Desultory.

LOUIS PHILIPPE AND HIS FATHER -I went there at about half-past seven o'clock, and found the Due de Brion and the party there assembled very of a body as any one could see, by a glance dismal. He had every half-hour a list sent him of at her front yard and windows. There the votes, and we all saw with agony that many was a honey-suckle trained upon each had voted for the King's death. He also heard side of the door, a flower border running that, at eight o'clock, the Duke of Orleans had the whole length of the house, where the entered the Convention, which surprised us all. crocuses and snow-drops hailed the first I feared much that he was going to vote for the genial days of spring, and jonquils, pinks, seclusion, for I never thought of worse. However, violets, lilies, roses, and asters lavished every het was more and more alarming, till about their blossoms all summer long. The fence ten o'clock the sad and fatal list arrived with the was picketed and painted wite, indicative King's condemnation, and with the Duke of Orleans' of the tidy housewife and the clean condishonour. I never felt such horror for anybody sciences within. The windows had green in my life as I did at that moment at the Duke's blinds, but they were kept joyously conduct. We were all in deep affliction and tears; opened, as if the sun and friends were even poor Biron, who, alas! was a republican, was both heartily welcome to the best room, almost in a fit. A young man who was the Duke's where Content Rogers was the presiding aide de-camp, tore off his coat and flung it into the genius. I have sometimes thought that fire, saying that he should blush ever to wear it these strongly marked traits of character again. Hi name was Rutaux, and he was a native run in the blood, and that a croaker or a of Nancy. Le was a noble, and a very good young jolly woman was quite as much indebted man, who had not emigrated out of affection for to her constitution, as to her training, for me. My servants all looked horror struck. I did ment. Her maiden name was Goodenough, not dare sleep in my room alone. I desired my her father was called Waitstill, and her great light and prayed. I could not sleep. The by the way,) was named Content as fillimage of the innocent King was constantly before ing the measure of their happfness. I even threw the things he had given me which I had in my pocket and in ancients, she had married Constant Rogers, my room out of it, not daring to stay near anything and settled in this neat white farm house. that had been his. Such at that moment was the time before I would have given my life. . . .

The Duc de Chartere (Louis Philippe) wrote his father a most harsh letter, which his father never at the table." torgave till the day of his death. His son upbraided him much with the King's death. I perfectly remember the letter, for I had it two days in my possession. The Duke burnt it in my room, the last day in his life that he came to my house .-Journal during the French Revolution.

PEDESTRIANISM .- On Monday about 1000 spectators assembled at Hackney Wick to witness the ten miles race between Edwin Mills and W. Jones, of Islington, for £50. Mills having to allow his opponent two minutes and a half start. The betting was 7 to 4 and 2 to 1 on Mills, whose friends, notwithstanding the start he had to allow, were wonderfully sanguine of success. When the referee had taken up his position, Jones received the signal to start, when off he bounded at a clipping pace, covering in the given time about 840 yards, so that Mills had to pass his man four times before he would succeed in closing the haitus between them. When Mills, who had been watching the progress of his opponent, received the notice to go, he bounded off amidst the cheers of his partizans. From the moment Mills started he commenced cutting down the space between himself and his opponent in an unmistakable manner, and had so improved his position, that when the pedestrians commenced the tenth and last mile Mills led about two yards, and went in, a gallant winner, Jones not being more than a dozen yards in the rear. Both received quite an ovation as he left the ground. Time, 54, min. 39 secs.

with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable: prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is erceping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse rily the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the hody into vigorous activity, purify the system from where in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deepscated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapilly, and many of them surely, cared by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure. Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one reme ly I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is wor-thy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1853. SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and do not hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhæz, Relax, Worms. From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago. Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhæa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston. DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purily the bloo I, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855. DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood. JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rhenmatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc. From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada. Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costireness. If others of our frateralty have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease. From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston. I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cle use the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients. From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1853, HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me it I did not report my ease to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgie pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well. SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec., 1855. of Rheumatic Gout - a painful disease that had afflicted VINCENT SLIDELL.

me for years. Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently ollow its incuatious use.
