A COMMON SENSE VIEW OF THE

MODE IN WHICH

HOSTETTER'S

ACT UPON THE HUMAN SYSTEM.

THIS is an age of enquiry. People want to knew why and wherefore of all statements submitted to them as facts, and as far as this is concerned, it is proposed to gratify them. All the physicians admit that the greatest difficulty they encounter in their practice is in conthat will counteract and neutralize it. It shocks the nerves, but can not and Machine Shop, 2 Steam Engines, &c. distribute through the system anything except itself. Medicated electricity is, in short, an exploded humbug. But a liquid stimulant, as everybody knows, can be charged with the essential properties of any and every substance in the Materia Medica, and there is no herbial extract which will not hold in solution with all its preventative and curative virtues unimpaired. Now the pure liquid stimulant of which are in part composed, is charged with invaluable vegetable remedies, and these by reason of its powerful diffusive principle, it conveys to every organ and introduces into the circulation. To use a common expression, it goes to the spot, taking with it just what is wanted there. The essence of rye would undoubtedly diffuse itself through the organization as swiftly if adminis- Matches, Trusses, Hair Oils and Perfumery; tered pure and simple, as if mixed with the juices of tonic and alterative roots, barks and herbs. But of what use would it be without their healing, strengthening, life-sustaining balm? It would merely excite. It could neither protect found in any other establishment in Woodstock. nor cure. And herein lies the essential difference between the effect of the purest stimulant when given alone, and the same stimulant when administered in the medicinal form of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Good Monongabela spirit is doubtless the mildest and most innocuous of all the varieties of linor, but it only becomes a healthful medicine then impregnated with the vegetable elements mployed in the preparation of the Bitters.

To Dyspeptic Sufferers.

Under the general head of Dyspepsia may be classed all the varieties of indigestion. Its symptoms are so various, and differ so much in different individuals, that it is almost impossible to classify them. In fact, some of them are utterly indescribable. It may be safely asserted, howfrom a disordered state of the stomach; and that the other half, whatever their origin, react upon abdomen immediately after eating a gnawing sen-sation, or a sense of hollowness at the pit of the stomach between meals, a heavy dull feeling in the head, feeble or unsteady appetite, occasional nausea, restlessness during the night, and a weary, unrefreshed feeling on rising in the morning, palpitation of the heart, depression of mind, sometimes amounting to monomania, loss of memory, confusion of thought, sour stomach, with raising dimness of the eyes, pain in the diaphragm, fee-bleness and disinclination for exertion, and someof food, and a choking sensation in the throat, times emaciation and a corpse-like pallor. These are a few of the direct signs of dyspepsia, but as it is generally complicated with specific affections of the bowels, the liver, and the nerves, its victims have many additional torments which are technically attributed to other causes. The best abvice that can be given to any one who has the slightest predisposition to dyspepsia, is to fortify his or her digestive organs by the daily use of

Hostetter's Bitters.

The disease proceeds from a lack of vigor in the stomach, and this vitalizing preparation will tone and renovate that organ. If the gastric apparatus is in good working order, and can pertectly dissolve and thoroughly assimilate the food submitted to its operation, there will be no dyspepsia. If it cannot do this, it requires rein- ESPECTFULLY informs her friends and the pubforcement, and the best of all reinforcing agents | Lic generally, that she has resumed the business should be forthwith resorted to. entire country, in every state and city, and that a lines to the hamlet it contains, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is an reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but merous friends and the public generally, for the its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on liberal patronage received since his commencement in thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the rep business at St. John, and would beg to intimate that utation it enjoys.
