The Candidates for the Local Legislature are before the people.

The cards of the three candidates for the local Legislature are before the people. Our opinion is to the nature of the responsibilities to be borne by the local Legislature, and the character of the men whose services are required there, we have already submitted. We have stated a preference for Mr. Hartley. We have had and now feel no desire to depreciate the character or ability of other candidates, or to enter upon, in these columns, a mere electioneering canvass, against or for anybody. We know the candidates, all of them, personally and publicly, and we believe that, under existing circumstances, Mr. Hartley will make the best representative. Allowing the candidates all to stand on a level of point of integrity, and each one to have his peculiar talents necessary for a legislator, we believe that Mr. Hartley combines the several requirements for the present juncture more completely than the others. He has education; he has experience; he has a pretty thorough acquaintance with the political history of this, his native Province, and with the workings of our political machinery, and has had rare opportunities for understanding wherein the politicians from this County have failed and wherein succeeded. He is, perhaps, better acquainted with the circumstances of the people of the County and their local wants than any other man, having, in his capacity as a land surveyor, had unusual opportunities for observation. He is an industrious and an energetic man—in fact, as is well known, a worker—outside of this County he is well known, and we speak advisedly when we say that he stands high in the estimation of the leading men of the Province.

With the workings of the Crown Land Department, and the operations of the present system, so far as it bears heavily on the settlers, and injuriously to the interests of the Province, he has been thoroughly conversant. Being a member of the University Senate shows that he stands high with those who are at the head of the educational system of the Province, and would enable him to bring much experience gained in that position to bear on any legislation proposed with regard to Education. We know that when Mr. Hartley made some most unjust, and unworthy remarks, insulting to Mr. H. and to the Free Christian Baptists, and the Globe now favors one of the candidates.

Mr. Hartley's ability as a speaker are well known to be of a high order. He does not indulge in mere declamation, but, with an easy and rapid command of words, and a good delivery, he is convincing in his reasoning, logical in his conclusions and comprehensive in his views.

We know the canvasses against Mr. Hartley, and know them to be worthless. Mr. Hartley is accused of having had a desire to sacrifice the County for the Town on the Railway question. When Mr. Hartley told the people of the County, when he asked their votes, that that vote would not cost the County anything, and because he at the Council Board consistently resisted an attempt to fasten a tax upon the County, being then charged with being in collusion with Mr. Kilburn to injure the Town, it had a good deal to do with his being rejected at the next Parish Election.

It has been argued that Mr. Hartley did a great wrong when he signed a certain debenture in blank, by which he enabled the financial officer of the County, who was under heavy bonds, to borrow money, as he had been ordered, for County purposes. In doing this Mr. Hartley only desired that the County should obtain money, in accordance with order, to meet the necessities of the County and save costs. He did what is done every month of the year by the heads of departments with their clerks. He did what the Council would never have known he had done, had not Mr. Hartley went to the Board and told them of it. And no harm has come of it; not a cent was lost sustained by the County through it.

The Telegraph, in its great anxiety for North Shore interests has to descend (?) we regret, very frequently to unmanly, as they are mean and unprofessional, falsehoods. He should respect the character of the New Brunswick press, and think of its reputation abroad, if he is oblivious of any respect for his own reputation for veracity. He meanly reiterates a falsehood too transparent to demand, and too mean to deserve contradiction, and then frames another deliberate lie as to our remarks about Mr. Lindsay.

We stated a rumor, nothing more nothing less—meaning nothing more and nothing less. We hold little communication either with Mr. Lindsay or Mr. Connell. We never heard that Mr. Lindsay had bargained with Mr. Connell for his office. Had we heard such a story we should have said that Mr. Connell was scarcely so simple as to suppose that Mr. Connell could have anything to do directly with the disposal of his office. And we would have said that whatever Mr. Lindsay's faults or failings are he is not a man who would sell himself or his constituents. The Telegraph is welcome to say what he likes about the SENTINEL, when he wants to let his readers know what we say he might just copy this article and let his readers form their own opinions.

