THE Globe may rest content about the Speakers ruling. Mr. Stevenson is thoroughly master of his position and cited Mr. Todd's opinion, only as an opinion.

It is not a little strange to note the seeming apathy prevailing among the opposition members since the Grand Southern torpedo exploded. It looks now as if the house is to remain halfasleep for the remainder of the session.

THE New York Herald thinks the ob ject of the tariff is to bring Reciprocity with America, and st. ongly urges Congress to "strike the iron while 'tis hot." At that rate we should soon have another change.

Leader Wnite after getting leave o absence yesterday sat in his chair. The Speaker took him to task, and said in courtesy he should leave the House immediately on being granted leave. H didn't as much as blush or make a move.

PHOTOGRAHS .- Most of those members of the House yesterday, not away on leave, were at the Photograph Saloons. The photograph people say, give the honorable gentlemen anything at all but a picture resembling them and they go away pleased.

THE new tariff has fell like a bombshell among some of the starchy-jointed Lords and Commoners of England. John Bright wants to know it it be true, and the Colonial Secretary, much as it pains him, will answer in the affirmative. Pity for England, is'nt it!

THE FAMILY THAT DONT DRINE TEA .-There is a family of ten persons living in the parish of Queensbury, that only use three pounds of tea in a year. One old lady of the family 85 years of age uses that quantity as a medicine, the rest of the family use hot water and milk al their meals. The old lady raises a small pig for sale with whi h purchase the tea. Very economical that family.

St. John Notes.

ST. PATICK'S DAY IN ST. JOHN .- The day allotted to perpetuate the men ory of Ireland's patron saint was most fire tingly passed. The churches all were open, and at the entrance of each a collection in aid of the orphans was in progress. In our grand cathedral the solemnly impressive ceremony of high mass was performed. Following the mass, Father Meenan paid a graceful and affectionate tribute to the saint, wno, anaided save by a profusion of God's richest gifts, supplanted through out a whole nation, the idol by the cross-a consum tion compared with which the vaunted deeds of the world's greatest neroes fade into nothingness. The tenacity with which the Catho ic Irisa adhere to the taith thus implanted was also taken as a theme, and expatiated on in terms of admiration. Dur ing the most sacred part of the service, and while all in the thronged edine" were bowed in adoration, a rullian pas ser-by raised the cry of "fire." For a crief space there were the usual indications which prologue the catastrophe; then the many cool, sensible people present succeeded in stemming the tide of surging humanity, and restoring order, thus promptly quelling what indeed would have been a disastrous Opportunities were not wanting of spending the evening of the joyous day in an appropriate manter.
