At his residence in Woodstock, on Monday the 5th inst., Thomas Phillips, aged seventy-nine years. Mr. Phillips was born in Staten Island, New York, and was but a child when his father, the late TR. C. S. BEVERLY having been appointed sole Matthew Phillips, removed from the Oromocto (where he lived for a short time after leaving the States at the close of the Revolutionary owned by Mr. David Phillips, the youngest and only survivor of a This is a favorable time to begin the Journal, a new story large family of sons and daughters, and where for many years his and a new year commerces this week. Former subscribers house was the resort of travellers passing up and down the River, and where food and lodging were freely bestowed upon the weary, and often the benighted traveller,-there being no taverns in those primitive days. Persons on their way would frequently continu their journey till late at night, in order to reach the hospitable dwelling of Mr. Phillips, being sure of comfortable quarters and kind treatment, without fee or reward. The subject of this notice married the eldest daughter of the late Captain Joseph Cunliffe. He entered into the lumbering business, which he prosecuted for several years, with success, accumulating considerable property, all of which he eventually lost through the vicissitudes of his uncertain occupation. Through his long lifetime, he maintained the character of an honest and worthy man, a kind husband, an indulgent father, and a good neighbor-one upon whose name no blemish rests, beyond the fault and frailties to which our poor human nature is, and must be ever liable At the residence of his father, in this town, on Wednesday morn ing last, of Consumption, Stephen, eldest son of William Lindsay, Esq., aged 18 years.
