy and fair specifications, and at the same time we may say good stocks, but the general market is still lifeless so far as forward business is concerned. "Buyers and consumers from the upper to the lower rung of the ladder are quite apathetic, and in no way inclined to operate, so that the practical and circumspect agent does not inflict his presence on these unwilling buyers at the present time, and we think, and in fact must agree, that he is prudent in not attempting to force business at the moment."

In its Liverpool notes the same paper says:—

"The spruce market continues in a weak condition and prices still have a downward tendency."

In their Wood Trade Circular of 1st, Messrs Farnworth & Jardine of Liverpool have the following under the head of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia spruce and pine deals:—

"The import during the past month has been large and slightly exceeds that of the corresponding month last year, viz., 18,000 stds. against 15,630 stds.; the deliveries have been fair, but stocks have increased and are too large; values show a further decline. Pine Deals—The demand is exceedingly quiet, and sales are difficult."

A Tea Fight. It was tea that played an important part in the inception of Britain's unpleasantness with her thirteen colonies more than a century and a quarter since, and the same popular article of domestic consumption, while it is prized alike in camp and palace, still seems to maintain its record as a promoter of belligerence. This was demonstrated last week, as by following from the daily papers shows:—

"Ever since the Fredericton Exhibition of 1905 there has been war between certain tea merchants who had exhibited there of their tea. The directors of the Agricultural Society decided to award a medal to the tea that a committee of ladies should decide was the best of the three exhibited. The award was made to Vim Tea, Baird & Peters of St. John, proprietors. When the award was made known there was vigorous kicking on the part of J. J. McLaughlin and the Blue Ribbon Tea people, and thinking to pacify all parties a majority of the directors subsequently decided to award a medal to each of the three exhibitors. Messrs Baird & Peters naturally objected to this, claiming that a duly constituted committee of Judges had awarded the medal to Vim Tea, and no other. When the directors persisted in their decision to go beyond the judges' award the Vim Tea people took legal steps to enforce their claims, and they have won, for St. John on Wednesday morning Judge Barker granted Messrs. Baird & Peters an injunction restraining Agricultural Society No. 34 from issuing medals to Mr. McLaughlin or to Blue Ribbon Tea. Their next move, and the logical one, will doubtless be to obtain a mandamus from the Court to compel the Fredericton exhibition directors to issue the medal awarded to Vim Tea."

Those who know more than one move in the law courts to settle him, and many will be interested in knowing what his next move will be in the direction of demonstrating that he is a much abused man and that Blue Ribbon tea is just as good as any other tea, and that neither the Fredericton exhibition judges nor another judge he might mention, know their business."

Hon. Mr. Fielding Banquetted. Hon. W. S. Fielding was given a reception on Monday night, 11th inst., by the Liberals of Toronto. Three hundred attended the banquet in his honor at the King Edward Hotel.

The Minister spoke for an hour and a quarter. He began with a declaration that the Liberal party to-day does not require to issue a prospectus, but a reference to its records shows to be the best government Canada ever had.

After speaking of the Conservative deficits which the Liberals turned into surplus—the Minister said that much capital expenditure was required for the great development of the country. The Opposition had charged lavish expenditure, but he maintained it was wise, and wise expenditure was economy. In eight years the public debt had not increased one cent.

Eight years of sound finance and credit, eight years of low taxation, eight years without increasing the public debt, and eight years of departmental success furnished a record any party might be proud of. He repeated Sir Wilfrid Laurier's declaration in 1896 after the Liberal government came into power, that no statistics would be necessary to prove prosperity.

Speaking of the tariff the minister said eight years of a sound tariff policy was shown by the fact that extremists were defeated.

While all here might be free traders the fact is that the world had not adopted this policy. It was not enough to know the rules of the game, but to know how your opponent played it.

It was the tariff war we had to fear more in the future, and if others will not treat us fairly it was then our duty in self defence to hit back. High tariffs did not make prosperity as shown by conditions in the United States.

To adopt their tariff would mean no more success for us. We must adopt a Canadian, not a United States policy.

The War.

Since the receipt from Tokio of an official denial of the report of a Japanese repulse at Port Arthur with the loss of about 30,000 men, skepticism as to the truth of the report from Viceroy Alexieff's headquarters has pervaded all circles, but the members of the general staff decline to accept the denial unreservedly. While not insisting on the accuracy of the figures, they claim there is good reason to believe that a severe check was inflicted on the Japanese in front of Port Arthur, and it is considered possible that General Stoessel may have made a report on the subject to the emperor, who will not return here until tonight. Although still in ignorance as to what the official statement meant by "from Japanese sources," the officials here maintain that Alexieff must have had good reason to send the report. While it is conceivable that the Japanese themselves may have spread the report for the purpose of leading General Kuropatkin to believe that they will not advance any further in Manchuria, the general staff are not disposed to regard them as guilty of such machiavelism. Public ardor has quite cooled down.

