THE SLOGAN OF THE HIGLANDERS.—The following is an extract from a letter written by M. de Banneroi, a French physician, in the service of Mussur Rajah, and published in Le Pays (Paris paper) under the date of Calcutta, Oct. 8 :—" I give you the following account of the relief of Lucknow, as described by a lady, one of the rescued party; " On every side death stared us in the face; no human skill could avert it any longer. We saw the moment approach when we must bid farewell to earth, yet without feeling that unutterable horror which must have been experienced by the unhappy victims of Cawnpore. We were resolved to die rather than to yield, and were fully persuaded that in 24 hours all would be over. The engineers had said so, and all knew the worst. We women strove to encourage each other, and so perform the light duties which had been assigned to us, such as conveying orders to the batteries and supplying the men with provisions, especially cups of coffee, which we prepared day and night. I had gone out to try and make myself useful, in company with Jessie Brown, the wife of a Corporal in my husband's regiment. Poor Jessie had been in a state of restless excitement all through the siege, and had fallen away visibly within the last few days. A constant fever consumed her, and her mind wandered occasionally, especially that day, when the recollections of home seemed powerfully present to her. At last, overcome with fatigue, she lay down on the ground, wrapped up in her plaid. I sat beside her, promising to awaken her when, as she said, " her father should return from the ploughing." She fell at length into a profound slumber, motionless, and apparently breathless, her head resting in my lap. I myself could no longer resist the inclination to sleep, in spite of the continual roar of the cannon. Suddenly I was aroused by a wild unearthly scream close to my ear; my companion stood upright beside me, her arms raised, and her head bent forward in the attitude of listening. A look of intense delight broke over her countenance, she grasped my hand, drew me towards her, and exclaimed, " Dinna ye hear it? dinna ye hear it? Ah, I'm no dreamin', it's the slogan * o' the Highlanders! We're saved, we're saved!" Then flinging herself on her knees, she thanked God with passionate fervour.

I felt utterly bewildered: my English ears heard only the roar of the artillery, and I thought my poor Jessie was still raving; but she darted to the batteries, and I heard her cry incessantly to the men, " Courage! courage! hark to the slogan,—to the Macgregor, the grandest of them a'. Here's help at last!" To describe the effect of these words upon the soliders would be impossible. For a moment they ceased firing, and every soul listened in intense anxiety. Gradually, however there arose a murmur of bitter disappointment, and the wailing of the women who had flocked to the spot burst out anew as the colonel shook his head. Our dull lowland ears heard nothing but the rattle of the musketry. A few moments more of this death like snspense, of this agonizing hope, and Jessie, who had again sunk on the ground, sprang to her feet and cried, in a voice so clear and piercing that it was heard along the whole line—" Will ye no believe it noo? The slogan has ceased indeed, but the Campbells are comin'? D'ye hear, d'ye hear!' At that moment we seemed to hear the voice of God in the distance, when the pibroch of the Highlanders brought us tidings of deliverance, for now there was no longer any doubt of the fact. That shrill, penetrating ceaseless sound, which rose above all other sounds, could come neither from the advance of the enemy, nor from the work of the sappers. No, it was indeed the blast of the Scottish bagpipes, now shrill and harsh, as threatening vengeance on the foe, then in softer tones seeming to promise succor to their friends in need. Never surely was there such a scene as that which followed. Not a heart in the residency of Lucknow but bowed itself before God. All, by one simultaneous impulse, fell upon their knees, and nothing was heard but bursting sobs and the murmured voice of prayer. Then all arose, and there rang out from a thousand lips a great shout of joy which resounded far and wide, and lent new vigor to that blessed pibroch. To our cheer of " God save the Queen," they replied by the well known strain that moves every Scot to tears, " Should auld acquaintance be forgot," &c. After that nothing else made any impression on me. I scarcely remember what followed. Jessie was presented to the General on his entrance into the fort, and at the officers' banquet her health was drank by all present, while the pipers marched around the table playing once more the familiar air of " Auld lang syne."

* The War-cry.

" I reckon I couldn't drive a trade with you today, squire!" said a "genuine" specimen of a Yankee pedler, as he stood at the door of a merchant in St. Louis.

" I reckon you calculate about right, for you can't," was the sneering reply.

" Wal, I guess you needn't get huffy 'bout it. Now here's a dozen ginooine razor straps—worth two dollars and a half; you may have 'em for two dollars."

" I tell you I don't want any of your straps—so you may as well be going along."

" Wal' now, look here, squire; I'll bet you five dollars, that if you make me an offer for 'em, we'll have a trade yet."

" Done!" replied the merchant, placing the money in the hands of a bystander. The Yankee deposited a like sum.

