amend the act providing for biennial

Hannington said the proposed amendmaking a change in the present law. Further than that he would not follow Mrs. Chandler. Hon, gentleman, but urged the propriety of electing one Councillor each year for a Farish, the term of office being two years. Thus in parish (-) there are two Councillors, A and B are elected simultaneously, but B the following year goes out and A holds office for two years as does every Councillor after B. Willis, from the tenor of his remarks might be said to have opposed the bill. Wedderburn favored the idea of ananal elections, for within a year there arises matters of much local interest

Adams would, he thought favor the principle of the bill from what he understood of it. The first section he thought was muddy. McManus favored annual election on the principle that it is well to bring those who govern and those governed together to discuss matters of local inoment. He opposed the bill, but agreed Gents' Fur Caps for $1.75, with Hannington that each councillor should retain office for two years. Landry favored the bill, but thought Ladies' Fur Caps, $2,00, the phraseology of it unnecessary. The substitution of the word "biennial" in the original act would serve the object
