

TERMS of the CARLETON SENTINEL per annum, $1.80, cash payment in advance. $2 if paid within 6 mos. Clubs of $1.50, and one to the sender of the club. Advertisements must be handed in on Thursday.

The Carleton Sentinel.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1863.

A verdict for a large amount having been recovered at the suit of Charles Connell against the subscriber; the only claim of Mr. Connell being based on, and rising out of, certain outstanding debts due to the Carleton Sentinel; he, the subscriber has now to request that all persons indebted to the Carleton Sentinel, previous to January 1st, 1863, for any services, in any amount, will immediately make payment of the same, in order to save him further trouble. He asks this as an act of sympathy and justice.

WOODSTOCK, OCTOBER 1st, 1863.

Majority of the Order of S. of T.

The Sons of Temperance celebration, at Lower Woodstock, under the auspices of Garibaldi Division, came off on Tuesday last in a manner affording much satisfaction to those present. The dinner was excellent; the music most creditable, and the speaking good. We have not received any account from which we can give a more full report of the proceedings.

In Woodstock, the Pie-Nic was held in Ketchum's grove, Upper Woodstock, a very delightful place, where the contents of the baskets combined, formed an array of good things, to satisfy the appetite, tempting and abundant. There was a large gathering reminding one, while in the height of their enjoyment, of the "Days when we went gipsying."

Several clergymen were among the guests. After all had partaken of the dainties provided, the Rev. Mr. Sanderson was called to the chair, when the following sentiments were given:

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

McLeod's Reception. Mr. McLeod, the winner of the Prince of Wales' Cup arrived in the Tobacco on Thursday evening. A guard of honor, composed of a portion of the Rifle Company, clad in their new scarlet uniform, received Mr. McLeod at the boat. Entering a barouche with Lieut. Cols. Baird and Tupper, a procession was formed composing the Brass Band, and a carriage containing Sergeants Kerrigan and Boyer, carrying the Union Jack, with the Rifle Company, which paraded the streets and escorted Mr. McLeod to his dwelling. En route the procession halted at R. Donaldson's, and were refreshed at the instance and expense of Col. Tupper.

Circuit Court. The Circuit Court for this County was opened here on Tuesday last, his Honor Sir James Carter presiding. Mr. John Jones was chosen Foreman of the Grand Jury. His honor's charge was very brief and directed entirely to the several cases to be submitted to the Grand Inquest. True bills were found in the following cases: Queen vs John Leary and others; riot; Queen vs James Martin, perjury; Queen vs James McAloon, larceny; Queen vs Mulligan, assault; Queen vs James Sewell, manslaughter; Queen vs John Hartin, assault; Queen vs R. B. Davis, assault. We have not space this week to give any further details of the business before the Court.

York County Agricultural Show. We have received a pamphlet entitled, "Transactions of the York County Agricultural Society and its branches for 1862," being a full and complete exposition of what its title indicates. It is neatly printed at the office of the Frederick Reporter. We have also received the prospectus of the forthcoming Agricultural Show, &c., of the York County Society. The arrangements are such as to ensure satisfaction to all exhibitors at the Show, which will take place on Wednesday and Thursday, October 7th and 8th. The following items from the programme may be of interest to many of our York Co. readers. The attendance no doubt both of exhibitors and spectators will be large.

MONDAY, October 6th.—Grounds open from 9 A. M., close 6 P. M., for the reception and entry of animals and articles (more particularly Horticultural produce and Implements.) Day and night watch from Tuesday morning till close of the Fair, to take charge of the grounds.

WEDNESDAY, October 7th.—Grounds open at 6 o'clock, A. M., for the reception and entry of animals and articles. Entry books to be closed at 12 o'clock, noon.

Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

Responded to by Rev. B. F. Rattray. Members and their families (except sons of age) will be admitted at any time during the Fair, upon presentation of their ticket.

Moved by J. R. Parsons—The day we celebrate—the bright dawn of the inebriate millennium: the natal day of Man's God-like effort to redeem his fellow man and elevate the race.

Moved by W. D. Hart—The Order of the Sons of Temperance—the silver lining of the dark cloud of man's depravity; the safe resort for the youth; the asylum for the unfortunate drunkard, and a blessing and comfort and hope to all.

ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE.—The October number of this old and favorite Magazine is to hand, and it is saying sufficient as regards the character, when we say it fully equals any of its predecessors.

Our thanks are due Tobin's Express for files of late Boston papers.

