The late Confederate privateer Sumpter has arrived at Liverpool from Gibralter. Lord George C. Manners has been returned today from Cambridgeshire, without opposition.

The Times ridicules the Lord Mayor for bringing Mr. Mason into prominence at the banquet, and shows that the affair was without significance. It says Mason's remarks about an early recognition of the Confederates go far ahead of the real state of affairs. The recognition is not a question of time, of minority or majority, but of real existing facts.
When the Federals find themselves obliged to Teave the Confederates in quiet possession of their States, it will be time to discuss the question of recognition, but not until then. As it is, Mason has received no assistance or encouragement except from gentlemen who, like the Lord Mayor, are under no responsibility to weigh their words.
