Saved a Life.

Erysipelas and Impure Blood Were Doing Their Deadly Work.

Paine's Celery Compound Gives Mrs. Gallagher a New Lease of Life.

Exposure to cold, indigestion and dyspepsia, debility, impure blood, rundown system, living in badly ventilated rooms and poor surrounding hygienic conditions, are all causes of erysipelas. It will afford comfort to thousands to know that, with ordinary care and the use of Paine's Celery Compound, the many dangers of erysipelas can be entirely avoided. When any of the symptoms above are noted, promptness in the use of Paine's Celery Compound will quickly banish all dangers. If, unfortunately, you are subject to the disease and have not used Dr. Phelps' great prescription, we say, with a desire for your welfare, give Paine's Celery Compound an instant trial, so that you may be able to fully judge of its worth.

Mrs. John Gallagher, Marbleton, P. Q., one of the many saved from death by Paine's Celery Compound, writes as follows: "In the winter of 1897 I had a severe attack of erysipelas. At the same time my blood was out of order, I was completely rundown and so weak that I could not stand alone. I commenced at once to use your Paine's Celery Compound, and after taking five bottles I was greatly benefited, and seemed to take a new lease of life. I know from experience that Paine's Celery Compound is possessed of all the merits claimed for it, and I will recommend it to all suffering from erysipelas, headache or stomach troubles. I also consider Paine's Celery Compound the greatest of all blood purifiers. I keep some of the Compound at all times in my house, and use it as a family medicine."

Chipman.

Dec. 19.—The semi-annual examination of the Superior School of Chipman, was held on Friday last, in the presence of a large number of visitors from the village and adjoining districts. The occasion was marked by more than usual interest from the fact that the retiring principal, Mr. L. H. Crandall, was to be presented with an address, accompanied by a gift, from the pupils of the Superior school. The pupils of both departments met together in the front room, and all the available space was occupied by the following visitors:—Mrs. W. E. McIntyre, Mrs. D. McFarlane, Miss Mabel Harper, Mrs. R. Hetherington, Mr. and Mrs. John Malloy, Miss Ethel Orchard, Mrs. Harry Butler, Dr. Nugent, Dr. and Mrs. Hay, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. King, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crandall, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Daigle, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilson, Mrs. Arthur Orchard, Mrs. John Orchard, Mrs. Andrew Darrab, Mrs. L. H. Crandall, Mr. Wm. Morrison, Miss Maud Brockhouse, Miss Della Darrab, Miss Laura Darrab, Miss Issie Darrab, Miss McCollum, Miss Gladys McCollum, Miss Alma Wilson, Miss Annie Morrison, Mr. Fred King, Mr. Walter Orchard, Mr. Berton Brockhouse, Miss Bertie Morrison and Mr. Gamble.

Of the 68 pupils enrolled, 63 were present. And notwithstanding the large number of juveniles and adults present, the affable trustee, Mr. Angus Daigle, who acted as usher, was equal to the occasion, and succeeded in making ample accommodation for all.

A large number of pupils in the advanced department are making good progress in the higher branches, embracing Algebra, Geometry, Latin, Botany, etc., and the handsome cabinet set supplied by the Department at Ottawa, furnishes object lessons in Mineralogy and kindred subjects. The school is well supplied with maps, a large globe, Yaggy's chart, Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, with thumb index, a thermometer and other apparatus required in a Superior school, and it goes without saying that the other Superior schools of the County will have to look to their laurels if they are not left behind in the laudable race of literary attainments. Among the pupils deserving of honorable mention are Master Robbie Flewelling, who read an original paper on Evangeline, and Miss Maude Harper, who also read an excellent paper on the same subject.

The little tots in the Primary Department under the tuition Miss Olive Fairweather, elicited much praise from the visitors present, and showed that the teacher's whole soul was in the work entrusted to her care.

At the conclusion of the interesting program, Miss Lucinda Orchard came forward and read the following address:

To Mr. L. H. Crandall of the Superior School Chipman:

DEAR TEACHER.—It is with a feeling of sadness that we your pupils beg leave to present you this address on your retirement from the charge of our school.

During the time of your stay among us, your example and influence, both as a teacher and a gentleman, have left abiding impressions for good upon those that have attained the grades under your care. The work of the school has been marked with efficiency and order in all its departments, while we as scholars will long feel that we owe a just tribute to you for the very helpful influences you have cast about us to encourage all to higher and nobler aims in life.

Permit us also to add a word in reference to Mrs. Crandall, whose work and influence, with your own, have materially aided in the "social development of the young people of the village. To her, as well as yourself, we feel greatly indebted for many encouraging acts of kindness, which will undoubtedly be a stimulus for good to every pupil in his and her future course in life. In addition to wishing you and Mrs. Crandall the compliments of the season allow us to present you a slight memento of the esteem in which you are regarded by us.

In behalf of the School,
LUCINDA ORCHARD.

The memento was in the form of a handsome Persian wool cap, valued at $7.50. Mr. Crandall was visibly affected by the presentation and address from his scholars, and made an appropriate reply in which he thanked the scholars for their kindness towards himself and Mrs. Crandall, and assured them that the memory of such reminiscence would be fondly cherished by both in after years. Brief addresses were delivered by Mr. Elmer E. Crandall, trustee, and Dr. Nugent of Briggs' Corner.

