AN ANTI-BACCHANALIAN SONG Anacreon may boast of his 'nectar divine,' Wreathe the bowl with fair Poesy's flowers, And Moore, with his gay coruscations of song,

Enliven the table's dull hours. But the wit that is born of the wine-cup, methinks, The it scintillates brightly at first, Like the sky-rocket's flight, ends in silence and night When the beautiful meteor has burst.

But the cool crystal draught from the bubbling fount . That from Nature's green bosom wells forth, Sparkles in the sunbeam till the drops of the stream Are like diamonds of costliest worth. Provided by One who is purity's self, This beverage is type of His love,

Like the dews that distil from above. Let wine-bibbers rave in the praise of the grape, Rare ruby, pale amber, rich gold, Underneath the 'bee's wing' lurks a sharp, glowing

That bites like a serpent, we're told. But water ne'er gives us head-ache or 'ennui,' Nor poisons our blood and our brain. Then give me 'quantum suf' of this excellent stuff, And the goblet to you I will drain.

PLAIN LIVING .- Hall's Journal of Health says -" We believe a man feels as happy after a plain dinner as alter a laxarious one; certain are we that he sleeps sounder that night, and feels better for it all next day; all the advantage to the luxurious is the transient passage down the throat. White beans, whole or split peas, hominy, oat meal, corn meal, samp, hulled corn, crushed wheat and rice, are among the cheapest, most wholesome and most nutritious articles of food, and all alike recommended to those who want to be healthy. I fruits were largely used with the above diet, either baked, if green, or stewd. when dried, both th digestion and the health would be greatly improved, to say nothing of the agreeableness of the ad-

GROW BEAUTIFUL .- Persons may outgrow disease, and become healthy by proper attention to the laws of their physical constitutions. By moderate and daily exercise, men may become active and strong in limb and muscle. But to grow beautiful, bow Age dims the lustre of the eye, and pales the roses on beauty's cheek; while crow feet and farrows, and winkles, and lost teeth, and grey hairs, and bald head, and tottering limbs, and limping feet, most sadly mar the human form divine. But dim as the eye is, as pallid and sunken as may be the face of beauty, and frail and feeble that once strong, erect and manly body, the immortal soul, just fledging its wings for its home in heaven, may look out through these faded windows as beautiful as the dewdrops of a summer morning, as the tear glistens in affection's eye by growing kindly, by cultivating sympathy with all human kind; by cherishing forbearence towards the foibles of our race, and feeding day by day on that love to God and man which lifts us from the brute and makes us akin.

Shoeing Hens

" A friend of ours boarding in the country found his hostess one morning busily engaged in making numerous small woolen bags, of singular shape. Upon inquiry, he was informed that they were shoes for St. John for Lastport, Portland and Boston, on THURS. hens, to prevent them from scratching. The lady stated that it had been her practice for years to shoe her hens, and save they are not patented,) were of woolen, made somewhat of the shape of a fowl's Ever free in its grace for all times, things, and place, foot, sufficiently large to slip over the foot with ease, after which it is closed with a needle, and sewed tightly on, extending about an inch up the leg. Our triend observed that some of the biddies, possibly conceited with their new honors, appeared to tread as though walking on eggs-particularly was this case when from the width of the shoe one would conceive that their toes might be a little

This is not a bad idea. We have seen hens shod before, and with good results; it is not necessary, however, to make a regular shoe for them; even a piece of cloth embracing their foot and secured to the leg, the bag being large enough to allow their toes to expand in it, will answer the purpose very well. By such an appliance, hen-yards and tight fences are unnecessary, the hens are allowed their liberty all summer, and will lay better for it, and even the garden and field will be between St. John and Shediac as follows : kept clean from many worms, bugs, flies and other vermin that injure vegetation. But for their scratching, hens do little FASTING .- Fasting has been frequently recom- harm and much good on cultivated

> GARDENS FOR HEALTH .- On every side, home-pruning and hoeing and weeding and training-so employed, how can one help being happy and healthy? It would be an evil day for a man so situated, to hire a gardener to do all his work. What harm is there in a little sweat, a little dirt, and a few blisters, it thereby one keeps dyspepsia and ill health generally, at a distance.—American Agriculturist.

NATURAL GRAPE TRELLIS .- While on visit to West Chester lately, we observed in the garden of Mr. Jeffries a mode of training grape vines, which appeared to us worthy of note. A cedar tree possessing a symmetrical form of branches, is selected, and when cut down, the branches are carefully preserved, thinning out the smaller twigs, but leaving the pyramidal shape prominent. This used as a stake, and when covered with vines is highly ornamental as well as torming a superior support for the grape. A row of them seen from a distance has the appearance OPENING FOR DISTINCTION-Col. Forney writes to of luxuriant tulip trees or sycamor maples. -Farmer and Gardner.

SALT FOR CABBAGES .- Edward Carpencabbage would bear without injury, but is fully satisfied that a solution no stronger A PRINTER ON A TRAMP .- A Dutchman, sitting than that he used is decidedly beneficial.

> CURING RANCID RUTTER-A correspondent of the Rural Register gives the following recipe for curing rancid butter:-For 100 lbs. rancid butter, take 2 lbs. fine white powdered sugar, 2 ounces saltpetre finely pulvarized, and as much fine dairy salt as you wish to add to the butter to make it to your taste. The butter has to be thoroughly washed in cold water before working in the above ingredients. The amount used should be in proportion to the strongness of the butter.

COLLODION FOR GRAFTING .- They are practicing a process in France, by which trees can be grafted at any season of the year, when mature buds can be obtained. whether the sap is in a flowing state of OVEN AND BOILER MOUTHS, not. They remove a small piece of bark and wood, leaving a perfectly smooth surface, to which a similar piece, containing and for Camping purposes I keep the bud intended to form the future tree, is fitted. This is immediately sealed over with collodion, which forms a strong, impervious cuticle, insuring a perfect union of parts and a free circulation of sap, on approach of warm weather. - Working Farmer.

CURE FOR BURNS .- The " Gazette Medicale," France, says that, by an accident, · I am an humble disciple of Faust-a professor charcoal has been discovered to be a cure charcoal upon a burn, the pain subsides immediately. By leaving the charcoal on one hour, the wound is healed, as has 'A man vat prints newspapers! Oh, yaw! yaw! been demonstrated on several occasions. dat ish it-a man votch printsh newspapers! Yaw! The remedy is cheap and simple, and certainly deserves a trial.

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pim-ples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases. OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859. J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejeiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Gincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease is gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours, ALFRED B. TALLEY. St. Anthony's Fire. Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases. Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: " I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saving I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrowlous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Lencorrhea by it, and some where the completed was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The decration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Margow, of Newbury, Ala., writes: "A dangerous orarian tumor on one o" the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your arsanarilla as the last resort before entting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease. NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859. DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla. I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercarriel Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic alcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his month. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by sec ondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the alcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration of the face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bone. They had become so sens! tive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruei ting pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cared entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D. Rheumatism, Gont, Liver Complaint. INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859. Dr. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies Leould find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM. Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Lirer. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."
