

appeared in flames from stem to stern, and there was no doubt that many of those on board had in their anxiety to save themselves from fire, met a watery grave.

We are informed that there were shipped about three hundred and thirty emigrants from the "John McKenzie," from the Clyde, besides several German families, 50 raftsmen and others, who, with the crew made up about four hundred souls.

The lost are estimated at between one hundred and fifty and two hundred and twenty five. Up to the hour of our going to Press we have only heard of the recovery of nine bodies.

MONEY RAGS.—The London Prototype says that a citizen of London C. W., having a one dollar bill of the Bank of British North America, which had been partially defaced by being torn, although bearing the name of the cashier perfect on it, presented the same at the counter of the bank, and was refused payment.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S INTENDED SON-IN-LAW.—The Prince of Prussia is a fine looking young man, in height about five feet nine inches. His deportment is exceedingly dignified. His complexion is naturally fair, although his face is slightly browned by out-door sports and exercise.

The woman who made a pound of butter from the cream of a joke, and a cheese from the milk of human kindness, has since washed the close of a year and hung 'em up to dry on a b e line.

The crops of sugar in Porto Rico is a million pounds more this year than it was in 1856, molasses 220,000 gallons more, coffee 300,000 pounds more.

THE WAY THEY USE DRUNKARDS IN AUSTRIAN ARMY.—The first and second time that a soldier is reported for intoxication, he is punished and admonished. If he gets drunk a third time, he is locked up, receiving his usual food, perhaps with the admixture of a little more salt than usual; but as to drink, receives nothing but whiskey, and as much of that as he chooses.

"How many deaths?" asked the hospital physician. "Nine." "Why, I ordered medicine for ten." "Yes, but one would not take it."

Moss will grow upon graves sterner, the ivy will cling to the mouldering pile; the mistletoe springs from the dying branch; and, God be praised, something green, something fair to the sight, and grateful to the heart, will yet twine around and grow out of the seams and cracks of the desolate temple of the human heart.

The nerve which never relaxes, the eye which never blanches, the thought which never wanders—these are the masters of victory.

FACETIE.

The latest sill of the day originated in the fertile brain of a Baltimore clothes dealer. He placed in the pocket of a ready made coat an old portemonnaie, and quietly awaits the advent of a fitting customer.

"Here is a coat made for a gentleman; he wore it a day and sent it back; it was too small for him; try it on. Ah! it fits first rate, like as if it was made for you. It is well made; buttons sewed on strong; with strong pockets."

The customer puts his hands into the pockets to try them, when his fingers come in contact with the pocketbook. His imagination is kindled with the idea of appropriating the supposed treasure.

"How much did you say the coat was?" he eagerly asks.

The dealer names a good round sum.

"It suits me—I'll take it," is the quick reply.

The money is paid, and the self duped customer walks off hurriedly with his supposed prize—not stopping to hear the suppressed chuckle of the dealer as he looks after him out of the corner of his eye.

Boileau, being frequently called upon by an idle ignorant person, who complained to him that he did not return his visits, "Sir," said the French satirist, "we are not upon equal terms. You call upon me merely to get rid of your time; when I call upon you I lose mine."

The only class of men in the world who are not in the habit of disparaging their neighbors are the assessors of taxes; for they never "underrate" any body in the slightest degree.

Perhaps there never was a more perfectly quiet, yet most effective rebuke, than was given by a distinguished Methodist minister to a young member of his flock: "Brother Blank, we are always pleased to hear you speak in the prayer meeting, and we hope you will continue to do so; but I advise you to be brief as possible; and if you should happen to be too brief, the brethren will tell you!" He was never found too brief.

A man from the country, whose wife had eloped and carried off the feather bed, was in Louisville in search of them—not that he cared any thing about the wife, "but the feathers," said he, "them's worth forty eight cents a pound."

"Margery, what did you do with that tallow that Mr. Jones greased his boots with this morning?" "Please, marm, I baked the griddle cakes with it." "You did; I thought you had wasted it."

Special Notices.

LETTER FROM A WELL-KNOWN PHYSICIAN.—Ipswich, Mass., June 1, 1856.—S. W. FOWLER & Co.—Gentlemen: While suffering from Dyspepsia some years since, and trying almost everything for its removal without any benefit, I was accidentally led to make use of the "Oxygenated Bitters," and, after a short trial of them, found my health improving, and in time my disease radically removed.

I would certainly advise those troubled with Dyspepsia to use the Bitters; and I am confident all who do so will reap great benefit, if there is nothing to contra-indicate their use. A. R. PORTER, M.D. W. T. BAIRD, Agent for Woodstock. Sold by dealers generally.

