

Steamer "Maple Leaf," owned in Boston, while returning to Jacksonville from Philadelphia on 1st struck on a torpedo which exploded, tearing off the steamer's bow and sinking her in ten minutes. Four of the crew were drowned, baggage all lost including that of 2 or 3 regiments.

A regiment of local Floridians have been organized. Tribune's Washington dispatch says, it is reported good authority that Lee has ordered all officers to send their baggage to Richmond before the 6th, after that the road is to be used to bring up reinforcements.

House Territorial committee decided to adopt bill to establish Territory of Montana with Senate's amendment allowing inhabitants, black or white, to vote.

RAJGORE, 14th 1864.

Cairo despatch reports force under Forrest marching on Paducah passed Louisville yesterday afternoon, and reported would attack next morning. Federal pickets at Columbus were driven yesterday; reinforcements been sent to Columbus and five gunboats are ready to receive enemy, accounts from Army of Potomac say reports Longstreet in Richmond with greater part of his army. Philadelphia Enquirer has Knoxville despatch saying Confederates unquestionably abandoned East Tennessee. Longstreet court martialled 7 of his generals. Number of disasters reported from recent gale, Feb 17.

Plot to kidnap President Lincoln.—The N. Y. Tribune's Washington letter furnishes an account of a plan to capture President Lincoln, proposed by the Confederate War Department in November. It was as follows:—

"One hundred and fifty picked men were to go secretly North and take quarters at Washington, Georgetown, Baltimore and Alexandria, so as to be able to communicate daily with each other, and upon a day fixed they were to assemble in Washington for the purpose of making the seizure. The President, it was claimed, could be easily seized at a quiet hour at the White House, or in the garden, returning from church, or on some other favorable occasion, and thrust in a carriage and carried off. The carriage was to be joined a few miles out of the city by twenty-five or thirty armed men on horseback. It was proposed to drive to Indian Point, about 25 miles south of Washington, on the Potomac, two or three miles of flat horses being stationed on the way, where a boat was to be waiting to cross the river and land the captive a few miles south of Oceanon, where it would be an easy matter for his captors to work their way with him through the woods by night into the rebel lines. To prevent pursuit every effort was to be destroyed between Washington and Indian Point."

Spirit of the War.—The following is an extract from Washington Correspondence of the N. Y. World: "I mention hundreds of facts in which the self-sacrificing spirit has manifested itself in its latest forms. The hundreds of women who have sent their husbands and sons to the battle field; the hundreds of widows who have parted with their last boy, their only support; the hundreds of citizens who have given their last dollar, the hundreds of ladies who have given up their last jewels, and the hundreds of ministers who have shouldered the market during the last month in defence of the sacred soil are as many evidences in support of my assertion. There is a captain of a regiment, Mr. Chastard, sending five hundred dollars to a sister of charity for the relief of the sick and wounded; there is an Alabama brigade ready to march to the front, rather than leave the flag under which they have fought during the last three years; here I meet the face of an old acquaintance of mine, Howell Cobb, proposing to sell the government thirty thousand pounds of bacon and forty thousand bushels of corn, at its own price; further, Wade Hampton, the wealthiest citizen of South Carolina, sending an order for all his slaves, his money, and his estates to Jeff. Davis. Add to this the farmers pouring their crops into the government granaries, the planters turning their cotton and rice to its credit, the people cheerfully giving up eight hundred millions of dollars of their hard-earned earnings to be converted into bonds bearing a low interest, the payment of which is by no means certain, and consenting to be burdened with a new issue half as large, and you will have a faint idea of the spirit of devotion and self-sacrifice which now animates the South. This is not a fancy picture, but a real picture, rather than from above truth."

THE noble and well bred Canadian Horse, YOUNG WAXWORK will stand for mares for the season of 1864, at the following places, viz., at Woodstock, at Bel River, at Southampton, at Northampton, at Victoria Corner, at Richmond, at South Richmond, at Scotch Corner, returning to Woodstock.

YOUNG WAXWORK was bred in Canada, and brought from there in the fall of 1863 by the proprietor. "Young Waxwork" is 4 years old, stands 16 hands high, and weighs 1,400 lbs., is a dark bay, with short legs, free from all natural blemishes; his symmetry and action are of a superior kind. He has proved himself a true soil getter.

Young Waxwork will be sold at the close of the season. WILLIAM A. FURLONG, Proprietor. April 15th—31

HEROES OF THE BATTLE FIELD.—On the bloody field of Shiloh, when the carnage was over, a soldier was found standing, his legs somewhat spread apart, and his arms thrown convulsively outward, his posture that of a living man, agitated, perhaps, by a strong emotion; he was, nevertheless, stone dead, a ghastly monument of seeming life alongside the hecatomb of fallen corpses. Another body lay partially prostrated on one side, the right hand holding to the mouth a piece of cheese which the set teeth were almost in the act of grasping.

