The Pic-Nic.

The Pic-Nic advertized to take place last week was postponed on account of the unfavorable weather until the Tuesday following, when it came off with much eclat. The weather was as fine as any one could possibly desire it. The grounds selected can not be excelled in point of natural beauty for such an occasion; those of our citizens who have never taken a stroll over Dibbless's Flat, don't know how delightful a spot there is within gun-shot of Woodstock. The managers of the Pic-Nie had through the assistance of the Ladies of Woodstock provided ample means of refreshment of the most choice kinds which were most heartily discussed. Swings, cricket, foot-ball, &c., were enjoyed by large numbers of the gentlemen, and, in the case of the first named source of enjoyment, by the ladies too. A puppet show, made by Mr. George McDonald, and got up with much ingenuity, afforded very great amusement to large numbers, The Rifle Company. Captain Baird, was on the ground, and performed the field drill to the sound of the bugle, in a highly creditable manner.

In the evening there was a ball in the pavilion crected expressly for the purpose, which was numerously attended, and at which good feeling, good music, and good dancing prevailed, until an early hour the next morning.
