once clever and unscrupulous. Right opposite to him was Dredge, cynically impassive. No change came over Lyndon's countenance; the lips never moved, the eyes never sparkled; he sat there like one in a dream, whilst the glorious intellectual athlete tore the fallacies of his party to pieces. But had that athlete broken down—had he wavered or hesitated—a smile would have crept over the Tory gladiator's face, and the eyes would have brightened up with triumph. Gladstone knew this; he knew how tremendous was the task he had undertaken; but it needed only the first few words to reassure any of his friends. Quietly, earnestly, almost solemnly he began his wonderful panoply of British commerce was unrolled. So numerous were the topics which the speaker handled, so minute and whimsically intricate were all the details, that the listener grew almost bewildered. Jagged sugar, the horses of hawks, proxy papers, ecclesiastical benefices, charitable institutions, of malt, tax, sugar duties, the impost upon income, fire insurance, tobacco, refreshment rooms, pauperism. These are only a few of the topics on which he touched. The wonder was to see that the orator never lost himself amidst this mass. Every sentence fell into its proper place. The daylight faded away; the gas was lit; and still Mr. Gladstone went on. As he progressed, men saw the wonderful clearness and lucidity of brain which was guiding him through the labyrinth. They forgot for a moment whether they were liberals or Tories; they remembered only that they were Englishmen; and they were all proud of this grave, pale man, who spoke so well. At times, when he had to talk of the poor, or when he recalled the beneficent legislation which has done so much for England, the speech rose to the solemn tenor of the sermon. The voice sometimes grew so earnest, that the hearers were startled into no enthusiasm. This was a man to follow—a man to guide the councils of a great empire. Even the squires who filled the Tory benches forbore to chatter, and looked unwontedly reasonable. The Chancellor of the Exchequer spoke of a grand policy which has lightened the burdens of every one in this nation; he showed how much still remained to be done; and with clearness and parallel, with an intellectual mastery and might which stamped him as a born ruler, he pointed out the broad plain road by which we can advance to results even greater than any which have yet been attained. He sat down; a ringing cheer broke out; and as people hurried from the House, as the rattle of cane sounded in the precincts of Parliament, there was but one word upon every tongue—"Magnificent!"

The sale of the Plantation Bitters is without precedent in the history of the world. There is no secret in the matter. They are at once the most speedy, strengthening health-restorer ever discovered. It requires but a single trial to understand this. Their purity can always be relied upon. They are composed of the celebrated Calceola Bark, Casarilla Bark, Dandelion, Chamomile Flowers, Lavender Flowers, Wintergreen, Anise, Clove-buds, Orange peel, Snake-root, Canaway, Coriander, Burdock.

S. T.—1860—X. &c.

They are especially recommended to clergymen, public speakers, and persons of literary habits and sedentary life, who require free digestion, a relish for food, and clear mental faculties. Delicate females and weak persons are certain to find in these Bitters what they have so long looked for. They purify, strengthen and invigorate. They are an antidote to change of water and diet. They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours. They strengthen the system and enliven the mind. They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers. They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach. They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation. They cure Diarrhea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus. They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache. They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak man strong, and are exhausted natures great restorer.

The following startling and emphatic statements can be taken from our

Letter of Rev. E. F. CRANE, Chaplain of the 10th New York Regiment:

NEAR AQUITA CURSE, March 4th, 1862.

Owing to the great exposure and terrible decomposition after the battle of Antietam, I was utterly prostrated and very sick. My stomach would not retain medicine. An article called Plantation Bitters, prepared by Dr. Drake, of New York, was prescribed to give me strength and an appetite. To my great surprise they gave me immediate relief. Two bottles almost allowed me to join my regiment.

I have since seen them used in many cases, and am free to say, for hospital or private purposes I know of nothing like them.

REV. E. F. CRANE, Chaplain.

Letter from the Rev. N. E. GILES, St. Clairsville, Pa. GENTLEMEN:—You were kind enough, on a former occasion to send me a half dozen bottles of Plantation Bitters for $3.50. My wife having derived so much benefit from the use of these Bitters, I desire her to continue them, and you will please send six bottles more for the money inclosed.

I am, very truly, yours
N. E. GILES, Pastor Gen. Ref. church.

SOLDIERS' HOME, SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 15th, 1862.

I have given your Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our noble soldiers who stop here, more or less disabled from various causes, and the effect is everywhere gratifying. Such a preparation as this I heartily wish in every family in every hospital, and at hand on every battle field.

G. W. D. ANDREWS, Superintendent.

Dr. W. A. CHILDS, Surgeon of the Tenth writes:—"I wish every soldier had a bottle of Plantation Bitters. They are the most effective, perfect, and harmless tonic I ever used."

WILLARD'S HOTEL,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2nd, 1863.

GENTLEMEN:—We require another supply of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which daily increases with the guests of our house.

Respectfully,
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.

Be sure that every bottle bears the fac-simile of our signature on a steel plate label, with our private stamp over the cork.

WASHING DAY MADE EASY.

THE GOOD TIME COMING.

THE best labor saving machine in this Country is the EUREKA CLOTHES WRINGER, combining in itself the requisite of economy and durability, being self-adjusting, produces a uniform pressure, and is light and easily handled. Having little or no wood-work about it, it is not affected by hot water, and will keep in order a long time. It will pay for itself in a short time in the wear of the clothes, and in the saving of time. Every family should have one. Call and see them. TRY IT two or three weeks, and then if you do not like it, return it to the Agents at the Houlton Hardware Store.

ONE OF HUNNEWELL'S GREAT REMEDIES.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—THE TRUE FORM OF A CATHARTIC.—By the application of true Medical Laws, both character and economy are combined in this most valuable Pill. To prevent putting into the stomach such quantities of indigestible and injurious drugs usually contained in Pills that require from four to six to get a decent cathartic, and to prevent the Gripping Pains so erroneously judged to be evidence of character, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding one, and never more than two Pills, settles the question of economy, and confidence is asked to test their true character in Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness, Liver Complaints, Piles, all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, and as a true Family Pill. For Worms they are a sure cure.