GRAHAM'S PAIN EXTRACTOR.—How many Consumptives owe their afflictions to the fatal mistake of waiting for a cough to get well of itself? Avoid this error by availing yourself of that sure remedy for Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary Complaints. —Graham's Pain Extractor. Read the following from John Murray, Esq., Clonmore, under the date of Nov. 6th, 1863 from Queens Co., N. B.

"In the autumn of 1862 one of my sons was seized with a distressing Cough, accompanied by pain in the chest, and spitting of blood, from the combined effects of which he was rapidly reduced. Hearing of the astonishing results of Graham's Pain Extractor in the cure of disease, I procured a bottle, by the use of which I am happy to say, he was restored to perfect health. And has remained so since. From this and other instances of its efficacy, I can confidently recommend it to the afflicted."

MARRIED

On the 8th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, Jacksonville, by the Rev. B. Franklin Ratray, Mr. John G. Fiske to Miss Harriet J. Grass, all of the same place.

The bridal favors we return thanks, and tender our hearty congratulations to the happy couple.

DIED.

On the 10th inst., in the 58th year of his age, George Augustus Bedell, Esq., Registrar of Deeds and Wills for the County of Carleton, leaving two children, and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn the loss of a kind and indulgent parent, an affectionate brother and sincere friend.

At Nackawick, on the 24th March, of consumption, after an illness of four months, Mrs. Frank M. Baker, wife of Mr. Samuel L. Baker, and fourth daughter of Thomas and Catherine Chamber, of Jacksonville, aged 28 years. The rod and staff of her Heavenly Shepherd was her stay and comfort in the struggles of her kind and loving parent, an affectionate brother and sincere friend.

At Northampton on the 5th inst., Herbert Lincoln, aged 2 years and 4 months, son of Allan A. and Jane C. Watson.

Saviour now receive him, To thy bosom bid him, For with Thee we leave him, Blessed, blessed child, Though his eye has brightened, On our weary way, And his clear laugh lightened, Half our hearts dismay, Now let thought behold him, In his angelic rest, Where those arms enfold him, To a Saviour's breast.

On the 5th inst., at Upper Woodstock, of laryngeal consumption, after an illness of but one week, Joseph E., son of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Eley, of Jacksonville, aged 28 years. By this very sudden and unexpected death, the family circle has been bereaved of a most dutiful and affectionate son, and a kind and loving brother, the community of one of its most enterprising and upright citizens, and the Sons of Temperance one of their truest and most consistent members.

It has been my lot to visit many young people in sickness, and share in the solicitude and desire of friends for their recovery, but never have I witnessed greater anxiety among all classes in the behalf of one than was expressed concerning Joseph during the few days of his illness. His recovery seemed to be the united desire of all who had formed the least acquaintance with him, and special prayer and supplication was daily offered to God by all who knew the worth of prayer. But our most earnest desires, aided by the wisdom and skill of human physicians could not stay the power of the destroyer that watch at midnight. Death had received his awful commission from higher authorities, and the earth, and consequently human interposition could not prolong the days of the young man! Therefore, "Joseph is not."

On Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, his remains were conveyed from the house of our esteemed friend and brother, James Clark, of Upper Woodstock, (where Joseph died) to the First Baptist Church, in Jacksonville, accompanied by a very large and solemn procession, led by numerous members of the Order of Sons of Temperance in proper regalia. A sermon was preached by the writer from the warning voice of God, as he spoke by the mouth of his servant in the 4th verse of the 24th chapter of Matthew, "Therefore, be ye also ready." Revs. Samuel Hart and Joseph Harvey were present and united in the services, after which the body was consigned to the grave according to the usages and rights of the Order.

The occasion was a deeply solemn one, and it is the prayer of many, that it, together with others of a similar character in our own neighborhood during the winter, will prove in the great judgment day, a blessing to the young people of Jacksonville. As Pastor of the Church to which a number of this sorrowing and deeply afflicted family belong, I heartily tender to them my warmest sympathies, assuring them that the prayers of their unworthy minister are offered in their behalf, that sustaining grace may be imparted, and that the application however severe at present, may be sanctified to parents, brothers and sisters, so that when the Saviour comes to earth to gather the innumerable multitude of his redeemed jewels, your household may meet in the Christian's home in glory—meet to part no more, meet to sorrow no more.

JACKSONVILLE, April 10, '64. B. FRANKLIN RATRAY.

In the Regimental Hospital, at Fort Sumner, Md. U.S., on the 14th March, of acute dysentery, Nelson, son of the late James Taylor, of Woodstock, aged 29 years. For parent and brothers and sisters are called to mourn, a dear one. Death for the second time has broken the family circle.

Farwell brother, oh! how dreary, Life will seem without thee here, Of this earth thy soul was weary, And you left us brother dear.

Farwell brother, we shall miss thee, Miss thee brother one so gay; But whom best the Father loveth, Both he quickly call away.

Brother dear, why didst thou leave us, In the very flush of youth? Oh! we miss thy kindly greeting, And thy loving look of truth.

Farwell brother, they have laid thee, Rest on the bosom of thy God, But thy pure and stainless spirit, Rests on the bosom of thy God.

Farwell brother, not forever; Waking millions; calling homeward, All that slumber in the ground.