Among the evidences of advancement in the rural districts we must mention, that at McKenzie's Corner, so-called, Richmond, Mr. Hoyt has finished over his Store a fine and commodious public hall, an institution desired in every district. At Centreville Mr. John D. Baird, when completing his large building for stores and an hotel, did not forget this, but provided a large and comfortable hall, suitable for public gatherings. The Hotel mentioned is well kept by Mr. David Gray. At Centreville, too, is a model school house. The size and exterior finish is all that could be desired, while internally the arrangements are most complete and such as not only to conduce to the comfort and sanitary well being of the scholars, but all the surroundings, the decorations on the walls, the arrangement of the books and apparatus; the position of the desks, are all such as to educate the youthful mind in a love for the orderly, neat, and the beautiful. Mr. Geo. W. White, we learn, took a most active interest in the establishment of this institution, which is under the care of Mr. Hugh McGrath, an able and experienced teacher.

From personal observation, in several of the districts of this County, we are enabled to state that on the whole the prospects of the harvest are encouraging. The Hay, most of which has been well secured, is a heavy crop. Wheat scarce ever was better, almost entirely free from the weevil or rust. Oats are magnificent. Buckwheat is poor, as it has been badly injured by a blight, and in some places will be an entire failure. The Potatoe rust is exceedingly prevalent, but we hope that the cold nights which the wind recently will prevent it from increasing as it has already done.

It is pleasing to observe that there is a re-awakening of that old Temperance spirit, which at one time in Woodstock and vicinity made itself both seen and felt, but which to a considerable extent, so far as its inspirations to active measures in the cause is concerned, has for the last year or two been rather quiescent. Alcohol has had its pretty much its own way of late here, and if extension of a business prospered its popularity or prosperity or indicates ought to be to the appreciation of it by a community then we must imagine that, judging from the vast extension of the liquor business in Woodstock, it is a popular, a prosperous, and a well appreciated business. We know there are some people who think this business has become too much of a monopoly of the business energy of the Town, and we know too that strangers who visit us, mark upon the fact that, so far as appearances go, this overshadows all the other branches of mercantile business; if so it only indicates the tendency of the laws and of the customs and feelings of society. All therefore who think it has reached too great an extent, and all who believe, as all must believe, that Temperance is a cardinal virtue, and that Intemperance is the reverse of elevating to the social or moral condition of a people, will be glad to know the fact which we stated at the outset.

There was a lively and interesting meeting of the "Woodstock Temperance Alliance," in the P. C. Baptist Church, on Thursday evening, the 7th, at which a number of gentlemen, lay and clerical, spoke, and at which several persons took the pledge. An effort on foot, and being energetically forwarded, to resuscitate "Carleton Division F. T.," which at one time did a vast amount of good in the community.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was also held at the Free Hall, South Richmond, on Thursday evening, 5th inst., under the auspices of "Union Division, S. of T. for the advocacy of Temperance." Wm. Guy, W. P., occupied the chair. The meeting was opened with singing and prayer, by Rev. Mr. Murray. The speeches were to the point and were well received by the audience. The speakers were—Messrs. Thomas Fleming, Dr. Hunter, Robert Bailey, J. A. Thompson, S. P. Hall, J. A. Thompson, Angus Hamilton, James Carr, Rev. Mr. Murray and the writer. "Union" Division, in the past, has accomplished a glorious work, may its future be equally successful.

In this connection it may be stated that the new law in Maine is said to be working admirably. Persons who always opposed it and who were engaged in the traffic tell us that the result of the entire stoppage of the sale of liquors is very marked and such as must conduce to the happiness of the people.

