LOCAL MATTERS.

THIS IS THE THIRTY EIGHTH DAY.

☞ Remember the Sacred Concert on Tuesday night.

Sudden Death

A man named Michael Crowe of Northesk died suddenly at his residence last week.

Social Postponed.

The regular weekly social dance in Masonic Hall, will take place on Wednesday of next week instead of Monday.

That's Right,

The new commissioner was out with his snowplough on Thursday and succeeded in making the streets passable.

Snow

There are three to four feet of snow on the Northwest. It is thought some of the smaller lumbering parties there will have to discontinue operations in consequence.

A Funny Case.

The Halifax Chronicle says eight chinamen cutting timber near Dogherty's mill in Santa Cruz, were buried alive by the mill falling on them. Ten of them it says escaped.

Fishing Notes.

Mr Daniel Desmond of Chatham has entered into the smelt shipping business. He intends to buy up about fifty ton of smelt for shipment to the States. Smelt are at present plentiful.

Sacred Concert.

In another column will appear the advertisement of a Sacred Concert to be given by the choir of St. Michaels Pro-Cathedral in the Masons Hall, on Tuesday evening next. The following is the programme:

PART 1st.

Instrumental.....Orchestra
Chorus "Be Joyful in God".....Merz.
Duett "Ave Verum".....L. Bordese.
Quintette "Marvellous Work" from Haydn's "Creation"
Bass Solo:
Duet "God is Love".....Webb.

PART 2nd.

Instrumental Orchestra
Chorus "Magnificant".....
Solo cprano, "Ave Maria" Gustave Smith.
Quartette and Chorus 'O Give ear unto me O Lord".....Schumann
Solo and Chorus "Tantum Ergo"...Hagarty
Bass Solo
Solo and Chorus "Agnus Dei".....Coleman.
Tableau.

The pieces are certainly well selected and from what we hear of the choir since our coming here, we have not the least doubt that the concert will be a success. Such an addition too, as that of Mr. Lantalum of St. John, will contribute largely to the enjoyment of the evening. We think that the affair ought to be well patronized.

Who Saw those Cariboo.

Not long since the Star reported that Mr Philips, light house keeper at Escuminac, had seen a herd of cariboo numbering some fifty or sixty. The strangest part of the story is that Mr Philips says he has not seen a caribou this winter. There's a hoaxer abroad somewhere.—Advocate.

The Advocate is the soul of precision itself. In its last issue it prints Mr Thomas Ambrose as saying: "I defy the petitioners or any one else to say that I acted IMPARTIALLY at the last or any other election."

Mr. Ambrose will take good care that his next letter does not go to the Advocate.

And the same precise editors in another item tell us that, "Every day Mr. Snowball is absent adds another nail TO his political coffin."

The Star publishes news. The Advocate does not, it being its highest ambition to criticize what others do publish. In conclusion we have only to say, we want to hear no more about these cariboo.

☞ Patronize the efforts of our young people by attending the Concert on Tuesday evening.

Fatal Railway Accident.

A down local train from Sussex came to grief yesterday morning about four miles below Sussex station. It is the opinion of some that the raised end of a broken rail caused the mishap, though having seen the track the writer is of the opinion it was done by a spreading of the rails. There were two engines on; these ran over a bank, and down about thirty feet, where they lay in a mass of ruins. The driver, whose naam was Gammen, stood nobly to his post, and was borne down the bank and buried under the enjine. He was barely breathing when he was taken out, and it was found that he had done his work with death threatening him, and turned off the steam. He died a few minutes afterwards, and leaves five or six little children and a wife at Sussex. After the engines had run over the bank, the cars passed on, and ran in every conceivable direction: some lay at one side of the road, and some at the other, and some across it. The rear car contained most of the passengers and it was tossed over on its side. Amongst the passengers in this car were Mr. Park Melville, of the St. John Telegraph, and several ladies who were returning from a party in Sussex. Some of the ladies were badly frightened and one of them received a severe shock by being flung from one side of the car to the other. We congratulate the young journalist on his very narrow escape.

The Railroads

Yesterday was Mr McLennans eighth continuous day on the road from Campbellton to Moncton. He informs us he has never before seen it so difficult to run trains, but owing to his prompt attention to business the track has been kept passable through all the storms, and we have heard of no delays or mishaps on his section. The up accommodation yesterday was the first train, save the express trains, for the week, that went without a snowplough. After the road has been opened up for the trains and the storm ceased. Mr McLennan takes out the wing plough, which cuts off the ice itself from the road, and sometimes clears from 4 to 5 feet at each side of the rail.

