The Carleton Sentinel.

SATURDAY, OCT. 30, 1858.

Having returned home, after an absence prolonged beyond what we had intended, too late to prepare anything for this week's issue in the shape of Editorial, we are compelled to resort to our scissors to supply the deficiency. And first we take from the Globe the following, upon a very interesting subject.

While large numbers of persons from the Eastern States are taking up and settling on lands in the Aroostook County, attracted thither by the fertility of soil and great natural advantages, it becomes a matter of surprise that in the very neighborhood, and lying on Grand River, say some ten or fifteen miles from Grand Falls, there are large tracts of Government land, of easy access by roads and water, which still remain in their wilderness state.—Several adventurous settlers have penetrated into these wild lands, and their industry and perseverance have been abundantly rewarded. We are told on good authority, that the soil is of the very best description. A number of lots are surveyed and laid off, fronting the river, giving to nearly all a portion of the finest intervale, entirely free from stone, and covered with a magnificent growth of elm, ash, cherry, and other trees; the high ground is excellent, and the growth of timber exceedingly large, comprising rock maple, birch, ash, and considerable elm. Our Aroostook neighbors have hit upon an excellent plan of drawing attention to their district, by the establishment of a newspaper, called the Pioneer, which has been eminently successful in awakening public attention to the facilities offered to persons anxious to settle in that country.

Strangers arriving in our Province are surprised to hear of the young men going abroad; and a gentleman who holds a high military rank, and who is at present on a visit, remarked only a few days since to a gentleman in Sussex, that there were thousands of farmers in the old country who would gladly avail themselves of the superior advantages offered, provided they were in possession of sufficient information to form a correct idea of the wide field of usefulness that is open to them in this country. We speak here particularly of the fine land on Grand River; but at the same time we must not omit to mention other tracts nearer to our seaboard. Within nine miles of Quaco there is a surveyed tract, comprising sixty lots of one hundred acres each; near the Douglas Valley, some 9000 acres, known as "Clarendon," about twenty-five or thirty miles distant from the city, by the Nerepis road, lying partly in Charlotte and Queen's Counties; some 8000 acres in Albert County, near the Mechanics' settlement, known as "Blackwood," and lying on the head waters of the Coverdale river; 8000 acres, in 100 acre lots, contiguous to the Nova Scotia post road, in the Parish of Sussex, King's; and other large tracts in Carleton, Victoria, York, Westmorland, Kent, Gloucester, Restigouche, and Northumberland.

It cannot but be admitted that, with these facts before us, our Province affords a good field for emigration, and we are glad to learn that the Agent here is about to lay these matters before the people of the mother country in a way that cannot fail to attract their attention. Our earnest wish is that success may attend his efforts, and that in due time we shall have the pleasure of chronicling the fact that this fine Province is attracting the earnest attention of the people at home.

We have a pleasing duty to note that the Emigration office has already been so far organized by the new Agent, that persons can readily obtain all the requisite information in regard to Government lands, and that the first fruits of Mr. Shives' labors will shortly lead to the location of a large number of families in that section of the Province known as the Douglas Valley, as well as in other districts.

* * *

We did not intend to make our Glances of Individuals of the several subjects of them, but we cannot avoid expressing the belief that when the Head Quarters makes this statement,—"The 'Individual Members' thus far reflected in the Carleton mirror all belong to the Smasher school, and if they are not the vainest idiots on earth they must be sick enough at their own pictures,"—he knows he departs from the truth. Were Messrs. Gray and Wilmot Smashers? But if common report is correct, we need not wonder at deliberate lies appearing in the Head Quarters; report says its editor is the man whose statement a jury would not believe on oath.

* * *

We must ask our readers to excuse the large amount of advertisements in to-day's paper. Next week we hope to make a radical change in this department.

* * *

We are glad to find the outside part of the Woodstock College so rapidly progressing towards completion, under the persevering efforts of Mr. Charles Marvin. The building already presents a very attractive appearance, and when finished will vie with any in these lower provinces in beauty of design and excellence of accommodation. It is a mixture of the Gothic and Elizabethan style of architecture, the conception of Matthew Stead, Esq., St. John, and reflects the greatest credit on the acquirements of the architect. We are glad to find that the people in Woodstock, and throughout the County generally, are taking a lively interest in the advancement of the College, and thousands are visiting the ground where the structure is being erected. The people in Woodstock owe a lasting debt of gratitude to the Hon. Charles Connell for freely granting such a commanding site for this building; and we cannot help admiring the truly indefatigable exertions of the Rev. Charles Gordon Glass, A.M., the originator of the Educational Scheme of the Presbyterian Church, and whose labors, we trust, will soon be crowned with success in the completion of such a noble structure.

We understand the Rev. C. G. Glass is at present in the place, receiving subscriptions from the friends of education.—Com.