Notwithstanding the general dullness in the markets of the world, Woodstock cannot complain either of the present state of its trade, or for its prospects in the future. Thanks to the enterprise and unity of feeling among the people of this city and the County, our Branch Railroad is being pushed forward rapidly on to completion, thus giving Woodstock uninterrupted communication with the sea and the outside world during the whole year. This place will then become the enterprise of the productive country above, and when the bridge to the Northampton side of the St. John is completed, a new community of purchasers and sellers will be brought in contact with our business men, and a trade which will be mutually beneficial. This is essentially an age of Confederation, of bringing people together who have been strangers heretofore. These things can only be done by means such as the Woodstock Branch Railroad, the Bridge over the St. John, and in a much larger degree, the Inter-Colonial Railway. Woodstock occupies a position well calculated to improve her fortunes by these new enterprises. After the Branch Railroad is completed St. Stephen must be one of the markets in which our merchants will make their purchases, but still St. John has the advantage and will continue to have the lions share of our trade. It is a well understood principle in political economy that men will buy in the cheapest market and sell in the dearest. By this means only can people become rich and prosperous. The merchants of St. John have had a large market heretofore, and have thus been in a position to import largely, and with advantage to themselves and their customers, each in his own particular line. From statistics we might refer in many instances illustrative of this. The St. John merchants are large and their information extensive in reference to the ups and downs of trade and commerce; they know when to make purchases and how.

In the wholesale Tea, Tobacco and General Grocery business we might refer to the house of C. L. Richards, located on the North Market Wharf, St. John, as one which possesses peculiar facilities for the supply of the country trade, a fact which our people are not slow in discovering, judging by the piles of barrels, bales, boxes and chests which are to be seen at our stores and arriving here on their way to the upper country, bearing his initials and address.

As an evidence of the far-sightedness which every prosperous business man should possess, we may state that Mr. Richards is now receiving an unusually large stock of Goods in anticipation of increased duties which will be levied upon certain articles and must increase their price. These he will of course be in a position to sell below those upon which the extra duties have been paid, and his customers will reap the advantage. As a reliable and clever man to deal with we can recommend Mr. Richards to our readers.

It is fortunate for St. John that Western Extension is in a condition which gives hope of speedy connection with the St. Andrew's Railway, and thus with Woodstock. Otherwise her trade must have suffered in a considerable degree after the completion of our Branch.

The Carleton County Agricultural Society's Show takes place on Tuesday, October 1st. We trust to see it the best show ever held in this County, not only because the material for such an exhibition is so abundant, but also because a selection will be made from the articles exhibited to send to the Provincial Show, to be held at St. John on the 8th, at which there is no reason why this County should not, in the departments connected with Agriculture, take a prominent position. Let the Farmers here in this mind, and take some additional trouble, in order that the County Show may be complete and offer a broad field for selection.

There is a great deal of sickness at present, and there has been a large number of deaths in the up-river districts lately. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Everett have both died within a few days of each other, in this Town. At Little Falls, Victoria, we learn from a private letter, thirteen persons have been buried within nine days and many more persons are dangerously ill. In all these cases Diarrhoea has been the fatal disease.

We have received from the publisher, G. W. Day, St. John, a copy of the Debates of the last session of the Legislature. They are well reported, and the book is well got up.

A most disastrous fire took place in this Town on Wednesday last, which, in its sad results, proved only second to the great fire of 1860. About 2 o'clock, p.m., smoke and flames were discovered breaking through the barn, connected with the residence of Mr. John Dalton, Main Street. The two Engines, Nos. 2 & 3, were both early on the spot, and during the fire were both active and effective service to what we think they ever did before on a like occasion. Had there been a supply of water on the ground when the Engines first reached the spot, the fire would have been confined, no doubt, to the building in which it originated. The want of ladders and fire hooks was also grievously apparent. However the firemen and citizens labored earnestly and well, and it is owing entirely to their indefatigable efforts that the loss has not proved much more extensive than it has.

The following persons are supposed to be a greater or lesser extent. Mr. McLaughlin, dwelling on school-house of $500; John Leary, dwelling house and barn—insured for $200; Dr. Smith, dwelling house and out-buildings—insured on buildings for $1800, on furniture, $800; Alfred Ganong, dwelling house; Jas. McKinley, barn; Alanson Payson, barn. Making in the aggregate ten buildings. Besides many persons living in close proximity to the damage occasioned by the necessary removal of their furniture.

This fire has developed many deficiencies in our Fire Department, water supply, and other things in connection therewith, to which we shall more specially refer at another time.