ST. JOHN CORRESPONDENCE.

DEAR SENTINEL.—Since I last wrote you, we have passed through exciting times. Lord Lyons came. The people of Woodstock saw him first. During the afternoon of the day that he arrived from Fredericton, Prince William street was crowded with spectators, anxious to get a glimpse of the man who so ably manages the affairs of England on this side of the water—a task by no means frivolous in these troublous times. The day was chilly, too, yet frail women stood there most persistently, until they were blue with cold, and every eye was turned to see if there was any person indeed, who looked different from other men. At last a carriage, in which were a couple of young boys in military uniform, passed rapidly along the streets, and then was a commotion in the crowd, a sudden convulsive stir, and a rush to the man who looked different from other men. At last a carriage, in which were a couple of young boys in military uniform, passed rapidly along the streets, and then was a commotion in the crowd, a sudden convulsive stir, and a rush to the man who looked different from other men.

DEAR SENTINEL.—I can write no more; the victim of ebullient vapors into this air in the midst of high expectations; those of seeing face to face a man who didn't know the name of the town in which he resided. O! Wanderer, I'm ashamed of you.

Your's,

A. T.

GRAND FALLS CORRESPONDENCE.

DEAR SENTINEL.—The Circuit Court for this County opened here last Wednesday, 23d inst. His honor, the Chief Justice presided, and several lawyers from below were present, among whom I noticed the Solicitor General, Messrs. Fisher, Saunders and Allan. His honor's charge to the Grand Jury was short but impressive. He said that the Court should be congratulated on its having had one criminal case to be brought before him for trial. He had looked over the evidence connected therewith, and would say that it was a case quite simple in its form, and one upon which he would have, for their instruction, to refer but little to any authority. He remarked that his brother Judges had not been so fortunate as himself, as charges of a much graver nature had been brought before them. He concluded by congratulating them on the prospect of their soon being released from their duties, &c. &c. The Grand Jury having retired, the business of the Court was immediately proceeded with. The jurors retiring here last Wednesday, 23d inst. His honor, the Chief Justice presided, and several lawyers from below were present, among whom I noticed the Solicitor General, Messrs. Fisher, Saunders and Allan. His honor's charge to the Grand Jury was short but impressive. He said that the Court should be congratulated on its having had one criminal case to be brought before him for trial. He had looked over the evidence connected therewith, and would say that it was a case quite simple in its form, and one upon which he would have, for their instruction, to refer but little to any authority. He remarked that his brother Judges had not been so fortunate as himself, as charges of a much graver nature had been brought before them. He concluded by congratulating them on the prospect of their soon being released from their duties, &c. &c. The Grand Jury having retired, the business of the Court was immediately proceeded with.

A Frenchman named Carron, who was convicted last fall of horse stealing, and who, in accordance with the sentence awarded to him by the Court, was conveyed to the Provincial Penitentiary has since made his escape. He is now at large up river, and has been seen by several persons. A report says that one night last week he was seen attempting to set fire to a barn belonging to a Mr. Large, the man from whom he stole the horse, and resides a short distance below Baker Brook. He was immediately pursued, but contrived to effect his escape. A rather desperate character to be at large; means should be taken immediately by Government to effect his capture.

The Grand Falls Division of S. of T. of this place, are to be held hand with the rest of their brothers generally, as regards having a good time. To-morrow, the day of celebration everywhere else, is to be enjoyed by them in a picnic, where, &c., and in the evening a public meeting will be held in the Temperance Hall.

Yours,

YORK.

Colonial News.

DIPHTHERIA.—This fearful disease is rapidly spreading up and down our river, and in numerous instances has proved fatal. A man named Mordock, who lives a mile or two below Chatham, lost within a space of two weeks, three of his daughters, and has other members of his family lying in a precarious way. The families in the neighborhood, and have also suffered severely from the disease, which is well known by its seldom yields to any mode of treatment, unless commenced at the very first appearance of the disorder.—Miramichi Times.

At the Montreal Rifle Match which took place recently, His Excellency, Sir F. Williams, in the absence of the Governor General, opened the proceedings by firing the first shot, and scored a "bull's eye" at 800 yards range. There were competitors from all parts of Canada, as well as from several cities of the United States. The Challenge Vase, which is valued at $200, was won by Lord Lyons, of Toronto, who scored 27 points. Quebec was second on the list of aggregate points made. The ranges were 200, 400, and 500 yards, and each man fired five shots at each range.—Courier.