For the Carleton Sentinel.

WOODSTOCK, October 27th.

Easy and rapid locomotion is the chief characteristic of the age. Every day's experience teaches more fully the truth of the maxim, that "time is money." The iron horse will shortly outrun the Mexican, whose rider, the first overland California mail carrier, was so cordially received at St. Louis a few days since. The great locomotive race between Jonathan and John to the Pacific will decide the fate of British Columbia. The short cut between St. Petersburg and Canton gave Russia all the advantages gained by our army and navy in the late treaty with China. An easy mode of transit is now the chief attraction, be it in what direction it may. The shop with three steps must come down to the level or lose custom. The concentrating of numerous railways in the American cities afford a sufficiently easy exit to the vast masses of emigrants who drift off and people the prairies of the West. Look where you will, in the United States, some placard, map or book, will present itself, affording information and encouragement to the emigrant and settler.

In the steamers and hotels of this Province, the insinuating Yankee has made his mark; and many of our people are allured by the showy bills which point out "the great advantages to be derived from travelling by this route," to Minnesota, or some other country in many respects inferior to our own. And they go! hundreds of the healthiest and hardiest youth of this county (Carleton) have gone, and are going. Why? No encouragement is offered them to remain here! New Brunswick is the shop with three steps. The most powerful arguments to induce emigration come from the friends in a newly chosen home; and the number of communities of Province people, formed in different parts of the United States during the last twenty years, is really astonishing. The forest, like any complex subject, our senators have been afraid to enter, with a view to its settlement. The valuable lumber of the country is gone, and what have we as an equivalent? Our trade is protracted, and the tide of emigration is turned from, not toward us. The "hand-book" has been a "finger board" as difficult to be discovered by the emigrant as its contents to be understood. The common sense of the matter would appear to be, that in order to be successful in peopling this county, we must adopt the American course: wherever good blocks of land are to be found, lay them out into lots for settlement; give people an easy access to them by good roads and bridges; then advertise, not in the London Morning Chronicle, but in papers read by the industrious, hardy, laboring people, English, Irish and Scotch. Assuming that members of the Government will pardon my presumption, I append a form of card applicable to the condition of settlers on Crown Lands in this neighborhood:

NOTICE TO EMIGRANTS.—Persons desirous of settling in New Brunswick (a British possession in North America), are hereby informed that lots of land containing 100 acres each, well wooded, and the soil of a superior quality, may be found in the County of Carleton, on the eastern side of the River St. John, and from five to twenty miles from the flourishing Town of Woodstock. A good bridge over the river at Woodstock, and a turnpike road running thence and through the centre of lots numbering from 1 to 1000, present an opportunity for the selection of superior land never before offered in this Province.

☞ A Book containing a well defined map of the Province may be had upon application to Mr. A., Liverpool; Mr. B., Cork; Mr. C., Glasgow, or the following persons, (a friend in every shipping port in England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales; also, New York, Boston, &c. &c.)

Clever men, natives of England, Ireland and Scotland, acquainted with life in New Brunswick, and the resources of the country, sent home to lecture through the rural districts and towns of the old country, would aid much in directing emigrants, few of whom at present know Montreal from Boston.

Fearing I have trespassed too much, I must again desist until another time. B.

OCTOBER, 16th, 1858.

To the Editor of the Carleton Sentinel.

SIR: After an absence of ten years from home, it is a natural result to see such persons scrutinizing every object of interest coming under the range of their observation, for the sake of ridicule, or for information in reference to the general improvement of the place. Arriving in St. John, one looks in vain for any great improvement worthy of note, except the depot grounds, which as yet are merely temporary. The Catholic Cathedral, now in course of erection, is another exception to the general rule.

En route for Fredericton, the general appearance has a tendency to advancement, by beautifying their dwellings and erecting new ones more after the modern style, and of such magnificence as the wealth of that section of country can warrant.

Leaving Fredericton for Woodstock, the improvements are more striking. In 1847–8 but little was to be seen between the latter places but wilderness; now it presents the traveller with an idea that it is a new country, and its inhabitants are just becoming aware of its importance and available resources. On either side of the river is almost one unbroken village, with here and there a church spire towering into the heavens, acknowledging the fact that the inhabitants are not destitute of a belief of their dependence upon an over ruling Providence.

Arriving at Woodstock, I was astonished—for well might one be who has been absent ten years—to see the changes and additions made, and still going on: old buildings have been removed, and in their stead fine, tasty, commodious and substantial ones are to be seen, whichever way the eye may and plover is now occupied with the most magnificent buildings in the town—among the latter that of James Grover, Esq.,—and others in course of erection, which will no doubt compare favorably.