JONAS WHITCOMB'S REMEDY FOR ASTHMA.—Boston, August 4th, 1853.—Mr. BURNETT.—Dear Sir: The Remedy for Asthma, which you prepared, has given me such great and speedy relief that I cannot refrain from thanking you for it.

My sufferings for many years were dreadful; often depriving me of rest, both day and night, for many weeks together, so that my life became almost a burden to me, and I expected to suffer as long as my life lasted. I tried every hitherto known remedy within my reach, with little or no good effect. Last March, Whitcomb's Remedy, prepared by yourself, was recommended to me. The first dose quite relieved me; since that time a teaspoonful of the Compound, taken whenever I have felt any Asthmatic symptoms, has in every instance relieved me. Believe me, sir, no consideration would tempt me to be with out a bottle of your Asthma medicine. I am, &c., W. S. LINCOLN.

Prepared by JOSEPH BURNETT & CO., Boston. For sale by dealers generally. Price, $1 00 per bottle.

COUGHS AND COLDS.—At this season of the year, when coughs and colds are so prevalent, a reliable remedy in such cases is important to all the afflicted. Of Dr. Stone's medicine, which will be found advertised in our paper, the Montreal Pilot says:

The astonishing demand for G. W. Stone's Cough Medicine, and its complete success in curing a host of the throat and lungs, fully prove that we were justified in recommending it to our readers on its introduction to the public; and we can safely assert that no remedy has ever become so deservedly popular in the same space of time.—Lancet News.

MESSRS. P. DAVIS & SON—Gents:—

Before I left Mergul, both Karens and Burmans had found out the value of your Pain Killer, and I could readily have disposed of a large quantity of it among them. It seems particularly efficacious in cholera morbus, bowel complaints, and other diseases to which the natives of Burmah, from their unwholesome style of living, are peculiarly exposed. It is a valuable antidote to the poison of Centipedes, Scorpions, Horvets, and the like. I have been twice stung by Scorpions, and in both cases eased the most excruciating pain and entirely prevented the swelling by applying the Pain Killer. On our voyage homeward from India, the Captain of the ship was taken with vomiting and purging and other symptoms of cholera. I gave him a good dose of Pain Killer with the most immediate and happy results. So entire and speedy was the relief that he assured me he would never again go a voyage without your excellent medicine, if he could possibly procure it. Respectfully yours,

REV. J. BENJAMIN, Late Missionary to Burmah. Sold by Druggists and Medicine Dealers generally, and at Dr. Smith's Drug Store, Woodstock.

A GREAT BLESSING TO THE AFFLICTED.

Dr. M'Lane, the inventor of the celebrated Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa., used these Pills for several years in his practice, before he could be induced to offer them to the public in such a manner as to make them known throughout the country. This learned physician felt the same repugnance that all high-minded men of science feel in entering the lists against unscrupulous empirics who obtrude their useless nostrums upon the public, and rely upon a system of puffing to sustain them. Convinced, however, of the real value of the Liver Pills, and influenced by the plain dictates of duty, the Doctor finally authorized Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., who are now the sole proprietors, to manufacture and place them before the public.

This great medicine has not disappointed the expectations of his friends, the medical faculty, at whose instance he was induced to place them before the public in their present popular form. From every quarter do we hear the most gratifying accounts of their wonderful curative effects: the East and the West, the North and the South, are alike laden with "tidings of great joy" from the afflicted. These wonderful Pills have completely conquered that great scourge of America, the Liver Complaint.

Purchasers will please be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Liver Pills, manufactured by FLEMING BROS., of Pittsburgh, Pa. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Liver Pills, also his Celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores.—None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.

Messrs. FELLOWS & CO. This is to certify that my little boy, aged six years, having been much troubled with worms, of late, I administered four of your Worm Lozenges, as per directions, and in nine hours after he was free of all worms. These Lozenges are particularly valuable, as the children are fond of them. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of others.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.

Extraordinary Cure of Erysipelas.—Mrs. Emma Rowcroft, aged 42, of St. Paul, Minnesota Territory, suffered severely from periodical attacks of Erysipelas in the face, to which she appeared to have a constitutional predisposition. In July last she had a return of the complaint, with unusually violent and dangerous symptoms, and, under the advice of a friend from New York, obtained a lot of Holloway's Ointment, and applied it according to the directions. The result amazed as well as delighted the unfortunate sufferer and her family. The inflammatory symptoms subsided, the redness faded in the course of a few days to a yellowish hue, and the outline, or scurf skin, on the parts affected, came off in the form of a whitish scurf. A second box completed the cure, leaving neither scar nor blotch on his face. The Pills are as efficacious in subduing internal disease, as the Ointment is in removing all external disorders. W. T. BAIRD, Agent for Woodstock.