" Now," said the merchant, " I'll give you a picayune for the straps."

" They're your'n," said the Yankee, as he quietly pocketed the stakes.

" But," said he, after a little reflection, and with great apparent honesty, " I'll trade back."

The merchant's countenance brightened.

" You are not so bad a chap, after all," said he. " Here are your straps—give me the money."

" There it is," said the Yankee, as he received the straps and passed over the six-pence.

" A trade is a trade; now you are wide awake; the next time you trade with that 'ere sixpence you'll do a little better than to buy razor straps."

And away walked the pedlar with his straps and his wager, amidst the shouts of the laughing crowd.

A BACHELOR'S DEFENCE.—Bachelor are styled by married men who have put there foot into it, as only half-perfected beings, cheerless vagabonds, but half a pair of scissors, and many other titles are given them; while on the othor hand they extol their state as one of such perfect bliss, that a change from earth to heaven would be somewhat of a doubtful good. If they are so happy, why don't they enjoy their happiness, and hold their tongues about it? Why do half the men get married? Simply that they may have somebody to darn their stockings, sew buttons on their shirts, and trot their babies; that they may have somebody, as a married man once said, " to pull off their boots when they are a little balmy." These fellows are always talking of the loneliness of bachelors. Loneliness, indeed! Who is petted to death by ladies with marriageable daughters?—invited to tea and to evening parties, and told to drop in just when it is convenient?—The bachelor. Who lives in clover all his days, and when he dies has flowers strewn on his grave by the girls who couldn't entrap him? The bachelor. Who strews flowers on the married man's grave?—his widow? Not a bit of it; she pulls down the tombstone that a six weeks' grief has set up in her heart, and goes and gets married again, she does. Who goes to bed early because time hangs heavily on his hands? The married man.—Who gets a scolding for picking out the softest part of the bed, and for waking the baby when he turns out in the morning? The married man.—Who is taken up for whipping his wife? The married man. Who gets divorced? The married man. Finally, who has got the Scripture on his side? The bachelor. St. Paul knew what he was talking about—" He that marries does well; he that marries not does better."

INDIAN MEAL DOUGHNUTS.—A teacup and a half of boiling milk, poured on two teacups of sifted Indian meal. When it is cold add two teacups of wheat flour, one teacup of butter, one and a half of sugar, one of yeast, and two eggs, with a tablespoonful of cinnamon or grated nutmeg. If not sufficiently stiff, add equal portions of wheat and Indian meal. Let it rise till very light. Roll it about half an inch thick, and cut it into small diamond-shaped cakes, and boil them in lard.

Hotels.

LAWRENCE HOTEL,

Corner of Prince William & Queen streets,

SAINT JOHN, N. B.

THE undersigned would intimate to those of his friends who so liberally patronised the "HAMMOND HOUSE," and the public generally, that he has rented the above-named Hotel, where he will be ready at all hours to wait upon them.

The building is almost entirely new, roomy and comfortable, splendidly situated and commanding one of the best views in the city, and in close proximity to the new Steamboat Landing. The furniture has been purchased expressly for this House, and is tasty and well adapted to the uses required.

The undersigned, by giving his undivided personal attention to the business, by keeping his Table constantly supplied with the best the country affords, and by employing none but attentive and obliging servants, hopes to merit a fair share of public patronage.

AMOS B. BARNES, Proprietor.

May 2. 36

THE COMMERCIAL HOTEL,

Main-street, Woodstock,

IS pleasantly situated in the centre of the town, near the Telegraph Office, and affords to the travelling public every requisite for comfort which can be desired. The house is entirely new, and the rooms are large and well ventilated. No exertion will be spared to secure the comfort of those who may choose it as their stopping place.—Travellers arriving late at night will find the house ready for their reception.

The Table will be furnished with the best the market affords. Charges moderate.

 GOOD STABLING is attached to the House, and a careful Hostler always in attendance.

J. SNOW, Manager.

N.B. There is also a superior LIVERY STABLE in connection with the above establishment, at which Horses can be procured at a moment's notice.

Nov. 8. 11 [Morn. Cour. 3m.]

WAVERLEY HOUSE,

No. 73 King-street.

THE subscriber, having taken the WAVERLEY HOUSE, in King-street, nearly opposite the St. John Hotel, and having thoroughly remodelled the same, by enlarging the Dining-Room, putting in new Water-Closets, and making very many modern improvements, will be prepared, on MONDAY the 9th inst., to receive permanent and transient BOARDERS.

