THE LITTLE GRAY CLOAK. There's a little gray cloak that goes trotting about-Heigh bo, the little gray cloak ! There's something beneath it, I've not a doubt-Heigh ho, the little gray cloak ! In sunshine or rain, in pleasure or pain, Wherever I go, or whatever 1 do,

Like a sprite of the air, 'tis now here and there I see it before me, that little gray cloak.

O. I fear that my heart is not strong as my oyes Heigh ho, the little gray cloak ! That my heart is betraying itself by its sight-Heigh ho, the little gray cleak ! For, all through the day, a vision of gray Is over my heart, and is over my eyes; For my eyes I out t swear for my heart, I declare, 'Tis under the folds of that little gray cloak !

I have faithfully sworn-to the oath I will own-Heigh'he, that little gray cloak; That the little gray cloak shan't go trotting alone-Heigh ho, the little gray cleak ! I'll step by its side, and I'll take for my guide Whatever may be in its mysteries hid, I shall fear not the storm-it will keep us both warm, For broad are the folds of that little gray cloak.

THINNING OUT VEGETABLES .- It was Cobbett we think, that remarked when speaking of the il effect of thick planting, that one cucumber plant than four, and so on, and if there were fifty plants Dye, &c. in a hill, the whole of them put together bore no cucumbers at all. The truth is, there is a much Varnish, Paint, White Wash, Blacking, Black Lead, greater less in allowing vegetables to stand thickly Scrubbi 'g, Hair, Hat, Clothes, Tooth and Nail Brushes, together than most are at all aware of To insure Gutta Percha Toilette Combs, Ivory Combs, Back Combs. a crop, plenty of seed is sown, with the intention of thinning at the proper time; but when thinning day arrives, it requires rather more nerves to com- note-paper and Envelopes, Drawing Paper, Prayer Books, English Perfumery.—Jenny Lind's Boquet, Vemit what appears to be the merciless havor of Urmer School Pocks, Watt's Psalms and getable Essence, Rondeletia, Victoria Boquet, Patvoung plants, than most people possess. If our crops are to be crowded and stunted, we would quite as willingly have it done with pig-weeds and foxtail, as to have them smothered and the soil exhausted by seeds of their own species.

Many years ago, when the cultivation of the Woodsto, k Nov. 5, 1857. ruta-baga was first introduced, we could invariably distinguish the crops of the novice by the thickly growing, half developed bulbs. "Oh, but they had thinned them to a very great extent-they had cut out three fourths, and reduced them from one inch to four inches in distance," whereas none should ever stand nearer than a foot to each other, if the soil possesses anything like a fair degree of fertility; but this looked like indiscriminate slaughter, and could not be thought of for a moment. The finest specimens of garden products, which we see exhibited at horticultural shows, are those which have been well thinned and allowed every opportunity to develop themselves freely; and the same is true of ornamental plants, where a full, rich and luxuriant growth and bloom are obtained through the adoption of the same principle .- Country Gentleman.

THE BIBLE .- There are four grand arguments Mill, where, having all the necessary conveniences, Steam for the truth of the Bible. The first is, the mira- Engine, &c. &c., they are prepared to manufacture all cles on record; the second, the prophecies; the kinds of third, the goodness of the doctrine; the fourth, the moral character of the penman. The miracles flow from Divine power; the prophecies, from Divine understanding; the excellence of the doctrine, from Divine goodness; the moral character of the change. penman, from Divine purity. Thus, Christianity is built upon these four immovable pillars, the power, the understanding, the goodness, the purity of God. The Bible must be one of three things; either an invention of good men, or good angels; of bad men, or bad angels; or a revelation from God. But it could not be the invention of good men, or angels, for they neither would nor could make a book telling lies, at the same time saying, "Thus saith the Loro," when they knew it all to and every other thing connected with his business, in the their own invention. It could not be the inventiou of wicked men, or devils, for they could not make a book which commands all duty, which forbids all sin, and which condemns their souls to all eternity. The conclusion is irresistible—the Bible must be given by Divine inspiration.

A MOTHER'S LOVE. - We are indebted to Lamartine's exquisitely fine pen for the following touching and graphic illustration of a mother's love :- " In some spring freshet, a river widely washed its shores and rent away a bough, whereon a bird had built a cottage for her summer hopes.
