"Why, Christopher," began Herr Peterhoff, turning to his young friend, " we Norwegians are very primitive in our habits, and like to remain as our fathers left us; and it is only in the towns that any change takes place at all, for in the mountains, things remain stock still; and each parish is known by its costume; and some of the dresses have come down unaltered in fashion or material for several hundred years. That strite (farmer or peasant) with his breeches and stockings all of one piece, and his loose jerkin of wadmel and braided waiscoat, comes from the Salten Fiord ; that Herdanger beside him, as you see, wears all black, with a Bangor. bordering of red; the man in black and yellow is from Sogneford : so we know by his colors where the strile comes from ; but as every Norwe nesday, and Saturday, at 4 P. M. gian is his own smith and carpenter, each one has got his axe, saw, and gimblet hanging in a chain by his side."-(Concluded next week.),

* The Norwegian' housewives are justly proud of their bread-making; they bake but seldom, and their bread will generally keep good a year. It is a common custom to bake bread at the christening of their first child, and preserve it for the feast given on the coming of age or marriage of the child.

It abounds largely in the phosphates, and such is its fertility that from the crops produced both upon this land and the large area adjoining under cultivation it will be found not to be excelled anywhere in the production of rops most adapted to its market, such as Corn, Potatoes, Oats, and all kinds of Vegetables and Fruits generally, particularly for truck-ing, both on account of the nature of the soil, and its being directly in the Philadelphia market. It also abounds with the best quality of Muck Manure. It is directly upon the borders of the great agri-cultural district which supplies the New York and Philadelphia markets, embracing a population of several millions, and where, as may be ascertained from the census reports, farms are the most va-luable of any in the Union. All in this neighborhood are exceed-ingly productive and profitable. Some of this land is now under tivation Land can be procured already cleared, or partly tim bered ; also under cultivation. Houses are already built and for sale, which will answer the temporary wants of the settler.

This location is perfectly healthy ; fever and ague is unknown. The first division of 10,000 acres has been laid out, and immedi-ately adjoins the town of Hammonton. Some is under cultivationseveral thousand acres have been cleared for farms; it can at once be placed in a state of productiveness; it is coursed by fine streams of soft and pure water; it is being opened by a number of turnpike roads leading into the town. The price of this is from twelve to twenty dollars per acre-payable within four years, by monthly in stalments of from five to ten dollars for twenty acres; larger Farme in proportion. Everything is on hand to supply settlers-steam and water power saw-mills are in operation. Lumber can be had at a water power saw-mills are in operation. Lumber can be had at a cheap price. A good house can be built at from $300 to $500. A brick yard is about being established, and a lateral Rail Road, three-fourths of a mile in length, is under contract, to supply Hammon-ton with stone from the adjacent quarries; stores, workshops, &c., are about being opened. A number of dwellings are already built; also a church, school-house, &c. It is intended to expend a hundred thousand dollars more in improvements, such as buildings, turnnike roads. &c turnpike roads, &c.

The situation of the place is picturesque and beautiful. It is on the borders of Lake Hammonton, and is laid out in walks and groves. A beautiful Oak Park along the shores of the Lake is intended to be reserved for pu in Town Lots, the cost of which is from $25 to $100. A Company has been organized to build houses and clear farms upon credit, as soon as the property is sold. This will enable many to improve who cannot personally attend to it. Arrangements can at once be made to have houses built and farms placed in order by persons at Hammonton. Owing to a great part being cleared, farms can be made immediately productive - when done, they will pay four-fold the cost.

In settling here the emigrant has many advantages: He is within a few hours ride of the great cities in the Middle States and New England. He is near his old friends and associations. He is in a SETTLED country, where every improvement and comfort of civilization is at hand. He is in a HEALTHY place, and is not subject to the certainty of losing the greater part of his family, and his own health by those malignant fevers, which make the graves of so many housands of the young and the hardy, in far off regions, away from home and friends.

This presents a rare opportunity to the industrious-it enables all who wish to better their condition to become independent. It will soon be taken up, and, owing to its rapid improvements, it will greatly enhance in valve. This would all have been settled before had it not been held by large proprietors, who could not until re-cently dispose of it in a manner to suit the farmer and actual settler.