The subscriber begs to return his most sincere thanks for the very liberal support bestowed upon him while in connection with the firm of Messrs. W. & J. Scammell, as proprietors of the old St. John Hotel for sixteen years, and trusts, by strict attention to business, to merit a share of public patronage.

There is also in connection with the above House a superior Stable, in which can be accommodated 15 Horses.—A careful Hostler always in attendance.

JOSEPH SCAMMELL, Proprietor.

St. John, July, 1856. 8

UNION HOTEL,

Union-street, between Charlotte and Sydney streets, south side.

THE Proprietor of this Establishment, thankful for favors received during the period he occupied the New Brunswick Hotel, and convinced of the necessity of more and better accommodation for the public, has erected a large and substantial building in Union-street, capable of accommodating from seventy to eighty Boarders. This house is well ventilated; the sleeping rooms are large, and every flat is well supplied with water, and also lighted with gas. The proprietor is determined to leave no means untried to merit the patronage of the community. Travellers arriving late at night will find the house always open and ready to receive them; while the conveniences and moderate charges will render it emphatically the home of the stranger. The tables of this house will be supplied with the best the market affords, and the proprietor is determined to adhere strictly to the Total abstinence principle.

Two large stables have been erected on the premises, capable of accommodating from sixty to seventy Horses. Good Hostlers always in attendance.

Over 500 Farms For Sale

IN NEW JERSEY.

TO ALL WANTING FARMS,

In a Mild Climate,

And within an Hour's Ride of Philadelphia, Pa.

FARMS FOR SALE in Camden, Burlington, and Atlantic Counties, 25 miles from Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad, New Jersey. A large tract to be divided into small Farms to suit the actual settler, and all persons desiring a Farm. The soil is of the best quality and very productive. For farming purposes it is unsurpassable. It is being extensively improved by good turnpikes. It lies directly upon the Rail Road, and has the largest market for produce, and adjacent to the largest population in the Union. The farms are made payable in easy instalments as follows:

Certificates entitling to locate 20 acres, $240, payable $6 per month.
Certificates for Truck Farms of 10 acres, $120, payable $3 per month.
Large Farms, 50 or 100 acres or more, at the same rate.

This is to be located under valuations placed upon sections at certain and stated times, to accommodate those who cannot locate or settle immediately. The terms are made easy, and payable in instalments, to ensure its rapid improvement, and enhancement in value.

Ten thousand acres have been laid out, upon which persons can locate at once, and receive a Deed for the Farms they buy.

The soil is a fine rich LOAM with a CLAY BOTTOM, and retentive of manure. It is free of stones and easily worked. It abounds largely in the phosphates, and such is its fertility that from the crops produced both upon this land and the large areas adjoining under cultivation, it will be found not to be excelled any where in the production of Crops most adapted to its market, such as Corn, Potatoes, Oats, and all kinds of Vegetables and Fruits generally, particularly for trucking, both on account of the nature of the soil, and its being directly in the Philadelphia market. It also abounds with the best quality of Muck Manure. It is directly upon the borders of the great agricultural district which supplies the New York and Philadelphia markets, embracing a population of several millions, and where, as may be ascertained from the most reliable reports, farms are the most valuable of any in the Union. All in this neighborhood are exceedingly productive and profitable. Some of this land is now under cultivation. Land can be procured already cleared, or partly timbered; also under cultivation. Houses are already built and for sale, which will answer the temporary wants of the settler.

This location is perfectly healthy; fever and ague is unknown.

The first division of 10,000 acres has been laid out, and immediately adjoins the town of Hammonton. Some is under cultivation—several thousand acres have been cleared for farms; it can at once be placed in a state of productiveness; it is coursed by fine streams of soft and pure water; it is being opened by a number of turnpike roads leading into the town. The price of this is from twelve to twenty dollars per acre—payable within four years, by monthly instalments of from five to ten dollars for twenty acres; larger Farms to suit purchasers. Everything is on hand to supply settlers—steam and water power saw-mills are in operation. Lumber can be had at a cheap price. A good house can be built at from $200 to $300. A brick yard is about being established, and a lateral Rail Road, three-fourths of a mile in length, is under contract, to supply Hammonton with stone from the adjacent quarries; stores, workshops, &c., are about being opened. A number of dwellings are already built; also a church, school-house, &c. It is intended to expend a hundred thousand dollars more in improvements, such as buildings, turnpike roads, &c.

The situation of the place is picturesque and beautiful. It is on the borders of Lake Hammonton, and is laid out in walks and groves. A beautiful Oak Park along the shores of the Lake is intended to be reserved for public use. Hammonton has been laid out in Town Lots, the cost of which is from $25 to $100.

