A DUEL IN RUSSIA .- A Warsaw letter of Nov. 14 gives some most extraordinary details which I have state of seige was proclaimed in Warsaw, a council Renfrew House. We have just completed our Summer of war was held, to deliberate on the course to be Stock of Staple and Fancy taken with regard to the crowds which flocked to the churches to celebrate funeral services for Polish martyrs. Gen. Lambert was for moderation; but which is one of the Largest and Cheapest that has Gen. Gerstenweig, Senator Platenoff and Gen. Kry- been imported into Woodstock. The stock in store consists zanowski voted for measures of extreme rigor, and in part as follows: their opinion prevailed. It was decided that the troops should surround the churches during service, let the women come out, but arrest all the men. Of the men arrested, all between the ages of 12 and 40 were to bave their heads shaved, and be incorporated in regiments serving in distant parts of the Empire. This order was signed, but the General commanding the citidel, Gen. Sowszyn, got frightened when he saw the immense number of prisoners, and thought it necessary to confer with Gen. Lambert. The latter shrunk from the responsibility of dealing in the manner prescribed with so many prisoners, and took upon himself to set a thousand of them at liberty. A quarrel thereupon ensued between Gen. Lambert and Gen. Gerstzenweig, in the course of which the latter called the former a coward. Gen. Lambert replied; "General, one camp who were present at this scene, feeling that particular attention to our stock of serious affair, at that moment interfered, and it was sgreed that instead of fighting, they should draw Fots to determine which of them should commit suicide. One of the aides-de-camps thereupon presented to Gen. Gertsenweig the corners of two hand- made to order, on the shortest notice, parties finding their kerchiefs, in one of which a knot was tied, and it own cloth if they wish. was agreed that if he drew out the one with the Rnot he should kill himself; if otherwise, Gen. Lambert was devoted to self-slaughter. Gertsenhimself, three times in the head. The first shot did no harm ; the second wounded him near the eye ; the third took off a portion of the scull and completely disabled him, but without causing immediate death. The unfortunate General lingered for many days in horrible agony, attended by Sisters of Charity, and at length gave up the ghost. Gen Lambert, horrified at the tragical result of this drama, resigned immediately, and left Warsaw, notwithstanding urgent entreaties from St. Petersburg that he should keep his command.

A NOVEL PRESCRIPTION .- The great physician, Sydenham, had long attended a gentleman of fortune but with little advantage to his patient. At length he frankly confessed his inability to do his patient any more good, but added that so far north as Inverness there was a physician named Robertson, who had achieved many cures of the same complaint, and who would probably be able to cure this one. The gentleman received a statement of the case from Sydenham, together with a letter of introduction, and set forth on the long journey to Inverness. Or arriving there and inquiring for Dr. Robertson he found, to his dismay, that there was no such physician in the town nor ever had been in the memory of any person there. He returned to town vowing vengeance on Sydenham, and on reaching London instantly poured forth his indignation at having been sent a journey of so many hundred miles for better in health?" "Yes, I am now quite well, but no thanks to you." "No," says Sydenham. " but you may thank Dr. Robertson for curing you. I wished to send you a journey with some object of interest in view; I knew it would be of service to you. In going you had Dr. Robertson and his wonderful cures in contemplation; and in returnmg you were equally engaged in thinking of scold-

"In 1847 or '46 I was a superintendent of a eocoa-nut estate belonging to Mr. Armitage, situated about 12 miles from Negombo. A rogue elephant did considerable injury to the estate at that time; and one day, hearing that it was then on the plantation, a Mr. Lindsay, an Englishman, who was proprietor of the adjoining property, and myself, accompanied by seven or eight people of the neighboring village, went out, carrying with us six rifles loaded and primed. We had calculated to come up with the brute where it had been seen half an hour before; but no sooner had one of our men, who was walking foremost, seen the animal at the to his heels, and we all followed his example. The elephant did not see us until we had run some fifteen or twenty paces from the spot where we turnmoving, as he did so, several times round and round the tree. Lastly, failing in all this, and seeing a pile of timber, which I had lately cut, at a short distance from us, he removed it all (thirty-six pieces) one at a time to the root of the tree, and piled them up in a regular business-like manner ; then placing his hind feet on this he raised the fore part of his body, and reached out his trunk; but still he could not touch us, as we were too far above him. The Englishman then fired, and the will be taught, including Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Natball took effect somewhere on the elephant's head, | ural and Moral Philosophy, with the Elements of Agriculbut did not kill him.