A NEW ARTICLE OF EXPORT.—So numerous are the droves here since beginning of autumn, that we have heard of two individuals who have, within the past few days killed, packed in ice, and exported to Boston no less than six barrels of these beautiful birds. Most of the birds were shot in the vicinity of Malpe, by two Americans. We have also heard it stated that a gentleman—a sportsman—residing in the vicinity of Charlottetown, assisted by two youthful sons, has shot about one thousand birds during the past month. The plover are unusually plenty this season, and very fine and fat. Wild geese have already made their appearance, several having been seen in different parts of the Island during the present week. These birds do not generally come so early in the season.—Charlottetown Islander.

THE CROPS IN P. E. ISLAND.—Ross's Weekly says:—Our farmers have every reason to be thankful for the delightful weather for harvesting wheat and to them. As yet the price of new oats rules low, but judging from reports from the States, we apprehend that the demand for oats will bring up the price to the standard of last fall at least. While the war continues large quantities of oats will be needed, especially as the Federals have determined to increase very materially their cavalry force.

Several murders have recently been perpetrated in the City of Quebec, and stabbing cases occur almost daily. In referring to the subject the Mercury of that city says:—The moral standard of Quebec seems to us to be at present fast attaining that point when murder, by pipe and disorder will be allowed to stalk brazen-faced and unpunished through our streets, when no law will be known but that of ruffianism, the bowie-knife, and the revolver, and when every man's life will be at the mercy of the next backguard who chooses to take the law into his own hands. The numbers of murders and stabbing affrays which have taken place within the last six months, the decision would be for us a very unfavorable one, indeed. That we are drifting into this degrading state of society is evident to all, and unless some prompt and vigorous measures be taken to root out the evil, our position will certainly be anything but enviable. Murders are now-a-days no extraordinary occurrence, and stabbing affrays quite common, and skull-breakings a thing of very slight moment.

Young Coelogan, the officer to whom Sir John Corbett refers, has forwarded the following letter to Col. Cole, and which appears in the last St. John Globe.

Sir,—I have the honor to report for your information the circumstances of my conduct in the Barrack Square on the 19th Sept., 1863.

I was walking in the Square, and I met two women. On passing them I asked them to come up to my room, which they did, going around by the back way. After I had led the ground, a few minutes after they had been in my quarters, I received a note from the Captain of my regiment, pointing out my indiscretion. I immediately closed the windows and got rid of the women in as private a way as possible. I beg to state that no officer of my regiment had any part in bringing the women to my room, and with the exception of one young ensign who dropped in casually, none of the regiment was present.

I trust you will exert your influence with the Major General in my behalf, and also express to him my sincere regret for my thoughtless conduct. I beg to offer my apologies to His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, the Volunteer Forces, and society at large. I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed) HENRY L. R. DECOLEZ.

Lieut. Lieut. 15th Regt.

A great many cases of house-breaking have occurred in and around our City lately, and two parties, man and wife, have been arrested on suspicion. The Province is to be well supplied with Almshouses for '64. The Messrs. Barnes, McMillan, and Hill (late Avery) have each one in process. Young Coelogan, the officer who acted in so ungentlemanly a manner at the review in the Barrack Square, of which I spoke in my last, has been under Court Martial, and takes passage in the Emperor to Halifax to-night to report his conduct to the General and from there he will proceed to the Quarters of the regiment in London, and await his sentence.

Dear Sentinel, I can write no more; the victim of ebullient vapors into this air in the midst of high expectations; those of seeing face to face a man who didn't know the name of the town in which he resided. O! Wanderer, I'm ashamed of you.

Your's,

A. T.

GRAND FALLS CORRESPONDENCE.

DEAR SENTINEL.—The Circuit Court for this County opened here last Wednesday, 23d inst. His honor, the Chief Justice presided, and several lawyers from below were present, among whom I noticed the Solicitor General, Messrs. Fisher, Saunders and Allan. His honor's charge to the Grand Jury was short but impressive. He said that the Court should be congratulated on its having had one criminal case to be brought before him for trial. He had looked over the evidence connected therewith, and would say that it was a case quite simple in its form, and one upon which he would have, for their instruction, to refer but little to any authority. He remarked that his brother Judges had not been so fortunate as himself, as charges of a much graver nature had been brought before them. He concluded by congratulating them on the prospect of their soon being released from their duties, &c. &c. The Grand Jury having retired, the business of the Court was immediately proceeded with.

