LETTER FROM SARATOGA SPRINGS.

DEAR STAR.—It is said that Saratoga, which is fast becoming the leading fashionable summer resort, never presented such a gay and lively appearance as it does this season. The numerous watering places in this State, as well as the many on the New Jersey shore, have of course, as in the case of every summer, their thousands of visitors from all the States in the Union; but for beauty and fashion none equals Saratoga Springs. The number of "wealthies" from New York is already larger than at any time in previous summers, and the trains from that city every day bring more and more. Never has Saratoga seen so many beautiful women at one time as are here now, which, certainly accounts for the large number of New York merchants at present here. The natural beauty of Saratoga alone, not to mention the female attractions, or its mineral springs is sufficient to draw thousands of strangers every year. It is one of the prettiest, if not the prettiest town in all the State of New York. Nearly every street is lined with handsome cottages, and the hotels all of which are now occupied, are the finest and largest on the Continent. Your correspondent paid a visit to the quarters of Trickett, the Australian oarsman, at the upper end of the lake, yesterday afternoon, but it not having occurred to him that it was Dominion Day in Canada (though in every sense a Canadian), and that a regatta, in which Trickett was to participate, was being held in Ottawa, he was unaware of Trickett's absence from Saratoga till he arrived at his quarters. On coming from the post office this morning, I heard some one exclaim, "Hello, C—, what do you think of Ross now? Do you think the Star still considers him a Judas Iscariot?" On hearing this I looked to see who was so familiar with New Brunswick affairs, and beheld a young gentleman, who once resided in Fredericton, N. B., with a lady by his side, whom he introduced to me as his wife. After the usual greetings and congratulations, I began to answer his questions. In reference to what I thought of Ross, I could only say what the Star had said, two years ago, it would say now, and as I was no connoisseur of aquatic matters, I could give no opinion of any oarsman. In the United States boat-racing is generally considered a "sham business," and I believe this is pretty near correct.

The great and only Barnum was here yesterday, and it is estimated that 15,000 people arrived during the day. Every manner of vehicle was brought into requisition to convey country folks to town. The trains from all the near points were crowded all day, and those who could not muster more than a half dollar which was the price of admission, walked to town.

Yours, etc.,
BILLIE TAYLOR.

PROTECTION AGITATION.

A more important question than even the Land bill is agitating England. Public meetings are held every day in various parts of the country, calling upon the Government to inflict heavy import duties upon French goods, and to adopt a policy of retaliation against all other protectionist nations. Hitherto the manufacturers and artisans have had a monopoly of this agitation, but the long-suffering farmer is now getting on his mettle for the new French tariff will deprive him of the only market he has for the sale of his surplus products. The duty on horses is decreased, but the duties on most other kinds of live stock are increased, oxen paying 12s. each instead of 2s. 11d., and cows 6s. 5d. instead of 1s.; and dead game, fowls and turkeys pay 8s. per cwt., instead of being free of duty as formerly; fresh butchers' meat pays a new duty 1s. 3d. per cwt, and the rates on preserved meats and extracts are also raised; skins, wool and horse hair are still free; cheese, both hard and soft, is to be double the former duty and a new duty of 5s 2d per cwt is imposed upon fresh butter, while that on salt butter has been increased. The farmer is now joining the mechanic, and the movement is making extraordinary headway everywhere. As yet the leading politicians fight shy of it, but everybody sees that it is destined to become the question of the hour, for it is a question of bread and butter. The franchise, the redistribution of seats and reform in the land laws are mere abstract theories compared with this matter. Mr. Bright of course, calls the retaliationists fools, and other out-and-out free traders urge that England cannot afford to let the world know she doubts the efficacy of Cobden's teachings, while the retaliationists reply that they are not going to let the country be sacrificed for an idea. The Premier has given great offence to the leader of the agitation by a letter to the sugar refiners, in which he makes light of their claims for protection against continental bounties. An active organization has been formed in the North for influencing future elections, and the working class are rallying to it in thousands. The French are said to be getting alarmed at the threats of retaliation, and it is reported that they are disposed to modify their new tariff in some important particulars, but the Foreign Office professes ignorance of this.

SMALL POX IN CHATHAM.

The people of Chatham, New Brunswick, are afraid that small-pox may break out among them because a ship, on board which the disease prevailed, unloaded at the public dock before the doctors were made aware of the fact that the vessel should have been quarantined. As soon as it was found that the disease existed the ship and its crew went into quarantine. A few weeks ago another ship containing passengers stricken down by the dreadful plague arrived at Victoria, British Columbia, where there were no quarantine grounds, and the vessel had to lie off the city for days, while its unhappy occupants suffered without attendance. At Chatham the case was different. There was a quarantine ground, but no medical officer. Some years ago there was a regular quarantine officer, but it is stated before the late Government resigned he was dismissed and he had not been replaced. The people of this country will not grudge any expense to which they might be put in order to avoid an epidemic. Everybody favors the prohibition of the importation of disease.

THE CARLYLE MEMOIRS.

Mr. Froude publishes an article on Carlyle's early years, and is obliged to add a postscript apologising to Edward Irving's son for publishing the letters of Irving without his consent. The article adds little to previous information on the subject, except some letters from Carlyle's mother, in which she exhorts him to read the Bible regularly. Irving urges him to take up curious literary works, and says, "I have no more fear of your final success than Noah had of the deluge ceasing."

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy specially adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion, or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headache, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all really removed by these Bitters.—COURANT.

A CURE FOR COUGHS OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL CROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Croches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly a century, they have attained well-merited rank among the best staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cents a box everywhere.