NOMINATION DAY IN ST. JOHN.—The Hon. J. H. Gray was nominated by James H. Moran, Z. Ring, Z. Adams, W. H. Harrison, Thomas H. Hilday, Robert J. Leonard, Jas. McNichol, L. McLaughlin, John Fisher, W. A. Robertson, G. F. Thompson, and James Sullivan; and the Hon. S. L. Tilley, by John Walker, Alce. Lockhart, T. Ring, Robert J. Leonard, Thos. R. Jones, W. A. Robertson, John McLaughlin, William Parks, James Harris, Wm. O. Smith, Thos. M. Reed, D. C. Perkins, and John Fisher.

Dr. Day was nominated for the County and John Wilson for the City. The opposition amounts to nothing.

The firing for the Provincial Rifle competition which began on Friday evening, was concluded on Saturday morning, resulting as follows:—

At a meeting of electors of Wakefield, held at Victoria Corner on Saturday evening, Mr. E. M. Boyer, Chairman, and Mr. Inch, Secretary, Mr. Ivory Kilburn was nominated by Angus Gallop, Esq., seconded by Mr. Geo. Davis. Jas. R. Hartley was nominated by G. R. Boyer, Esq., seconded by Mr. Joseph McGee. A number of speeches were made, after which a vote was taken, when there appeared 22 for Hartley, and 5 for Kilburn.

At a meeting held on the 19th inst., by the electors in the upper part of Northampton, Mr. Hartley received the unanimous nomination as their candidate to the Local Legislature.

By a circular issued from J. S. Hutton, Principal of the Deaf and Dumb Institution, Halifax, N. S., we learn that it is the intention of that gentleman to address a public meeting in Woodstock, on the 8th of October, in order to the awakening of a more general interest in the education of the uneducated deaf and dumb. Mr. Hutton will be accompanied by some pupils from the institution.

Now that Mr. Connell has been elected, the Telegraph suddenly discovers that he is for the Government. Better that the Telegraph had known what he was writing about when he was abusing Mr. Connell for being opposed to the Government.

From Mr. E. D. Watts, of St. John, who is now in the English market purchasing his Fall stock of Dry Goods, we have received late English and Scotch papers.

The new bridge is now opened for traffic; it is nearly finished, and will be an elegant and substantial structure, doing the builder, Mr. Price, much credit.

In Resignation of the Local Legislature resulted in favor of Mr. Montgomery, he beating his opponent, Mr. Caldwell, 51 votes.

There are three Tea Meetings advertised, one to take place this (Saturday) evening at Greenfield; one next Thursday at Waterville, and one on the 25th at Somerville.

We are in receipt of a pamphlet, from the Printer, Henry A. Cropley, Fredericton, containing two sermons, on the "Mission of the Comforter," by John, Lord Bishop of Fredericton. They may be had at Rickie's Book Store.

From Mr. Stephen B. Appleby, Cambridge, Mass., we have late American papers. Also from Ruggles' Express, per kindness of Mr. Vanwart, agent here.

The candidates for the Local Legislature have been and are, vigorously stamping the County. Mr. Hartley's prospects are brightening every day, and his return seems sure.

Notice the sale of Goods and Land, by auction, at the store recently occupied by Mr. George Strickland in this Town, on Saturday, 14th September.

The Hon. Messrs. McGee and Cartier have been returned to the Commons from Montreal by handsome majorities.

There is to be an Excursion, over the N. B. & C. Railway, to St. Stephen, on Tuesday next, 17th inst.

We have received the first number of a new morning paper, published in St. John, by J. R. McCready, called the Morning Sun.

BOOK NOTICES.—We have received from John Langton, Esq., M. A., of the Audit office, Ottawa, a copy of a paper published by him on the subject of "The Age of Timber Trees, and the prospect of a continuous supply of Timber in Canada." We have perused this pamphlet with great interest and it is on a most interesting subject, and we shall gladly refer to its pages for sound suggestions and information, important and interesting to our readers, at a future time.

We have from A. Williams & Co., "Harper's Magazine" for September, filled with usual with a variety of matter, descriptive, novel, gay, light, and suited to every condition of reader.