A St. Petersburg despatch of 18th says:—General Kuropatkin in a long despatch to the Emperor dated July 17th tells of an attempt by Lieut. General Koller to drive back the Japanese from passes in the neighborhood of Lian Shan Kwan. The Russians had to withdraw. Gen. Keller reported the Russian losses to exceed 1,000.

A despatch of 18th from General Kuroki's headquarters in the field, via Fusan, says:—More Russian troops were engaged in yesterday's battle at Mao Tien Pass than in previous engagements. They were probably double the number of those who took part in the fight at Yalu river, while opposed to them were only one brigade and one battalion of the Japanese forces. The Russian loss is estimated at 3,000. The burial of the dead continues. The Japanese casualties aggregated 300. The engagement has conspicuously demonstrated the wonderful efficiency of the Japanese infantry. They proved incomparably the better marksmen, with more initiative and they out-fought and out-generalled the Russians on every point.

A Tokio despatch of 19th says:—The Japanese losses in the fight at Mo Tien Pass and its vicinity Sunday were 299 killed or wounded. Gen Kuroki estimates that the Russians lost more heavily.

Ordination of Rev. Frederick Ryan. The ordination, by His Lordship Bishop Barry, of Rev. Frederick Ryan, of Keuchiboulog, took place on Sunday forenoon at the pro-Cathedral, Chatham, and was witnessed by a large congregation. Assisting at the ceremony were the following priests:—

Very Rev. L. N. Dugal, V. G., Very Rev. Joseph Pelletier, Very Rev. Stanislas Duce, R. v. Wm. Varrily, Rev. H. T. Joyner, Rev. J. J. McLaughlin, Rev. M. A. O'Keefe, Rev. E. P. Wallace, Rev. W. Conway, Rev. L. O'Leary, Rev. M. Richard.

His Lordship's immediate assistants were Very Rev. L. N. Dugal and R. v. Wm. Varrily. R. v. L. O'Leary, D. D. was master of ceremonies. The preacher was Rev. Father McLaughlin and, in the course of a thoughtful sermon, he enjoined upon the newly ordained priest the duty of constant prayer for the Divine blessing and guidance in discharging the duties he had vowed to perform, and the prayers of the congregation were also invoked to the same end.

The celebration of mass by the Bishop being ended, the parents and immediate relatives of the newly ordained priest received his first blessing at the altar rail.

Corner-Stone of the New Cathedral of the Diocese of Chatham Laid. On Sunday afternoon the corner-stone of the new Cathedral of the Diocese of Chatham was laid. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Thos. F. Barry, D. D., Bishop of Chatham and assistant priests. The occasion was one of great interest to the people of Chatham, particularly those of the Roman Catholic faith, as it was also to many elsewhere, and not a few from the neighboring towns, as well as strangers were present, so that the congregation which assembled in the basement of the new edifice was a large one.

The priests assisting at the ceremony were Very Rev. L. N. Dugal, V. G., St. Basil; Very Rev. Joseph Pelletier, St. Louis; Very Rev. Stanislas Duce, Grand Anse; Rev. William Varrily, Bathurst Village; Rev. Wm. Morrison, Bathurst; Rev. M. F. Richard, Rogersville; Rev. P. W. Dixon, Newcastle; Rev. N. Power, Nelson; Rev. F. C. P. Campbell, Banbury River; Rev. H. T. Joyner, Chatham; Rev. E. S. Marle, Renous River; Rev. S. J. Cromlech, Blackville; Rev. C. Pattenada, St. Margaret's; Rev. M. A. O'Keefe, Grand Falls; Rev. E. P. Wallace, Campbellton; Rev. J. J. McLaughlin, Charley; Rev. W. Conway, Chatham; Rev. L. O'Leary, D. D., Chatham; Rev. M. Richard, Chatham.

The Bishop an assistant priests vested in the pro-Cathedral and went in procession across St. John street to the extension of Howard street to the basement of the new edifice where the blessing of the new stone took place. This stone is on the east side of the building, that laid on the formerly intended site by the late Bishop Rogers having, together with its records etc., been already placed in the wall on the west side.

After the placing of the corner stone, the foundations of the new Cathedral were blessed, during which ceremony the psalms prescribed by the ritual, Quam dilectus, Nisi Dominus, Fundamenta ejus and Letantius sunt, were chanted by the assistant clergy.

