On yesterday, a day of eternal shame to the republic, four human beings were murdered by order of an illigitimate military tribunal. Under the eyes of the Executive, within view of the Supreme Court of the United States, at the very centre of authority whence should emanate the example and the inculeation of subordination to the BARN recently built. Terms of payment easy. law, this outrage upon republicanism, this violation of the forms of justice, was consummated, and the record of the degradation and impotence, of our judicial system was sealed in blood. It cannot be claimed in palliation that popular liamstown Settlement, parish of Simonds, Carle-opinion sanctioned the deed, for public sentiment ton Co., near Trafton's Mills, on the Little has condemned the usurped authority by which Presque Isle, known as the property formerly owned those two men, that boy and that woman were by Thos. Bridges. Terms of payment easy. launched into eternity. The public press of all parties has protested against the procedure by which they suffered; and judges upon the bench, dely empowered to interpret the law, have pronounced the action of the military tribunal illegal, unconstitutional, and without justification upon any plea that even despotism uses in trampling upon liberty.

Court to plead hereafter that they were ignorant law throughout that mockery of a trial that culof Mr. Reverdy Johnson was irrefutable as to street, nearly opposite the Registrar's Office, formerly their lack of jurisdiction, and at least two cmin-owned by Miss Niles. This is a neat and comfortable ent and learned jurists have officially pronounced dwelling. Prices moderate and terms easy. the proceedings void of legality, irregular and arbitrary. But we say, besides, that the execution Woodstock, or the undersigned. bitrary. But we say, besides, that the execution was conducted in direct defiance of a special judicial mandate from a court that had full jurisdiction in the premises. A writ of Habeas Corpus, issued by Judge Wylie of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, was served on General Hancock at eight o'clock on the morning of 1 are constantly Manufacturing every description the execution, and it was disobeyed, ignored and of treated as so much waste paper from the bag of a ragpicker. That writ, the most sacred instrument of justice in our national jurisprudence, of superior quality, and which they will warrant to emanated from a Federal Court and was served large stock of Syrups, in Lemon, Pine Apple, Winby a Marshall of the United States. It was not, in this case, the Federal military power disputing they offer at Wholesale or Retail, at unusually Low the sovereignty of a State; it was the Federal Rates. military in conflict with the Federal judiciary. We have come, therefore, to this alarming pass, that the military power is supreme in time of peace; and that even that portion of the Republie's judicial system whose sphere of duty and of power is purely Federal, is powerless to pursue its mission and must yield to the volition of the War department. General Hancock, acting under instructions from the Secretary of War, did not even condesend to observe the form of a return upon the writ. It was simply ignored, and while the Federal officer carried the judicial paper Crapes, Delaines, Tarleton, etc. in his pocket, the rope was adjusted, the drop fell, and the murder was consummated in the face of an authoritative mandate to the outrage. And what said the Judge when the heel of military usurpation trampled upon his ermine?-

"He had not the power to enforce the writ."

This, then, freemen of the American Republic, is our condition. The Federal Courts have not the power to enforce their writs, because the Federal military assume an absolutism and uphold it with cannons, swords and bayonets. A Federal Court in the legitimate attempt to fulfill its duty, finds itself in antagonism with an armed host, and con-lesses itself powerless to vindicate the majesty of citizens looking on from anear and afar, whose duty and whose interest it is to insist that the regular course of legal procedure shall not be interrupted by any power in the land. Of what we have not the substance. Far better and nobler to crown a monarch and acknowledge his supremacy, than to profess republicanism while we are crawling in the shadow of a military absoluthanged on yesterday enters not into the purpose pose of carrying on of our remarks. It is because we wish that crime should meet its penalty that we demand, in the name of the Republic, the full exercise of their legitimate functions on the part of the tribunals that are authorized to punish crime. But, apart from the question of jurisdiction, there is something revolting in the indecent haste that has been exhibited in the execution of the accused. Granting that they were criminal beyond all limits of atrocity, it was an outrage upon Christianity and offers his thanks to the public for their former patron- in Lamps, Chimneys, Goblets, Tumblers, Beer Mugs civilization to hurry them to death with but one days warning for repentance and preparation for eternity.