A Frenchman named Carron, who was convicted last fall of horse stealing, and who, in accordance with the sentence awarded to him by the Court, was conveyed to the Provincial Penitentiary has since made his escape. He is now at large up river, and has been seen by several persons. A report says that one night last week he was seen attempting to set fire to a barn belonging to a Mr. Large, the man from whom he stole the horse, and resides a short distance below Baker Brook. He was immediately pursued, but contrived to effect his escape. A rather desperate character to be at large; means should be taken immediately by Government to effect his capture.

The Grand Falls Division of S. of T. of this place, are to be held hand with the rest of their brothers generally, as regards having a good time. To-morrow, the day of celebration everywhere else, is to be enjoyed by them in a picnic, where, &c., and in the evening a public meeting will be held in the Temperance Hall.

Yours,

YORK.

Colonial News.

DIPHTHERIA.—This fearful disease is rapidly spreading up and down our river, and in numerous instances has proved fatal. A man named Mordock, who lives a mile or two below Chatham, lost within a space of two weeks, three of his daughters, and has other members of his family lying in a precarious way. The families in the neighborhood, and have also suffered severely from the disease, which is well known by its seldom yields to any mode of treatment, unless commenced at the very first appearance of the disorder.—Miramichi Times.

At the Montreal Rifle Match which took place recently, His Excellency, Sir F. Williams, in the absence of the Governor General, opened the proceedings by firing the first shot, and scored a "bull's eye" at 800 yards range. There were competitors from all parts of Canada, as well as from several cities of the United States. The Challenge Vase, which is valued at $200, was won by Lord Lyons, of Toronto, who scored 27 points. Quebec was second on the list of aggregate points made. The ranges were 200, 400, and 500 yards, and each man fired five shots at each range.—Courier.

A NEW ARTICLE OF EXPORT.—So numerous are the droves here since beginning of autumn, that we have heard of two individuals who have, within the past few days killed, packed in ice, and exported to Boston no less than six barrels of these beautiful birds. Most of the birds were shot in the vicinity of Malpe, by two Americans. We have also heard it stated that a gentleman—a sportsman—residing in the vicinity of Charlottetown, assisted by two youthful sons, has shot about one thousand birds during the past month. The plover are unusually plenty this season, and very fine and fat. Wild geese have already made their appearance, several having been seen in different parts of the Island during the present week. These birds do not generally come so early in the season.—Charlottetown Islander.

THE CROPS IN P. E. ISLAND.—Ross's Weekly says:—Our farmers have every reason to be thankful for the delightful weather for harvesting wheat and to them. As yet the price of new oats rules low, but judging from reports from the States, we apprehend that the demand for oats will bring up the price to the standard of last fall at least. While the war continues large quantities of oats will be needed, especially as the Federals have determined to increase very materially their cavalry force.

Several murders have recently been perpetrated in the City of Quebec, and stabbing cases occur almost daily. In referring to the subject the Mercury of that city says:—The moral standard of Quebec seems to us to be at present fast attaining that point when murder, by pipe and disorder will be allowed to stalk brazen-faced and unpunished through our streets, when no law will be known but that of ruffianism, the bowie-knife, and the revolver, and when every man's life will be at the mercy of the next backguard who chooses to take the law into his own hands. The numbers of murders and stabbing affrays which have taken place within the last six months, the decision would be for us a very unfavorable one, indeed. That we are drifting into this degrading state of society is evident to all, and unless some prompt and vigorous measures be taken to root out the evil, our position will certainly be anything but enviable. Murders are now-a-days no extraordinary occurrence, and stabbing affrays quite common, and skull-breakings a thing of very slight moment.

Young Coelogan, the officer to whom Sir John Corbett refers, has forwarded the following letter to Col. Cole, and which appears in the last St. John Globe.

Sir,—I have the honor to report for your information the circumstances of my conduct in the Barrack Square on the 19th Sept., 1863.

I was walking in the Square, and I met two women. On passing them I asked them to come up to my room, which they did, going around by the back way. After I had led the ground, a few minutes after they had been in my quarters, I received a note from the Captain of my regiment, pointing out my indiscretion. I immediately closed the windows and got rid of the women in as private a way as possible. I beg to state that no officer of my regiment had any part in bringing the women to my room, and with the exception of one young ensign who dropped in casually, none of the regiment was present.

