Prof. Robertson has lately been addressing meetings in the dairy interests in this County. Tomorrow evening he speaks in Stanley, and will then proceed to Sunbury to address the farmers of Mangerville and Sheffield.

A SOCIAL EVENT.—In referring to an important social event in Halifax last week the Echo says that Archbishop O'Brien on Thursday evening, entertained Sir John Ross, [Sir George Watson, Governor Daley, and a number of the principal naval and military men and civilians of that place. Among the guests was Charles G. D. Roberts, who is so well known among literary people both in America and England, and who is to bring out a new volume of poems at the beginning of the year.

DANGER AHEAD.—At the close of every recent entertainment in the City Hall the egress of the people was retarded at the outer door on account of only a portion of the doorway being open. Everybody seemed to complain about it night after night but as no formal complaint was forwarded to headquarters the double doors remained closed. This might prove to be a serious oversight in the event of alarm and confusion, and after every entertainment the freest egress should be provided.

"My Daughter's Life"

The Chief took part in several of the discussions and contributed much to the success of the Institute. Among others who addressed the teachers were Rev. B. H. Thomas, Rev. Wm. Dobson, and Hon. Wm. Lindsay.

ENTERTAINMENT.—Prohibition Orange Temperance Lodge held a very enjoyable social on Monday evening in the Orange hall. The hall was well filled and evidently enjoyed themselves, particularly during that part of the entertainment when they adjourned to the ante-room and partook of a report served up by the ladies of the lodge. Addresses were made by the chairman, W. H. Anderson, H. H. Pitts, Wm. Rossborough and others. Music was provided by the ladies of the lodge, and a duet was sung by Miss Haviland and Miss Winters.

FINE VIEWS.—Struthers' stereopticon views exhibited in City Hall last week were very fine, the oxy-ether calcium light producing a brilliant and at same time soft light that was pleasing to the eye. A very large and delighted audience was present, and the views were simply magnificent. The entertainment began with a collection of landscapes, battles, towers, illustrations of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," and "From Greenlands Icy Mountains." The second part was "The Life of Christ," illustrated by copies of paintings found in the art galleries and cathedrals of Europe and in the Vatican.

Again on Sunday night the hall was filled to witness the beautiful scenes in the Life of Christ.

A YANKEE YARN.—One of the latest American despatches says that a Treasury agent has received advices from his inspectors that are now watching the Canadian border to the effect that there are 10,000 Celestials in Vancouver and along the line of the Canadian Pacific railway who are suffering for the want of food. "Chinamen in unprecedented numbers are being landed at Vancouver" said Mr. Scanlan, "and they are unable to obtain employment, or food. The vast number of arrivals, I believe is the result of a notice spread among the Chinese by an influential Chinaman that returned home that it is very easy to get into the United States. I believe also that the Canadian government is assisting Celestials into the country in order to get the $50 per head they are compelled to pay."

Around the Square.

Business had a brisk appearance in Phoenix Square on Saturday. It was a big market day and at times was difficult for ladies to pass through the crowd of teams as they were standing in all positions. There was a good supply of country produce all of which was rapidly sold. Poultry was in great demand and brought good prices, and lamb and mutton of excellent quality. Mr. Wetmore took advantage of the presence of such a crowd of farmers and appeared to have an endless supply of household effects which he rattled off in his usual fluent style. Bargains were given and purchasers were kept in good humor. Some Government stock were resold and the poor animals were subject to close inspection and keen criticism by the knowing ones. The first animal sold was an Ayrshire heifer bid in at the late Government sale but the purchaser never turned up. This animal was purchased by Julius L. Inches, secretary for agriculture, for $21. The two Ayrshire bulls sold to Agricultural Society No. 34 were the other two animals. John Murray of Kingsclear, was the purchaser of one for $19; E. E. Goodspeed bought the other for $21.

Think it Over.

If citizens generally would make up their minds to pay their little bills scattered through the town so far as their funds in hand would allow, a wonderful change would be felt in business circles at once. At this season of the year merchants and all persons engaged in any kind of business need every dollar they can control to keep themselves right at the banks and to meet engagements falling due. While many persons owe small bills for groceries or dry goods and haven't a spare dollar to pay scores and hundreds of others could pay their little bills today just as well as not. Think it over and make your neighbors happy by paying up the dollar and five dollar accounts, not forgetting that little bill for the newspaper, and help the creditor along by trying to pay five per cent. this week on that long standing account. You'll feel much better yourself. It was only the other day a business man said "I have been in business eleven years and have on my books trusted out over $17,000 most of which has accumulated during the past six years. If any person will give me $5,000 I will assign all of these accounts over to him. This seems a little hard, but I believe it would be a good bargain. The credit system has ruined many business men and caused good customers to become frauds." It also is a tax on the cash buyer.

The Young Monument.

