STICK TOGETHER.

A Rhyme for the Times. When midst the wreath of fire and smoke, When cannon rend the skies asunder. And flerce dragoons with quickning stroke Upon the reeling regiments thunder, The ranks close up to sharp command, 'Till helmet's feather touches feather, Compact, the furious shock they stand,

And conquer while they stick together. When now, 'mid clouds of woo and want. Our comrades' wails rise fast and faster: And charging madly on our front Comes the black legion of Disaster,

Shall we present a wavering band And fly like leaves before wild weather? No! side by side, and hand in hand. We'll stand our ground and stick together !

Gud gave us hands-one left, one right; The first to help ourselves, the other To stretch abroad in kindly might And help along our falling brother. Then when you see a brother fall,

And bow his head beneath the weather, If you be not a dastard all,

You'll help him up and stick together.

COPPER MINING IN NEWFOUNDLAND .- That indefatigable speculator, F. N. Gisborne, Esq., having discovered in the course of his telegraphic labors in Newfoundland that that country was rich in metallic ores, particularly copper, determined to turn his knowledge to advantage, and proceeding to England he there succeeded in forming a Company under the title of "the Newfoundland Mining Association," with a capital of £50,000 sterling, for the development of the mineral resources of the Island. Mr. Gisborne was appointed manager, and active operations were commenced some months since. The Newfoundland Ledger says: -"The explorations were systematically commen- Fire premiums for 1856 amounted to £222,279 10s. 6d. and vigorously prosecuted, and the result of stg. Eight Cornish miners, experienced men, have been engaged Please apply to and will be here this month, bringing with them a large quantity of mining materials, so that it may be expected their knowledge of the work will add materially to the quickness of return. The chief ores of value yet found have been those of lead, copper and silver. From the quantity hitherto found and the various districts over which the deposits are scattered, it is reasonable enough to infer that discoveries have yet to be made of character and quality not at all inferior to those which have been brought in, and also that in the prosesation of those researches other metals and minerals may be brought to light enhancing the general value of the whole. "On the young King's birthday, September 15, first broke out a pestilence which has since striken thousands of the inhabitants. Some call it yellow fever, some typhus; it is probably a mixture of the two, and has been very fatal. There is some thing very insidious in its nature—it advances to the various quarters of the town so slowly and surely, and carries off its victims so swiftly. the sick to the hospitals. "The young King has behaved most nobly. He had gone to his country place for a month, but upon hearing of the appearance of the fever he immediately returned, and since then has done all that he could. The physicians pronounced the disease contagious, but he has never hesitated in the path of duty, though implored by his old counsellors, with tears in their eyes, not to risk his life. He visits the hospitals at all hours, and cheers the sick and dying with kind words and his own sweet smile. It is very touching to see him going about,

I believe it is to weep.' " For Portugal, such a cypher among the nations, to have yielded such a flower of majesty, is indeed a wonder and a portent."-Phil. Press.

THE public do not require to be told that a mild, safe and reliable cathartic, in a liquid form, agreeable to the taste, and one which purges without violence, is a desideratum in medicine; this fact will be admitted by all. Such a discovery has been often attempted, but without success, until the introduction of the above-named remedy. No patent medicine ever met with such ready approval by physicians as this. Many regular practitioners are asing it daily, all of whom have spoken of it in the high-est terms of praise. Persons, for the want of a better, have been obliged to resort to the use of those drastic, nauseous, and oftentimes injurious purgatives, such as castor oil, salts, senna, rhubarb, jallop, aloes, gamboge, &c., all of which cause more or less debility, and fail to accomplish the object for which they are taken; on the contrary, they often increase the difficulty, and render the patient less curable. None of these enter into the composition of this invaluable remedy. It is composed of barks, roots and seeds, the medical properties of which are exactly adapted to the cure of those complaints for which it is recommended. By a combination of those properties, the public were put in possession of the most valuable preparation ever produced. This medicine is not intended simply as a cathartic; its value as such is insignificant when compared with its power of purifying the blood from all humors, regulating the action of the bowels, curing Dyspepsia, restoring the appetite, producing a healthy action of the Liver, freeing the stomach from bile, and invigorating and strengthening the whole system. It is a certain cure for the Piles, and those suffering from that complaint should give it a trial. It is also warranted to cure canker in its worst forms. For all diseases of the Bowels it cannot be recommended too highly. In Summer

Complaints, such as Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus, &c., it will be found invaluable. Reader, as sure as the sun rises in the east, just so sure you will be benefitted by the use of this medicine for any of the above complaints; and as surely will it relieve those The above medicines require no puffing to effect suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Tie Doloureux, Gout, Headache, and Pain in the Side and Stomach, caus-Debility, &c., is often produced by wind in the Stomach, which this remedy will expel at once. It is also an excel-lent remedy for Sea-Sickness. Those having occasion to travel by water will find it invaluable.