Our poor old spavined engines are as usual, stuck. As if it were not bad enough to have one rattle trap on the Branch, they now have two, and verily the second condition of the man is no better than the first. Yesterday morning, exmplis gratia, they left the station, both of them, in high feather, puffing and rattling away at such a rate, that one might think if they struck the base of the greater Himalaya they would upset it. In a few minutes it was all over,

Not a stir in the air
Not a sound o'er the lea
That train was still, as a train might be.

A pile of snow, and two melancholy smoke stacks are all the spectators saw; and now it is proposed to organize a party and go look for the smothered rattletraps.

We have been at some pains lately enquiring about this "new engine" which the scribes have been telling us was going to "be put on the Chatham Branch," and we find it is a cast off old trap for which our patriotic member paid something less than $4000, and which would not be put on any other road in the Dominion save on the Chatham Branch. Its lungs are gone, its bronchial tubes are affected, it is diseased all over, and what Mr Snowball will have paid in the next two years for "blacksmithing" on it would, added to the $4000 the other day, have purchased a respectable engine. The branch has no snowplough to make matters worse, and the Government will not, nor ought they, lend Mr Snowball one.

One would think since the pair of old traps have got into the slough of despond Snowball's employes ought to have some way of bringing passengers from St John to Chatham, from Newcastle, but on arriving at at Newcastle the unfortunate traveller, though he pays for a ticket TO CHATHAM finds he has to shift for himself. We have seen as many as five or six who bought tickets for Chatham, but who had to make their own way here from Newcastle, and the only satisfaction of course they will be able to get is take the proprietor of the branch who so proudly pointed it out to the Marquis of Lorne as "my property," to court.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

DIFFIN VS. DOW.

A correspondent who has watched this important case closely writes us: In the case of Robert Diffin vs. Hiram Dow, M. D. tried before Judge Duff at the Nisi Prius Sittings of the Supreme Court, the facts as alleged and proved by the plaintiff are that in September 1874, plaintiff having both of his eyes affected with cataract, contemplated going to the Eye and Ear Infirmary, Boston, to be treated, and with that object in view came to Fredericton with a friend named Kirkpatrick to sell a horse to raise money to carry out his intentions. Kirkpatrick in trying to sell the horse fell in with Dr. Dow, and on mentioning the object of the sale was requested by Dow to bring Diffin to him. Kirkpatrick took Diffin to Dow's office who immediately pronounced the case "cataract" and said he could easily cure it An appointment was made that Diffin should go home and arrange his domestic affairs for a two weeks absence and return to Fredericton to be operated upon. This arrangement was carried out and early in October Dow operated on both eyes for cataract resulting in the total loss both of the sight and form of the eyes, after 6 months agonizing suffering by the patient; and the action is brought to recover damage for mal-practice in the treatment. Dow sets up the defence that he did not treat for cataract but for gon. oph. and that the plaintiffs suffering and loss of sight was the result of his unsound condition which was too far advanced when he saw him to be benefited by any treatment. The evidence I think was most damaging to Dows fair name.

He was put on the stand in the plaintiffs case to see what he could say was the ailment and treatment, when he swore that the first he saw of Diffin he was driving along the road in Harvey about 6 weeks before the operation within 3 miles the other side of the Hatch place, when a woman hailed him to "come in and see a blind man." He entered the house and there saw Diffin BLIND. He told him he had lost his sight and that there was no hope; that he gave him some powdered medicine for the gon. oph. that Diffin afterwards came to town and sent for him, that he visited him at Hoyt's Hotel and found his eyes in a fearful condition from gon. oph. that he merely removed the fœtid matter from his eyes with an instrument and gave him a wash and had never seen him since or heard of his name until sued; and he denied the request to Kirpatrick to bring Diffin to him. Mr. Gregory asked him if he had not received a telegram from Mr. Diffin 24th Nov. and answered it 25th Nov. and gone out shortly after to see Diffin and say he was "doing nicely." He denied this positively.