An interesting event in St. John last Friday was the acceptance by the Mayor of the Fred Young memorial monument in the presence of hundreds of visitors. In describing the event the Sun says that shortly before three o'clock Capt. Godard's company of the 62nd Fusiliers, that to which Young formerly belonged, headed by the regiment band, marched in and took up their position facing the monument. They were soon followed by the boys of the fifth grade from Leinster street school, the schoolmates of the unfortunate Fred Munde, who occupied the speakers' stand. According to the English custom of opening ceremonies, the first on the programme was God Save the Queen by the band. This was followed by the formal presentation of the monument to the city by John Rogerson on behalf of the contractors. Mayor Peters replied in behalf of the city in an eloquent address, after which Rev. George Bruce, pastor of St. David's church, of which the hero was a member, delivered the oration of the day. This was followed by a fantasia of hymns by the band, the school children joining in singing two verses specially composed for the occasion. The two last verses of Onward Christian Soldiers were also sung by the children to the accompaniment of the band. Messrs. H. A. McKeown, Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Sons of Temperance, and D. McNally, of the Temple of Honor, of which organizations Young had been a member, delivered addresses, after which Rev. Dr. Macrae led in the prayer and the ceremonies closed with the playing of "Rule Britannia" by the band.

That valuable cow belonging to Mr. A. D. Thomas which took 1st prize at late exhibition, died on Monday from the effects of eating frozen green stuff in the field. She was valued at $60.

THE NUPTIAL KNOT.—A happy event occurred in the Dufferin Hotel, St. John, on Monday evening where Rev. G. W. McDonald and Rev. Dr. McLeod united in the bonds of wedlock Fred. H. Hale, ex-M. P. and Miss Faulkner, of Woodstock. Both bride and groom are especial favorites in their large circle of acquaintances, and the former recently returned from successful missionary work in India. Mr. and Mrs. Hale have undertaken a short trip to the upper Provinces.

IN THE CATHEDRAL.—Only a few of the intimate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the marriage in the Cathedral yesterday afternoon of Robert Swim, Esq., of Doaktown and Miss Frances I. Ross, lately of the Model School teaching staff. His Lordship the Metropolitan performed the ceremony that made two hearts beat as one. Mr. and Mrs. Swim left for their home on the Canada Eastern at 3.30 o'clock, and take with them the best wishes of many friends.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Our citizens were saddened to learn of the sudden death on Monday of George McGinn, son of Mr. Patrick McGinn. George was bookkeeper in the dry goods store of Dever Bros. and not feeling well that morning sent word to his employer that he would remain home until next day. He remained in bed all the morning and feeling better he dressed and walked down stairs about one o'clock. When at the bottom of the stairs he fell over and at once expired. For some time deceased suffered from affection of the heart, and its failure caused his death.

Hallowe'en.

The indiscriminate destruction of property for two or three years on Hallowe'en prompted the police magistrate to render assistance to private citizens last Saturday night. Several specials were on duty and very little damage was done. Everybody says the boys behaved well and so they ought, for it is mistaken fun to make people open their purses to repair damage done during a night frolic. The college boys came to town about ten o'clock and after a little parade and a little singing quietly dispersed to their homes, after they had serenaded their old friend Mr. E. H. Wilmot. During the night some colored men were having a frolic and being interfered with by some white trash one of them discharged some shots from a revolver in a most careless manner, a bullet grazed the neck of Harry Finemore. Some of the boys caused trouble by the removal of window shutters from stores and houses and carried away some gates, but taken altogether the night passed off very well. An alarm of fire failed to disturb the people for it was expected all the evening.

They Said Good-bye.

A most interesting scene was witnessed in the Model School on Friday afternoon. It was in connection with the withdrawal from the staff of Miss Frances I. Ross, who was understood would in a day or two be married to a well known resident of Doaktown. After recess in the afternoon there was considerable commotion among the little ones, and Miss Vega Creed stepped up to Miss Ross and began reading an address overflowing with love to the teacher when she broke down and the break was so contagious that in a moment all were crying. Mr. Rogers, Miss Harvey, and Miss MacLeod came to the rescue, and Vega again began and bravely completed her task. Little Roy Morrison on behalf of the school, then handed Miss Ross an elegant silver salver and pickle dish. Miss Bessie Blair from the boys and girls in Mr. Rogers' department, manifested their love for their former teacher by presenting her with a beautiful garnet plush case containing a silver butter knife and sugar spoon. Miss Ross was naturally affected by such tokens of love and most appropriately thanked the little ones for their interest in her behalf. Subsequently the members of the Normal and Model teaching staff met Miss Ross in the Library when Principal Mullin in their behalf presented her with a handsome marble clock, after which an hour was spent most pleasantly together. Miss Ross was also the recipient of a very flattering address from the School Trustees recognizing her long and faithful services.

Mrs. Dr. Sharp, of Marysville, was an interested witness of the presentations, and the older children hailed the presence of their former teacher with delight. As the event was kept very quiet only a few spectators were present.

Miss Galt who succeeds Miss Ross was detained in Moncton by illness, but arrived in time to take charge of the school yesterday.
