The Late Accident on the Mississippi.

The reason assigned for the foundering of the steamer Gilchrist, near Day-ent, Iowa, on the Mississippi, an account of which appeared in our last issue, is said to be an overloaded boat, a drunken crew, and incompetent officers. About thirty lives are said to have been sacrificed and many of the victims were scalded to death by escaping steam from the boilers.

Agricultural.

The price for provisions and fall produce is on the rise. Dry codfish was sold this week from $3.50 to $4.00 per quintal, and green codfish from $3.50 to $4.00 per bbl. There was one instance of codfish selling for $2 per quintal. Carrot herring were selling from $4.00 to $4.50 per barrel. Turnips are $1.00 per barrel, and potatoes from one dollar to $1.25 per barrel. Cabbage was from 80 cents to a dollar per dozen heads. Oats were selling for 48 cents per bushel. Spring pigs were selling for $2.00; and Island cows, nine in number, brought from $15 to $20 per head. This rise in fall produce is owing entirely to the failure of crops.

The cholera is spreading in the East and advancing toward Europe. It has already made considerable ravages at Aden, and has reached Mecca where the Mussulmans are imploring their Prophet.

A couple of freight trains on the Great Western railway collided on Friday last at Glencoe, and the result was that three cars were smashed. Fortunately no lives were lost.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE IN ACTION.

The United States has time and again asserted her claim to be the arbiter in all international questions which may arise in the New World. The interference of any European power in the affairs of any state, either of North or South America, even when undertaken at the request of the state directly interested, has usually been regarded as an insult, if not an injury, by our great neighbour. These claims to the proud position of sole umpire for a continent, though often asserted by her statesmen, have never been allowed by the European nations, which have continued to act as if they had never heard of these claims. But the nations of the new world have always resented the arrogant claims of the great and ambitious republic. The United States of Columbia referred their difficulties to the King of Brazil and to the King of Spain rather than to the United States, Columbia, in spite of the remonstrances of the United States, insisted upon granting to the French Government special judicial privileges with regard to the canal which M. De Lesseps is constructing. Indeed, the canal is being dug in the face of the direct opposition on the part of the United States, which, though it talked a good deal of the Nicaragua scheme and of the ships railway across the isthmus, had no serious intention of constructing a canal, and wished to hinder its construction by any one else. The latest instances of the resentment of this claim to political dominancy is perhaps the most humiliating which the United States has yet incurred. The United States Minister to Peru, Mr. Hurlbut, recognized the Provisional Government which was established by Calderon at Lima after its capture by the Chileans and the flight of the Dictator Pierola beyond the Cordilleras. Calderon's Government was never popular with the Peruvians, and was upheld by the Chileans. After recognizing the Calderon Government and declaring directly against the Government, preferred by these Peruvians, of Pierola beyond the Cordilleras, Mr. Hurlbut also wrote a letter to Admiral Lynch stating very plainly the views of the United States with regard to the proper course for Chili to pursue. He stated that immediate peace was necessary to the national existence of Peru, and therefore both countries should conclude it at once; that war which territorial aggrandizement in view would not be approved by the nation he represented, and that any annexation of territory by Chili unless agreed to by the Peruvians would be regarded with "extreme disapprobation" by the United States. The letter containing the declarations was made public, and of course was favorably regarded by the Peruvians. Admiral Lynch has answered it, however, by overthrowing the Calderon Government, which was officially recognized by the United States, and by assuming once more the sole government of the subjugated portions of Peru. The United States journals are divided in opinion over the question. The more conservative portion of the press think that Mr. Hurlbut's interference was rash and unwarranted, while another section are in favor of holding Chili "to a prompt and sharp account." While the arrogance of the United States is to be deprecated, still it is to be regretted that her representations, which would probably be endorsed by European nations interested, were not accepted and followed by the Chileans.—Montreal Herald.