Mr. Gregory then proved that Diffin did not live at Harvey until 3 weeks after the operation and then he moved to the Hatch house. Diffin and his wife swore that Dow had not seen Diffin before the operation anywhere and that after they went to live at Harvey they telegraphed for him and he came out and visited him and said he was "doing nicely;" and a neighbor named White swore he saw Dow there.

Mr. Gregory then put Dow back again on the stand and he swore that what Diffin and his wife said was untrue, and that he had seen White there; but that he (White) was mistaken about the time and occasion, that it was on the 25th September he was there, and he went out to see a man named Doherty who was living at the Hatch place; and he produced a telegraph despatch of the date from Hatch calling him out there.

Mr. Gregory then sent after the telegraph operator at Harvey, John Rutherford, who produced his record and swore that a telegram had been sent to Dr. Dow by Mr. Diffin 24th November, and answered 25th

Mr Gregory put Mrs. White on the stand and she said she saw Dr. Dow at the Hatch place in September visiting Doherty, and again after sleighing, visiting Diffin.

Mr. Gregory sent all the way to Maine, and brought Frederick Davis in who swore that at Diffins requests he went to Harvey Station to meet Dr. Dow and drove him to Hatches place, 3 miles, to visit Diffin, and after his staying there about 2 hours he drove him back to the station.

Dr. Coleman the St. John oculist swore that the facts stated by Diffin and his witnesses indicated unquestionable "cataract" while he could not tell what the case was from Dows statement of the symptoms, but that whether cataract or ophthalmia the treatment was improper.

C. H. B. Fisher counsel for Dow.

The case was commenced Thursday morning 20th, and continued from day to day till Thursday evening 27th, and now stands adjourned till the first day of March, then to be continued.

FARMER'S PARLIAMENT.

The fifth annual session of the Farmers Association was called to order shortly after 3 o'clock in Chignecto Hall, the 3rd inst. Mr S. L. Peters of Hampstead, Queens, (the Prestdent) was in the chair, and seats on the platform were occupied by Messrs Wedderburn and Inches, who was invited thereto by the meeting. The Secretary, Mr Howard Trueman, being called on, read a paper referring to the various topics that would be discussed at the present meeting. He congratulated the country on the increased prosperity visible in nearly all the branches of business, without saying whether or not this prosperity was due to the National Policy or to other causes. Dealing with the question of the cultivation of wheat, Mr Trueman spoke of the importance of having full information on the subject. He pointed out the necessity of raising the best cattle at minimum cost. As to whether beef or butter and cheese, is the most profitable to the farmers he was of the opinion dairy produce left the most profit. Mr Trueman considered no importance should be attached to the exodus statement—as it has been going on for forty years. The people of Canada are not inferior to those of the United States and the progress and development of the country must still continue to go on. As to annexation nobody wants it. He declared it would be a bold man indeed who looking at the great resources of the country, would say that when the 250th birth day of the commercial capital of New Brunswick arrived, Canada would not be as wealthy and as populous as the neighboring republic. Many of these sentiments were loudly applauded.

SPEECH MAKING

being in order, the President called on Hon Mr Wedderburn, and Mr Inches. These gentlemen made brief speeches The Provincial Secretary intimated that the Government has the importation of stock for

THE MODEL FARM UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Col Beer, from the committee appointed to bring before the Provincial Government the question of establishing a model farm, reported that they consulted the agricultural societies throughout the Province, and had received favorable responses from all heard from except Charlotte. In view of the erection of new parliament buildings and for other reasons it was not considered prudent to press the matter on the Government, but they recommended that the project be again taken up, and it was hoped favorably entertained. A letter from the Provincial Secretary stating that he laid the memorial before the Governor in Council was appended. The report was received. While the Secretary was taking the names of the delegates present, Hon. Mr. Wedderburn reminded the chairman that the representative of the United States at St. John,—a gentleman who was interested in agriculture and in the Provincial Exhibition and in the Pet Stock and Poultry Exhibition, and indeed in everything that is of advantage to St John,—was present, and he thought the members would like to hear him.

GEN. WARNER.

being called upon by the President, said he had been too highly flattered by the Provincial Secretary. He was utterly unprepared to make a speech. He had been interested in agriculture all his life, and he had come to the meeting simply to obtain information—not alone for himself but for his Government. What interests Canada interests the United States: it was a mistake to think their interests were not identical. (Loud applause.)

The election of officers was then proceeded with, the following were chosen:
