COMMUNICATED.

Fredericton, April 30, 1858. MR. EDITOR: You did not publish my communication, for which I am very cross. Perhaps you will refuse the following, which I came into possession of by accident. Yours faithfully,

Spruce-Log Villa,

Near the Deacon's, April, 1858. DEAR & S.-G .: Your advice to me has proved strongly we write, bringing the united force and talent of our party here to bear in the articles for the Journal-for which, of course, William is responsible, as it would not do to let my name be known in connection with it. That £25 is lost to me, as W.'s name was not in the resolution. The old story of the "spruce logs" is coming out CAVE your Cotton Rags and old Rubber, Hogg's Brusagain; and this last cut of Julia Anne's is the un- sels and Side Hair; all of which will be taken in exkindest cut of all - why the deuce did you let G - change for Tin-Ware by publish it; it has renewed the talk about the tongue-lashing I got from that fellow F- at the Court-House, in 1856. He there described my head and its appendages, and mentioned the desirableness of sending it round the country on exhibition. But this last from a lady-Miss Julia Anne, too, with whom I was on the best of terms,-this ebullition of feeling I do not understand. 'Tis true, I Thomas Brocklebank, Esquire, Chairman; have been brought up in the bush, and that may Joseph Christopher Ewart, Esq., M. P., and Francis Hay account for the hairy covering of my face and head having the appearance of that growing on a fox's belly; but I cannot help that-I would if I could. My last shot at Connell has, like others I have fired at him, killed more of my friends than my enemies. And the end is not yet; for I find it is having a damaging effect on the circulation of the paper; and the enlightened portion of its readers -who, between you and I, are very few-are now running it down.

More funds must be had, or things will go to the D-1.

So, you see, between Miss Julia Anne and her description of the fox's belly, and the foolish mistake I made about Connell and the electors of Carle- Please apply to ton, things are coming to a crisis. Old Mac's appointment is popular: don't say anything about it-I have said too much already. I am, yours, &c.

To the Editor of the Carleton Sentinel: Sir: I noticed in your issue of April 17th another communication from Mr. George Stickney (concorning our parish election) against me, for having challenged him with what he is justly guilty of: 1st, for not opening the meeting at the time required by law; 2dly, for taking two votes on one name; 3dly, for turning his watch ahead to close the meeting by. Those are the principal charges; and those charges, if you observed, in the issue of Jan. 30th he omitted; and, Readers, if there is any doubt in your minds concerning the matter, I will produce affidavits from men who did demand that the meeting be opened, and saw him turn his watch ahead, -who heard and saw all his lop-sided

I can't make out what kind of a numbskull he is-acknowledging one day, and denying the

Now turn to the issue of Jan. 30th, and see what he has stated. He says, "How the name was checked, he could not say; but it was evident he had made some mistake; and he could see no reason why Mr. Dickinson should be deprived of the privilege to vote on account of a blunder of his." It looks very reasonable to suppose, if Mr. Dickinson had not voted, some one had voted in his stead. He eays, "Strange! that people would elect a man stock every Monday, Thursday, and Saturday, at 8 p. neighbors say he would be living in Simonds now, had it not been for his conduct at that election. It appears from his one-sided conduct, his brains are all to one side of his head; and his unjust and Corner of Prince William & Queen streets, unlawful proceedings show that the noddy has neither principle, justice, nor honor, for if any man of principle was guilty of what he is, he never would friends who so liberally patronised the "HAMhave the presumption to make any reply whatever. VEGETABLE

LIQUID CATHARTIC. THE public do not require to be told that a mild, safe and reliable cathartic, in a liquid form, agreeable to the taste, and one which purges without violence, is a desideratum in medicine; this fact will be admitted by all. Such a discovery has been often attempted, but without success, until the introduction of the above-named remedy. No patent medicine ever met with such ready approval by physicians as this. Many regular practitioners are asing it daily, all of whom have spoken of it in the highest terms of praise. Persons, for the want of a better, have been obliged to resort to the use of those drastic, nauseous, and oftentimes injurious purgatives, such as castor oil, salts, senna, rhubarb, jallop, aloes, gamboge, &c., all of which cause more or less debility, and fail to accomplish the object for which they are taken; on the contrary, they often increase the difficulty, and render the patient less curable. None of these enter into the composition of this invaluable remedy. It is composed of barks, roots and seeds, the medical properties of which are exactly adapted to the cure of those complaints for which it is recommended. By a combination of those properties, the public were put in possession of the most valuable preparation ever produced. This medicine is not intended simply as a cathartie; its value as such is insignificant when compared with its power of purifying the blood from all humors, regulating the action of the bowels, curing PATENT MEDICINES of every description now before Dyspepsia, restoring the appetite, producing a healthy action of the Liver, freeing the stomach from bile, and invigorating and strengthening the whole system. It is a eertain cure for the Piles, and those suffering from that complaint should give it a trial. It is also warranted to cure canker in its worst forms. For all diseases of the Bowels it cannot be recommended too highly. In Summer Complaints, such as Dysentery, Diarrhoa, Cholera Morbus, &c., it will be found invaluable. Reader, as sure as the sun rises in the east, just so sure you will be benefitted by the use of this medicine for any of the above complaints; and as surely will it relieve those suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Tic Doloureux, Gout, Headache, and Pain in the Side and Stomach, caused by Flatulency. Loss of Appetite, Indigestion, general Debility, &c., is often produced by wind in the Stomach, which this remedy will expel at once. It is also an excellent remedy for Sea-Sickness. Those baving occasion to travel by water will find it invaluable.