Rev. Fathers Cromley and Wallace were Deacon and Sub-Deacon respectively, and Rev. L. O'Leary, D. D. was master of ceremonies. During the ceremony St. Michael's Society band played several selections.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a sermon on the origin and constitution of the church; its divine sanction and place as the custodian and guardian of the truths entrusted to it by Christ and its guarantee of stability by its Divine Founder, was preached by Rev. M. A. O'Keefe of Grand Falls.

After the sermon the Bishop, with the attendant priests, returned to the pro-cathedral, where Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given. The ceremony lasted two hours.

The New Cathedral will be about 260 ft in length, including the sacristy and about 82 ft in width. Beneath the main church there will be a basement of about 14 ft between floor and ceiling as also one of 12 ft under the sacristy. Connection between the church and sacristy is facilitated by means of covered ways on each side of the building under which are coal and ash compartments.

The basement with excavation has already cost over $20,000, and contracts for about $80,000 have been given for the entire completion of the exterior, and it is hoped that the roof which is to be upheld by steel columns will be placed and covered this fall. The roof of the church will be covered with black and green slate, and of the sacristy with copper. All the moldings will be in copper.

St. John Exhibition. From numerous and conclusive indications this year's St. John, N. B., Exhibition,—17th to 24th September,—will be the best yet held. The demand for floor space has been altogether unprecedented and has cleared out all save one or two emergency locations. This demand is wide-spread, which demonstrates the interest taken by manufacturers generally in this end of the Continent.

The public spirit for which St. John is noted has been very generously extended to the support of the Exhibition Association. To this has been added the hearty co-operation of the Dominion and Provincial Governments.

Through the kind efforts of Mr. F. W. Holden, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, mounting paper will be supplied free of charge to all New Brunswick exhibitors entering for the Wood Competition. Already, several hundred entries are in; for teachers and pupils alike have taken the matter up enthusiastically. Entries may be made at any time, and entry forms will be supplied free on application to Manager Hubbard, St. John, N. B.

Mr. Fred C. Spencer, whose name is associated in the public mind with the bringing of Madam Nordie, Miss Jessie Macleachlan, and other musical treats to the province, has just returned from a tour through the principal amusement centres in America. He has been away selecting for the Exhibition Association the very best amusement features available, and at an expenditure greatly exceeding that of any previous year. His tour has been eminently successful. The aggregation secured by him will, undoubtedly, prove the most interesting and attractive ever seen here. It includes Adie's Lions, the most successful and thrilling show of the year, indeed, the most popular seen during recent years.

In addition to the above, the famous English Master Glee Club and the Vitagraph Moving Pictures have been secured. The reputation of the Meister Singers is world-wide. They stand alone in their class; and were great favorites with the late Queen, as they now are with the present King. The advent of these talented songsters is an event to be looked forward to by the entire musical community.

The Vitagraph Pictures are the newest and best of their kind. The selection is very large and interesting, and includes all the latest battle scenes. All notable events occurring between now and September in connection with the Russo-Japanese War, will make their first appearance on the screen at the St. John Exhibition.

Another, and one of the most important features of the Fair will be the Daily Horse Show at which leading breeders in all classes, will be represented with their best. This department will be conducted on the most up-to-date lines, with all the latest social and fashionable innovations. A good Horse Show has everywhere proven a very successful Exhibition feature, and the St. John Exhibition Association guarantees a Good Horse Show.

A REAL family medicine chest in itself—Kendrick's Liniment—Do you know its value? It was summertime in Dixie Land. Very few people have any idea of the vast amount of money there is to be made and lost in the Music Publishing Business. At times from $10,000 to $20,000 will be lost by a single Publisher in trying to make a "Winner." Then again a lucky publisher will make a fortune on his first effort. The biggest "Song Hit," and the best money maker in this country at the present time is a song called,—"It was summertime in Dixie Land" written by Edwin Kendall. This song is now being sung nightly with great success, in all the principal Theatres from Maine to California. There were nearly 300,000 copies of this song sold in less than thirty days from the date of issue, and present predictions are that over one million copies will be sold inside of one year. It has been calculated by good judges that the publishers will make a net profit of over $80,000 on this one song above all expenses. CHORUS: It was summertime in Dixie, when she whispered soft and low, That she loved me and I'd won her heart, When I kissed the fairest flower, It ever grows in Southern bow; It was summertime in Dixie—Dixieland. Upon receipt of 25 cents in Postage Stamps, a copy of this beautiful Song will be mailed to any address in the United States by the Theatrical Music Supply Co., No. 46 W. 28th St., New York.