I trust you will exert your influence with the Major General in my behalf, and also express to him my sincere regret for my thoughtless conduct. I beg to offer my apologies to His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, the Volunteer Forces, and society at large. I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed) HENRY L. R. DECOLEZ.

Lieut. Lieut. 15th Regt.

By Telegraph to the "Carleton Sentinel." BANGOR, Sept. 26. Advice from Rosecrans to Thursday, give additional assurance his position can only be assailed by regular troops; his purpose is to resume offensive soon as reinforcements, including Burnside arrive. Richmond Whig, while claiming victory, regards it futile, unless Burnside is dislodged and driven from East Tennessee, his position being of utmost importance to Confederacy. Cincinnati despatch says Federal losses in Northern Georgia will reach 1700 killed, 1500 wounded. Col. Barriett of the artillery admits a loss of 50 pieces.

BANGOR, Sept. 28. Rosecrans still unimpaired in present position; Burnside also unimpaired, and has been repulsed by concerted action at Cumberland Gap. He did not know of impending battle, and could not reinforce Rosecrans if he had. A Memphis letter says, a formidable expedition is on foot against Mobile; also that Sherman's army is on its way to join Rosecrans, and rumors of McPherson's also. New Orleans advices report troops in Sabine Pass expedition to join overland force.

World's Washington despatch interprets good news from Rosecrans to mean that he has received reinforcements from other sources. Troops known to be moving in large numbers through Richmond, southward. Gen. Gilmore still actively engaged erecting siege guns in Charleston harbor. Boisterous weather interfered with Gen. Sherman's command of 12th corps. Gen. Hooker to enter active service at once.

BANGOR, Sept. 29th. London Times, in editorial on Canada, says she could not live as independent nation alongside of Federal States—she has to choose between union with Great Britain or annexation with Federal States, and by the choice, England will abide. Times chides Canada for alleged unwillingness to raise reasonable force to resist invasion. X. Y. Sunday papers gave sensational rumor that McLeod's army had fallen back on Washington; portion of army going to Rosecrans, North Georgia to become battlefield of Union; also that another portion of army was to go to Charleston &c.

Government has 700,000 stand of arms in arsenal, and 2400 cannon. Rumored a portion of Burnside's forces gone on expedition into South Western Virginia, from which important results expected. Burnside at Knoxville last Thursday; no signs of enemy's movements there. Reported Hooker appointed to succeed Burnside and seconded by 18,000 men reinforced Rosecrans up to Saturday. Herald's despatch says rumors were about last night in Washington, that Union forces in Georgia and Tennessee met with a serious disaster, but nothing definite ascertainable from War Department.

Another women's bread riot occurred at Mobile. Position of army Potomac unchanged; support of Sherman's army at Mount Jackson, forward through Shenandoah Valley. Gold 143.

All quiet from army Potomac. News from Richmond meagre. Editorial Richmond papers hopeful but urge most strenuous exertions to redeem Chattanooga and expect evacuation of Meade. U. S. Steamer Connecticut reports 23d drove on shore and destroyed Confederate Steamer Phantom loaded with arms &c, intending to run the blockade at Wilmington, the vessel built in England and supposed intended for a Privateer.

Russian officers have grand reception at New York to-morrow, promising equal to that of the Prince of Wales when he visited the city. The Sons of Temperance in Washington and New York yesterday, President Lincoln received procession at White House and made short address.

It is supposed that Gen. Pope will command Department of Missouri, and General Curtis command in Kansas, as separate commands. Kirby Smith is at Arkadelphia with 20,000 men. Powder mills there with 100,000 kegs exploded. Reported Smith has proclaimed himself Dictator of Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, and called for 200,000 negroes to aid in his enterprise. A guerrilla force is operating in Mississippi, burning cotton, &c, one fight has occurred with them.

Gen. Gilmore is firing at Fort Sumpter again. "Steamer" has captured a very valuable prize, British built, and evidently intended for a Confederate man-of-war. Harper's ferry letter says Maj. Cole's gally came into contact with guerrilla chief Mosby and 150 of his men last Friday near Upperville, taking 90 prisoners and recapturing 75 horses. Posts Washington despatch says Union current yesterday destroyed to Union armies all false. "Republican" says good news has been received from Memphis, that it has been taken by Union forces. Occupation of East Tennessee continues comparatively quiet. Gen. Foster had engagement and skirmishes with Carter, capturing 75, killing 23, and routing balance; East Tennessee is now clear. Cavalry will attend to roving bands.