EXTRAORDINARY NARRATIVE. - The Cleveland Herald gives the following story of the unparalleled adventures of a Cleveland boy, who was stolen from his parents twenty-six years ago, by Canada Inof the Northwest, and among the Indians near the SHOES ever imported into this place. 5 cases daily Arctic regions, together with three thousand miles

One of the most extraordinary narratives that we have had the fortune to relate has just come under our notice. It was told us by the hero himself, and the most searching investigation fails to shake the truth of the story, astonishing as it may seem to be. If there is any deception in the case we fail to see its object.

were in Cleveland, and did some trading with the PACCAS, a splendid article for Summer Coats. LASTpeople. In the course of the trade the Indians INGS, RUSSELCORDS, &c.; with every description of fancied they had been cheated, and, in order to re- FURNISHING GOODS. venge themselves, stole a three year old boy from the city and carried bim off to Canada. As far as can be learned, the child was stolen from a small brown house, but in what part of the city, or any farther particulars of the theft, cannot be learned. The captors kept the boy in Canada for a few days, and then, fearing his recovery by the whites, sold him to a party of Pottawotamies, who kept him about a month. By these he was again sold to the Paw Paws, in which tribe he remained a month, but, as there were some fears that he wou'd be traced and taken by the whites, he was traded off to the Winnebagoes of Illinois and Wisconsin. How long he remained in the keeping of this tribe has not been ascertained, but he was eventually transferred from them to the Chippewas of Wisconsin, who again sold him to the Sioux Indians of Minnesota. Twenty-five years ago he was sold by the Chip. pewas to the Snakes and Copperheads of lowa. apr 30. When this tribe removed to Missouri, he accompanied them, and afterwards went with them in their migrations through California and Oregon. That portion of the tribe with which he remained finally proceeded as far north as the Russian possessions near Behring's Straits, and there, with portions of the Greeks, Utahs, and other large bands of Indians, they at present remain. Their principal point of settlement is about three hundred miles from the North Pacific Ocean, and about twentytwo hundred miles to the northwest of St. Paul.

One of the points in the Russian territory where the tribe occasionally visits is "Russian Fort," which is laid down on the Map as near the Colville River. The hero of this strange adventure says the fort is in the vicinity of a small river, the name of which, other than that given by his tribe, he does not know. The Snake and Copper Head Indians trade with St. Pauls, having a semi-annual train to that place. The train has about two thousand Indians. One party starts from St. Pauls about the same time the other starts from their hunting grounds, thus meeting about half-way. The furs are packed on ponies, elks and dogs.

On their last semi-annual trip, the hero of these adventures received a pass from one of the chiefs -" Ma co-chew-a-wa" -to seek out his relatives, and, if found to remain with them awhile. The pass requires his presence in St. Pauls at their next the public "Mo-kos-e-qua" -for that is the Indian name of which we would particularly notice the the young man-to Chicago. From that place he has footed it most of the way, and arrived here which is of the finest Felt, and so soft that it can be folded yesterday. At Fremont, his features were recog- and carried in a small leather pocket case. nized by a man as bearing a strong resemblance to one Joseph Todd, who is said to have resided in Cleveland about thirty years since.

For some time past, the young man has been inquiries. He says that he has no desire to leave Markets. his Indian associates, as he has a wife and two children among them. He speaks English well, having learned it, he says, in his trading at St. Pauls. He says that his hair was cut and clothing changed to conform to white usages, before leaving Best Quality Cienfuegos MOLASSES,

We have given this narrative as he told it us this morning. It seems extraordinary, but a close and rigid cross-examination failed to shake his story in the least. As far as we can learn, his account of numerous minute details of the country and manners of the far northwest regions do not differ from the facts. What motive there is for deception TWO HUNDRED PLOUGHS! we cannot see at present, as he only desires information as to his parents. He is slightly made, speaks rapidly, and is at present suffering from ophthalmia, occasioned, he says, by sleeping without his customary blankets. He says that as soon as he can get into the woods to search for roots, he can cure himself.

Perhaps some of the older settlers can throw some light on the subject of the alleged stealing by the Indians, and whether the "white Indian" is not the son of Joseph Todd.

SAVING TIME. - A clergyman who enjoys the substantial benefits of a fine farm, was slightly taken down, a few days ago, by his Irish plowman, who was setting at his plow, in a tobacco field, resting his horse. The reverend gentleman, being an economist, said with great seriousness, "John, would east iron taken in exchange. it not be a good plan for you to get a stub-scythe here and be hubbing a few bushes along the fence, while the horse is resting?" John, with quite as serious a countenace as the divine wore himself, replied-" Wouldn't it be well, sir, for you to have a tub o' potatoes in the pulpit, and when they are singing, to peel 'em awile to be ready for the pot?" The reverend gentleman laughed heartly and then

He found them in the third ward, and after kissing his wife, saw with astonishment, that his children, like sheep in the East, had doubled in the five years, as in the place of two there were now four, and one quite small. Drugs, Medicines, &c. Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found

of the following complaints: -SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS. ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS. PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AF-FECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-RALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYS-PEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, Rose OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of

THE BLOOD. This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown. Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else. During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on