A Company has been organized to build houses and clear farms upon credit, as soon as the property is sold. This will enable many to improve who cannot personally attend to it. Arrangements can at once be made to have houses built and farms placed in order by persons at Hammonton. Owing to a great part being cleared, farms can be made immediately productive—when done, they will pay four-fold the cost.

In settling here the emigrant has many advantages: He is within a few hours ride of the great cities in the Middle States and New England. He is near his old friends and associations. He is in a SETTLED county, where every improvement and comfort of civilization is at hand. He is in a HEALTHY place, and is not subject to the certainty of losing the greater part of his family, and his own health by those malignant fevers, which make the graves of so many thousands of the young and the hardy, in far off regions, away from home and friends.

In this presents a rare opportunity to the industrious—it enables all who wish to better their condition to become independent. It will soon be taken up, and, owing to its rapid improvements, it will greatly enhance in value. This would all have been settled before had it not been held by large proprietors, who could not until recently dispose of it in a manner to suit the farmer and actual settler. The investment enables a man to provide for himself and family—in a manner which is safe and certain against the contingencies of business and misfortunes of life.

The terms are such as to enable any man, at a small saving, at less than the cost of ordinary trifles, to make a purchase. There is a principle in investing in Real Estate which controls our success in life. If we look around amongst our friends and acquaintances who have become wealthy, we find it to be by their investing in Real Estate. The commencement may have been small, but it weakens the feeling of acquisition, and opens the field to future effort. It is the solid stepping stone to future prosperity, and what is often considered the result of fortune, is nothing more than any can accomplish. It is to be preferred to anything else, because it is always certain, and likely to rise in value.

ROUTE:—The railroad Trains go and return from Philadelphia twice a day. Leave Vine street wharf at 7½ o'clock, A. M. for Hammonton, and return in the afternoon, (when there, enquire for Judge WALKER, the Agent,) or leave at same place at 3½ o'clock, P. M., and return next morning.

There are many already locating, and persons should be prompt, in order to obtain locations to suit them. Committees can go down, examine the land for their friends, and make reports or selections. A large number of Farmers from New England, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware are about going there, to commence improvements.

Warrantee Deeds will be given to each purchaser. Title is good and unquestionable. The first instalment upon a purchase is five dollars; which can be sent by letter, and purchase secured.

For full, descriptive Pamphlets, or for Lots or Farms, address JOHN STILES, Agent, 31 Exchange Street, Boston, where Plans can be seen, and general information obtained.

☞ Descriptive PAMPHLETS, PLANS &c., of these LANDS may be seen at the Business Office of this Paper.

DR. HARRISON'S

PERISTALTIC LOZENGES,

A POSITIVE CURE FOR

Costiveness and Dyspepsia!

THE Proprietor, by the advice of the leading physicians of Boston, is introducing his Peristaltic Lozenges throughout the country. They are tonic as well as laxative, and differ from all physical pills. They are superceding every other remedy for costiveness and its results, viz.:

PILES, HEADACHE, DIZZINESS,
BILIOUSNESS, OPPRESSION OF FOOD, FLATULENCE,
SICK HEADACHE, PALPITATION,
LIVER COMPLAINT.

They are safe and effective for Females who suffer from costiveness, giving tone to the whole system. For Irregularities and Suppressions, especially of young persons having little exercise, they are most effectual, giving color to the blood, and restoring nature.

The Peristaltic Lozenges cause no pain, are agreeable, and so compact that they may be carried in the vest pocket, and are therefore just the thing for travellers.

Testimony of Boston Druggists.

The undersigned, having long known the reputation of Harrison's Peristaltic Lozenges, among the leading physicians, as well as the best apothecaries of this city, and having heard them spoken of by those using them as entirely satisfactory, we recommend them as the most agreeable and effective remedy for Constipation, whenever our customers ask our opinion.

A New and Scientific Invention,

FOR the cure of Impotency, Sterility, Torpor of the Prostate Gland, Irritability of the Urethra, Relaxation of the Spermatic Cord, and all Affections of the Reproductive System; and for arresting those most difficult and often fatal Derangements of the PROCREATIVE ORGANS, NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, DIURNAL SEMINAL LOSSES, IMPOTENCY or complete Loss OF MANHOOD.

☞ Patent Issued, January 15, 1856.

Manufactured and sold, Wholesale and Retail, by

J. CHEEVER, M.D.,

Store and Office, No. 1 Tremont Temple, Boston.

CERTIFICATE.

The Galvano-Electric Regenerator of Dr. Joseph Cheever has been examined by me in relation to its power of producing a constant current of electricity while in use. I have no hesitation in pronouncing the invention to be simple, and well adapted to the purpose for which it is designed.

Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M.D., State Assayer,
