FRIDAY, March 26. Mr M'LEOD moves that the House go into consideration of resolution for address for the removal of the seat of Government to St. John. Mr M. LEOD .- It makes but little difference to myself, personally, whether the scat of Government remains where it is, or is removed to St. John; but the question is agitating the public mind, and we should calmly discuss the pros and cons of the question, ascertain what is for the public good, and endeavor to settle the question for ever. There are a great many considerations calculated to induce the removal. Our present accommodations in this our health demands that instead of breathing any As I will have another opportunity, I shall reserve injury on Fredericton and the Province. any further remarks until that time.

The important question which we should decide, and on the discussion of which we should act, is, Would we, as a Province, gain or lose by the removal? My idea would not be to go to the expense at once of erecting buildings in St. John; before our readers, as likewise a report of the disquestion which arose a party question; and in after the experiment has been tried, if expedient, most noticeable, is that the whole cost of the line, matter of printing we could save in the public £8,460 per mile. printing at least £300 or £400. IRISH SEPOYS IN THE WEST .- The tenth regular toast at a supper given at Cincinnati on St. Patrick's Day by a numerous company of Irishmen was in honor of Nena Sahib. We submit that in thus honoring a man whom the civilized world regards as a monster of cruelty, our Celtic friend expose to suspicion their own reputation not only for good sense, but for humanity. The butcher of women and children cannot justly be held up as a model of virtue merely because he is a rebel.
