HUMAN SYSTEM.

THIS is an age of enquiry. People want to a know why and wherefore of all statements submitted to them as facts, and as far as this is concerned, it is proposed to gratify them. All the physicians admit that the greatest difficulty they encounter in their practice is in conveying to the seat of a disease the medicament that will counteract and neutralize it. Electricity has been tried for this purpose, but it is now generally admitted that the electric fluid is too subtle an agent to be made the vehicle of medication. It shocks the nerves, but can not distribute through the system anything except itself. Medicated electricity is, in short, an exploded humbug. But a liquid stimulant, as everybody knows, can be charged with the essential properties of any and every substance in the Materia Medica, and there is no herbial extract which will not hold in solution with all its preventative and curative virtues unimpaired. Now the pure liquid stimulant of which are in part composed, is charged with invaluable vegetable remedies, and these by reason of its powerful diffusive principle, it conveys to every organ and introduces into the circulation. To use a common expression, it goes to the spot, taking with it just what is wanted there. The essence of rye would undoubtedly diffuse itself through the organization as swittly if adminis- GROCERIES, SPICES and HARD WARE, tered pure and simple, as if mixed with the juices of tonic and alterative roots, barks and herbs. But of what use would it be without their healing, strengthening, life-sustaining balm? It would merely excite. It could neither protect nor cure. And herein lies the essential difference between the effect of the purest stimulant when given alone, and the same stimulant when administered in the medicinal form of

To Dyspeptic Sufferers.

Under the general head of Dyspepsia may be classed all the varieties of indigestion. It may be safely asserted, however, that half of the diseases of mankind spring from a disordered state of the stomach; and that the other half, whatever their origin, react upon that sensitive and important organ.
