HONESTY THE BEST OF POLICY .- The Duke of Buecleuch in one of his walks, purchased a cow in the neighborhood of Dalkeith, which was to be sent to his morning dress, espied a boy effectually attempting to drive the animal forward to its destination. The boy not knowing the duke, bawled out to him. " Here mun, come here and gie's a han' wi' thi beast." The duke walked on slowly, the boy still craving his assistance, and at last, in a tone of distress, exclaimed, "Come here, mun, an' help us, as sure as anything I'll give you half I get." The Duke went and lent the helping hand.

"And now, said the duke, as they trudged along "how much do ye think ye'll get for the job?" "! dinna ken," said the boy, "but I'm sure o' some thing for the folks up at the big house are good to a' bodies."

As they approached the house the duke disap peared from the boy, and entered a different way. Calling a servant, he put a sovereign into his hand saying, "Give that to the boy who brought the

The duke, returning to the avenue, was soon rejoined by the boy. "Well, how much did you get?" "A shilling," said the boy, "and there's half o' it to ye." .. But you surely got more than a shilling," said the duke. "No," said the boy, "as sure as death that's a' I got—and d'ye no think it's plenty?" "I do not," said the duke, "there must be some mistake; and as I am acquainted with the Duke, if you return I think I'll get you more." They went back, the duke rang the bells and ordered all the servants to be assembled. " Now."

said the duke to the boy. " point me out the person who gave the boy the shilling." "It was that chap there, with the apron," pointing to the butler .-The butler confessed, fell on his knees, and attempted an apology; but the duke indignantly ordered him to give the boy the sovereign, and quit his service immediately. "You have lost," said the duke, " your money, your situation, and your character, by your covetousness; learn henceforth that honesty is the best policy." The boy by this time recognized his assistant in the person of the duke, and the duke was so delighted with the sterling worth and honesty of boy, that he ordered him to FRYING LEECHES .- A physician in one of the trio cities adjoining Boston, recently prescribed leeches to be applied to one of his patients, a son of the Emerald Isle. The Irishman's wife mistaking the ,word "applied" for fried, in the hurried manner in which the direction was given, fried a small mess of blood-suckers, and gave to her husband to eat. At the next visit of the physician, finding his patient no better, he enquired if she had applied the leeches as he had ordered.

"Och sure and I did," replied the woman : " I fried them in a little nice butther, but Patrick, poor man, said he'd rather be afther atein' a dish o' fried grubs."

The doctor looked amazed. "You don't mean to say that you fried the leeches?" he ejaculated

"By my hopes of all the saints' blissias, I did. she replied; "and it would ha' done your soul good to see how beautifully I cooked the little squir "You didn't give them to your husband to eat?" exclaimed the physician with increased astonish-

"Sure and I did; ivery blessed son of 'em." "Didn't I tell you to put them on his stomach?" said the doctor, interrogatively.

"Faix, and I did," she replied, "and if poor Patrick didn't swalley 'em doon the wrong way, they are on his stomach now!"

The physician said no more, but administering a powerful emetic to the patient he mizzled. In a iew days afterwards the woman met the doctor, when she complimented him on the wonderful effect of fried leeches! and declared that her dear Patrick " was as well as iver."

A CAPITAL TRICK THAT ENDED WELL .- Here is a hand a good supply of story which we have just heard. A young man (a) brother to "Sly Boots" perhaps for like her he enjoyed a good joke,) was studying in college. One afternoon he walked out with one of his instructors, and they changed to see an old pair of shoes lying by the side of the path which appeared to belong to a poor man at work close by. Let us have a little amusement at his expense, said the student. | be able to give satisfaction. Suppose we hide these shoes, and conceal ourselves in the bushes to watch his perplexity when he cannot find them. I can think of a better trick than that, said the instructor, You are rich, and suppose you put a silver dollar in the toe of each shoe and then we will hide. The young man did so .-The poor man finished his work soon, and went to THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and put on his shoes You can imagine his surprise 1 the public generally that he has when he stooped down to take out a pebble, as he supposed, from the toe, and found it to be a hard dollar, and then his absolute perplexity and astonishment, when he found still another in the other shoe. His feelings overcame him; he fell upon his knees, looked up to heaven, and uttered aloud a fervent thanksgiving, in which he thanked a kind Providence for sending some unknown hand to save from perishing his sick and helpless wife and his children without bread. Do you wonder that the young man stood in his hiding place deeply af fected, and his eyes filled with tears? Young friends and you " Miss Sly Boots," when you want to enjoy real fun, real pleasure, at witnessing the perplexity of others, see if you cannot in some way imitate the student. Such tricks are worth performing.

BROKEN WIND OR HEAVES .- " Heaves," the common name for broken wind in the horse, is susceptible of great alleviation by attention to the character and quantity of food to be eaten by the animal, as every one knows. If a horse suffering from this disease is allowed to distend his stomach at his pleasure, with dry food entirely, and then to drink 7()() cold water ad libitum, he is nearly worthless. But if his food be moistened, and he be allowed to drink a moderate quantity at a time, the disease is much less troublesome.

A still further alleviation of the "heaves" may be obtained from the use of raw, fat salt pork, from time to time. I do not say that the heaves can be cured by the use of salt pork, but alieviated still more than by feeding with food without the pork. Commence with a piece of pork, say a cubic inch, chopped very fine and mixed with wetted grain or cut feed, twice a day for two or three days. Then from day to day increase the quantity and cut less fice, until there is given with each feed such a slice as usually is by a farmer's wife is cut for frying, nearly as large as your hand, cut into fifteen or twenty pieces. Continue this for two weeks, and the horse is capable of an ordinary work without distress, and without showing the heaves. I have experience and observation for the past ten years as proof of the above. - Country Gentleman.

FEMALE KINDNESS .- A candidate for the honor of representing four Fife burghs in Parliament calling upon an honest shoemaker for his vote and influence, took the liberty of kissing the gudewifes who was a middle aged woman, and, in doing so, he took the further liberty of slipping a couple of guineas out of his own mouth into that of the matron. Instead of being offended by such a breach of decorum, the lady slyly said, as she pocketed the two shining pieces-" Gin ye like, sir, ye may kiss my dochter tae."

SHART GIRLS .- A young gentleman of Kilkenny, meeting a handsome milk-maid near Parade, said "What will you take for yourself and your milk, my dear?" The girl instantly replied, "Yoursell and a gold ring, sir." That is good, but the girl at the boarding house was better. A gentleman called in and was shown over a set of rooms by a very pretty girl. "Are you let with the the room?" inquired the gallant. " No sir ; I am to on hand a good supply of each of the above articles, he the let alone."

Ingratitude is so deadly a poison thas it destroys he very bosom in which it is harbored.

A Friend in Need .- Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is a friend in need. Who has not found it such in curing all diseases of the lungs and throat. coughs, solds, and pulmonary affections, and " last do. Copperas, Cudbear, Madder, Dyes and Acids of all not least," Consumption? There's a vile counterfeit of this Balsam. therefore be sure and buy that prepared by S. W. Fowle & Co., Boston, which has the written signa ture of I. BUTTS on the outside wrapper.

Drugs, Medicines, &c.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause. One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

AYER'S Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only screfula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTEB and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM. RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DIS-BASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-TED OR IMPURE BIOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in

Ayer's Cathartic Pills, FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organ-ism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanae, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costive-ness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten. PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO.
