The publisher desires to urge upon the notice of all who wish to contribute matter of any kind to the ADVANCE's columnswhether it be advertising, news or notices of meetings, etc .- that the paper goes to press on Wednesday afternoons and, to ensure publication, their favors should be in the office not later than Wednesday morning.

The printing of the paper is frequently delayed by persons who hold back accounts of meetings, announcements of entertainments, etc., which they might easily send in days before that on which we go to press, but they seem to consult only their own convenience and often place them in our hands on Wednesday after the paper made ready for fress, and seem to think it a hardship because they do not appear ; and, in most cases of this kind, the contributions are really free list advertisements. We want to help every deserving organization in the community, freely, in every legitimate way, but must expect them not to delay the publication of the paper when they wish to make use of our columns. Send your matter for the ADVANCE along on Monday or Tuesday, but don't hold it back until Wednesday if you can possibly avoid doing so.

Man's Most Critical Age Very often vital resources are small at forty two, but if not then, between fiftyseven and sixty-two years of age there is a strange slowing down and loss of vitality. It is important that this transient period of decay should be checked; strength must be imparted to the tired brain, the weakened nerves must be fortified. The wise man will use Ferrozone whose potency is parti eularly applicable to these critical periods. Ferrozone quickens the whole being, imparts vigor and power, pushes back the oaset of senility in a very manifest way. It's because Ferrozone gives strength, vitality and vigor that it is useful to old men. Try it. Prize giver.

[felegraph.] Newcastle, March 21. - The new Orange ball which has been in course of construction for the last year, was[declared opened by an evangelistic service held there last Monday night. The large auditorium was crowded with citizens of Newcastle and the neighboring towns. Rev. Mr. Meikle, of Glace Bay | pelitics. (C. B.), conducted the service and Mr Britten and a special choir occupied seats on the platform. The new hall is certainly a credit to the town and the Orange order is to be congratulated on their enterprise in farnishing the towns with such a long-felt want. The buil ! ing is of brick with stone trimmings and is slone bribery, but treason. 97x456 feet. The lower storey is taken up with the auditorium and stage. evidently taken advantage of the well known readiness of the writer of the foregoing to publish anything he is told, no matter how ridiculous it may be, and also to give "expert" advice. These two traits of character are responsible for the mortality being misrepresented to the extent of fifty per cent., and the absurd suggestion being advanced that only young moose should have been taken. Experience has taught us that the older moose submit best to capture and captivity, because the younger ones are the more nervous and longer in becoming reconciled to restraint, It is not easy to conjecture what is meant by the hunters having "liberty to capture anything in sight" As they have no such liberty it may be assumed that the expression is merely "a rhetorical flourish" of a less innocent kind than that for which its writer was forced to make a public apology about

It is fairly safe to say that the cost will not be less than the Turke-Russian war, namely

According to the last budget available the balance in January was three hundred and welve million roubles, of which a hundred and ninety-six millions were assigned for extraordinary expenses. It is difficult see how any considerable saving is possible in the extraordinary expenses, the greater part of which is devoted to railways, or which the expenditure probably must be increased on account of the war.

A saving in ordinary expenses will not be much easier. A cutting down of amounts allowed under such categories as agriculture and road-making would add little to the war fund, while materially reasing the burdens of the peasantry. Russian gold in the Imperial Bank

A Seoul despatch of last Thursday says:-From the best sources it is learned that there will probably be no clash with the Russian forces until the Japanese army at Ping Yang attempts to cross the Yalu at Wiju. The Russians are reported to have fortified both sides of the Yalu, while a strong detachment occupies a point where the road from Unsan crosses. The Japanese cannet well deviate from one or other of these lines of advance, owing to the nature of the country.

The Marquis Ito, who was given a dinner by the Korean foreign affice on Thursday, made a speech which perhaps more than anything else since Korea threw in her lot with Japan created such deep satisfaction and left a weighty impression. Ito traced step by step the emancipation of Japan from oriental influences, Japan had worked out her own salvation unaided. Korea, he said, was blessed with all the resources favorable to her development and possessed an opportunity for advancing on similar lines. In offering the Koreans the benefit of Japan's hard won experience, he appealed to them to have done with self and to work for the country's advantage. By so doing they would retain their national independence, which inevitably otherwise would be merged with one of the empires now contending in Korean territory.
