A Leipsic journal tells that a physician of Potsool has discovered a method by which he can artificially produce in anybody's throat any desired quality and register of voice. He creates at pleasure bass, baritone, tenor, or soprano voice in the human larynx by means of a slight and simple operation, quickly performed without pain or danger; and in a week, or fortnight at farthest, those who have fered for sale by Public Auction, at this Office on submitted to it acquire great musical powers, however inharmonious the voice may have been previously.