The exercises of the school were brought to a close by the National Anthem and a liberal treat of candy to the children.

The closing examination of Briggs' Corner school, in charge of Miss Small takes place next Friday at the close of the term, and a cordial invitation is extended to all who may find it convenient to attend.

A fair Christmas present awaits Mr. John Garvey when he arrives at his home at Gaspareaux next Christmas Eve, duly labeled "John James Garvey, Junior," making the third addition to his family of young hopefuls.

Hon. L. P. Farris was in the village Friday night the guest of Dr. Hay, his Chipman. A Merry Xmas is extended to the Editor and staff including the intelligent host of readers belonging to the GAZETTE family scattered in many lands.

Dec. 26.—A very pleasant affair took place last Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. R. Ward, when her daughter Maggie was united in marriage to Mr. J. W. McKiel, of St. John. The auspicious evening was hailed with pleasure by a goodly number of invited guests who had assembled on time in the comfortable parlor where the marriage ceremony was about to be performed. The bride was neatly attired in a suit of blue broadcloth silk with ribbon to match. The Rev. D. McD. Clarke tied the nuptial knot and at the close the bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents. The wedding guests partook of a sumptuous tea and before the feast was ended the nightly serenade was taken up by a youthful band from the village, who had come armed with such weapons that are best calculated to make a successful charivari. Mr. and Mrs. McKiel intend to take passage on the Central line next Tuesday for St. John, their future home, and will carry with them the kind regards of their many friends in Chipman.

The half-yearly examination of the school at Briggs' Corner in charge of Miss Small, was held on the 22nd inst. The sixteen or seventeen visitors present served to show that parents are every year taking a greater interest in education and their attendance on such occasion helps to encourage both pupils and teachers in relieving the monotony of the school room. The six grades in the school were severally examined in the various branches taught during the term, and the teacher, after thoroughly testing the scholars, gave liberty to the visitors to cross examine the pupils and such tests made it manifest to all that the children were not crammed for the occasion, but that the work professed to be done was well performed. Miss Small, who holds a first class license, will continue in charge of this school after the holidays and large number of pupils will be enrolled next term.

The King Lumber Company are running their new factory for planing, matching and moulding. Six or seven hands are employed from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. who plane 7 or 8m feet a day of uniform and smooth lumber. When the evening shadow begins to fall the building is brilliantly lit up by electricity and the work goes on as in day time. The windows and frames for the two new churches of the village are being made by the factory and are the equal of any manufactured in the city. The same firm are also engaged on a water tank intended to be employed in making the logging road in the woods icy during the winter. The dimensions of the tank will be 10 ft. 4 inches long, 4 ft. 4 inches wide, and 3 ft. 6 inches high, and from this the clever readers of the GAZETTE may calculate the capacity of tank and the weight of water it will hold.

Mrs. Malloy, nee Miss Carrie Briggs, has arrived with her husband from Manitoba to spend a couple of months among her friends in Chipman.

Mr. Leslie McInnis, who stands upwards of six feet high, is one of the few men who can chop his hundred logs a day. Leslie, who is out of the woods for Christmas, is anxious to meet any woodsman worthy of his steel and if no one accepts this modest challenge, he will claim the title of being the champion axeman of Queens.

May all the readers of our fair organ the QUEENS COUNTY GAZETTE be not only filled with good cheer this Christmastide but drink in a large measure the happiness in store for the year 1899.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or liver trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at any Drug Store.

Christmas Eve was celebrated here by the arrival of Santa Claus. The Christmas tree which was spoken of in one of your issues, presented a very beautiful appearance. The Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, all the adjoining villages being well represented. Much credit is due the Sunday School pupils and many others for the presents for the tree. Special mention should be made of the valuable assistance rendered by Mrs. Geo. B. Nevers and Miss Emma White in their choice selections for the program, which was as follows:

Opening Chorus—Happy Greetings to All.
Recitation, "No Room for the Stranger," Miss Lulu Slipp.
Recitation, "Marjorie," Miss Annie Oakley.
Song, "There cometh a song," Mrs. George B. Nevers.
Recitation, "Calling the young ones," Miss Idella Sharp.
Chorus—Christmas Tree.

While singing the latter Santa Claus made his appearance. All eyes were immediately turned upon the aged gentleman, clothed in furs, with flowing white beard and jingling bells. He at last succeeded in getting through the Hall and teaching the tree. He received loud applause. He then proceeded to distribute the presents to the numerous recipients. This he did in a most graceful manner. Some stated that he was just the man to (De Witt) do it. It took considerable time to gather all the presents, and much credit is due the many waiting visitors for the order maintained during the evening. The crowd dispersed by singing "God Save the Queen."

St. James church was crowded on Christmas night to listen to the beautiful words spoken by the Pastor, Rev. A. J. Gollner. The trimmings on the church made it present a very neat appearance, much to the credit of those who had part therein. Special music for the occasion was successfully carried out. Mrs. Gollner was organist.
