Desultory.

The Rose that all are Praising.

The rose that all are praising Is not the rose for me; Too many eyes are gazing Upon that costly tree; But there's a rose in yonder glen, That shans the gaze of other men, For me its blossoms raising-Oh! that's the rose for me.

The gem a king might covet Is not the gem for me; From darkness who would move it. Save that the world may see? But I've a gem that shuns display, And next my heart worn every day, So dearly do I love it-Oh! that's the gem for mo.

Gay birds in cages pining Are not the birds for me Their plumes so highly shining I do not care to see; But I've a bird that gaily sings, Thouge free to rove she folds her wings, For me her flight resigning-Oh! that's the bird for me.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corraption of the blood by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by morcurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Enupriva and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Exysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Plotches, BLAINS and Boils, Tumons, Terren and Walt RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMARISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPEY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURB BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsapa-rilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in con-
