To Clean Chess out of Seed Wheat.

We commend the following to every wheat grower who believes that wheat will turn to chess. The simple fact that the writer (and many others have done the same thing), has eradicated chess from his farm, is sufficient to show the fallacy of the popular belief that "chess is only degenerated wheat." We have given great attention to this matter for more than twenty years, and we have never been able to find an instance of the conversion of wheat to chess, and the result of these investigations has convinced us that no such instances occur.
