Electricity has been tried for this purpose, but it is now generally admitted that the electric fluid is too subtle an agent to be made the vehicle of medication. It shocks the nerves, but can not distribute through the system anything except old, price £10, less than half the cost of importation. ploded bumbug. But a liquid stimulant, as ev- exchange for above mentioned Goods, by erybody knows, can be charged with the essential properties of any and every substance in the Materia Medica, and there is no herbial extract which will not hold in solution with all its preventative and curative virtues unimpaired. Now the pure liquid stimulant of which are in part composed, is charged with invaluable vegetable remedies, and these by reason of its powerful diffusive principle, it conveys to every organ and introduces into the circulation. To use a common expression, it goes to the spot, taking with it just what is wanted there. The essence of rye would undoubtedly diffuse itself through the organization as swiftly if administered pure and simple, as if mixed with the juices of tonic and alterative roots, barks and herbs. But of what use would it be without their healing, strengthening, life-sustaining balm? It would merely excite. It could neither protect nor cure. And herein lies the essential difference between the effect of the purest stimulant when given alone, and the same stimulant when administered in the medicinal form of

It supplies the elements of life to the whole body. In it is prepared the material of blood, muscle, bone and fibre, and if it fails to purvey that material in sufficient quantity, and of a proper kind, the whole body suffers, and with it the mental faculties. Therefore protect the "Commissary Department." Don't let the enemy obtain possession of it.
