Scientific and Popular Medical Works Manhood, Womanhood, & Nervous Diseases,

RING'S
Vegetable Ambrosia
FOR
GRAY HAIR.
This is the AMBROSIA that Ring made.

This is the Cure that lay in the Ambrosia that Ring made.

This is the Man who was bald and gray.
Who now has raven locks, they say,
He used the Cure that lay in the AMBROSIA that Ring made.

This is the Maiden, handsome and
gray.
Who married the man once bald and
gray.
Who now has raven locks, they say,
He used the AMBROSIA that Ring made.

This is the Person, who, by the way, Married the maiden, handsome and
gray.
To the man once bald and gray, But who now has raven locks, they say, Because he used the Cure that lay in the Ambrosia that Ring made.

This is the Bell that rings away To arouse the people and gray Unto this fact, which here does lay—If you would not be bald or gray, Use the AMBROSIA that Ring made.

A Slight Cold,
Cough, Hoarseness
or Sore Throat, which might be checked with a simple remedy, if neglected, often terminates seriously.
Few are aware of the importance of stopping a Cough or Slight Cold in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if not attended to, soon attains the lungs.

Brown's Bronchial Troches were first introduced eleven years ago.
It has been proved that they are the best article before the public for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, the Hooping Cough in Consumption, and numerous affections of the Throat, giving immediate relief.

Public Speakers & Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, at 25 cents per box.

Nov. 16.—1fr.

I heard a story the other night which goes a long way to explain the Duke of Connaught's popularity in the army. One of the Prince's fellow-officers, was about to leave his regiment. Calling to bid him farewell, His Royal Highness was induced to promise him his carte. It was also to arrive on the night before the officer took leave, but it did not come. Early next morning the officer was riding out of barracks, when, just as he reached the gates, he heard his name shouted by a breathless runner. Turning round he saw Prince Arthur, flushed and panting, rushing along at full speed, and holding up, in explanation of his unprincely haste, the promised photograph.

Something had happened to prevent its presentation on the previous night, and the Prince had turned out early in order that with his own lips he might make apology for the apparent breach of promise. Very few men, I imagine, would have taken that trouble about a portrait which could be sent by post, and I doubt if there is another prince of our own or any other reigning family who would have done so. Nobody except a prince, too, could have done it without appearing fussy and un-dignified. But his thoughtfulness and delicacy made his comradem-arms all the prouder. It is no wonder that he is spoken of not only kindly but most enthusiastically.—London Correspondent.

There is a proverb current in northern India which says of any one who meets with unexpected good fortune, that "he was struck with the axe of Mahmood the Chaznevide." This curious saying takes its origin from an historical episode of the first conquest of India. When Mahmood, of Ghazni

(Ghizni), descended upon the Punjab from Afghanistan, entered the city of Somnauth, in which stood the most sacred of all the Hindoo temples, the Brahmin priests met him at the gate of the shrine, offering an enormous ransom if he would but spare their temple and its idol. The eyes of the rapacious Afgahans sparkled at sight of the treasures thus spread before them, and murmurs of approval were heard here and there; but Mahmoud sternly bade them be silent, and pointing to the idol that stood in the midst, shouted "God has raised me up not to traffic in idols but to sweep them from the face of the earth. Behold my answer!" One downright blow of his battle axe sent the heinous image crashing on the pavement, and as it broke asunder out poured heaps of gold and jewels worth fifty-fold the offerred ransom—this strange hiding place being, in fact, the treasury of the cunning Brahmins, who were thus sacrificing a part in order to save the whole.

ROMANCE OF THE YELLOW FEVER.
—One of the thousand and one tragic incidents of the great plague happened at Holly Springs a few days since. A beautiful young lady of New Orleans was forced by her father to marry an old man she could not love. Preferring death to slavery, the young lady ran away and gave her services as nurse to the fever-stricken of Holly Springs. After a few days of devoted attention to the sick she was herself stricken down. There was a male nurse for her, but no female hand to soothe with its gentle touch the fevered brow. But the noble Ridley was there to perform the last sad offices to the dying girl. Towards the last she said to him: "Kiss me." As Ridley kissed her on the cheek she exclaimed: "Kiss my lips," which he did. She then said: "You are the only man I ever kissed; kiss me again." While he was in the act of kissing her, she threw her arms around his neck and then instantly expired.—