Neither does the improvement stop here; the government of the place has kept pace, and, in my opinion, gone ahead—even in the hands of Liberals. Who does not recollect when Liberalism was scoffed at, and even shot at, by a mob not calling themselves Liberals. Inhabitants of Carleton, thank the noble efforts of the few who resisted the encroachments upon your liberty, and wiped the stain from the page of your country's history. By an article in the Journal of the 23d ult., one would rationally infer that the political aspect of New Brunswick is in a deplorable situation; it may be, however, to a few who are still clinging to the tattered garments of a fast sinking political party. But to the man of liberal views—of which Carleton can boast of a large majority—the Government machinery moves with ease and precision.

FROM FRASER RIVER.—The Sea Bird and Wilson G. Hunt arrived on Saturday from Fraser river, but brought no news of special interest. The river still continued high, and the miners were still waiting for the waters to fall. Nothing has been heard of Gov. Douglas's proceedings.

The depression still continues in Victoria. Merchandise is selling at very low prices. Merchants can be seen in all the streets, in front of their stores, wearing very gloomy faces and watching in vain for customers. There is nevertheless a considerable degree of confidence that the mines will prove ultimately rich, though many doubt whether they will be able to sustain themselves until the day of prosperity.

The steamer Sea Bird, which had been aground on a bar in Fraser River, twelve miles below Fort Hope, since the 24th of June, was successfully launched on the 2d inst., and arrived safely at Victoria. She will now run regularly between Victoria and Fort Langley. She will connect with the Enterprise, under command of Capt. John Wright, which will run between Fort Langley and Fort Yale.

HORRIBLE DEATH.—On Friday night last Mr. John Gilbreath, of Lyndfield, St. James, was burned to death. It appears that his barn had taken fire and he rushed into it for the purpose of saving his horse if possible, but while attempting to do this his own clothes took fire; and although he ran towards a brook but a few rods off for the purpose of extinguishing them, he fell in the effort, and was unable, from the tortures caused by his clothes, to rise, and he died before help from the neighbors could reach him. The barn was consumed with all its contents, including the horse and his hay and grain crops of several tons.—St. Croix Herald.

SPAIN.—The Madrid Gazette publishes the term of a contract which is about to be entered into for the supply to the "Holy Cross Office" of a large quantity of paper required for printing certificates of permission to eat meat on the days on which it is prohibited by the Roman Catholic Church.—These certificates are sold at about 10d. each, and constitute a considerable source of revenue to the Holy See.

William Scholefield, Esq., M.P., for Birmingham, (Eng.) and a colleague of Mr. John Bright, left our city yesterday, en route for Canada, via Fredericton, Woodstock, and Grand Falls. During his brief stay in this city he had an opportunity of seeing considerable of it and the neighborhood, and of meeting several of our most influential citizens. We understand that he takes a lively interest in the Colonies generally, and expressed his gratification at the elements of prosperity and advancement peculiar to this Province. We trust that his visit will be productive of great good; and feel satisfied that in his place in the House of Commons he will have an opportunity of refuting many of the erroneous impressions that have for years obtained a hold on the minds of the British public adverse to our interests. Mr. Scholefield expressed himself warmly in favor of the Province as an inviting field for emigrants from Europe, and was furnished by the Emigration Officer with several documents relative to our soil, climate, and agricultural capabilities.—News.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—This afternoon a fire broke out in a stable in West 36th street, and soon destroyed it. The flames then communicated to five frame buildings adjoining, all of which were entirely destroyed. Loss estimated at $8000; insured $3000. Supposed to be caused by a child playing with matches.

The Crystal Palace, with all its contents, was entirely destroyed by fire this afternoon. The Fair of the American Institute was being held there at the time. A large amount of property was destroyed, consisting of mechanical and agricultural implements, melodeons, pianos, steam engines, and other kinds of goods that were on exhibition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The destruction of the Crystal Palace, with its contents, was complete.—So rapidly did the flames spread, that in less than fifteen minutes from the commencement of the fire, the immense dome fell. Nothing was saved but one hose carriage, and some half a dozen articles of trifling value. The fire originated, as stated in last night's dispatch, in the lumber room, and was no doubt the work of an incendiary. There were in the building at the time some two thousand persons, chiefly women and children.

The loss is variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. The palace originally cost $800,000. One estimate makes the worth of the articles on exhibition about half a million.

Three fire engines belonging to the city, and valued from $2000 to $3000 apiece, were destroyed. Two of these had been placed in the building but a few hours before the fire commenced.

There were nearly four thousand contributors to to the exhibition, some of whose losses were quite large. The American Institute lose $10,000.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning, a boat containing five men, who work in the Union Park Mills, was upset at the entrance to the Falls, and two of them were drowned. The others were rescued by Mr. Logan. The names of the deceased were Gleason and Walsh. The latter was a brother-in-law of Gleason. The parents of the former reside a few miles up river, near Land's End.—New Brunswicker.
