is concerned, it is proposed to gratify them. All the physicians admit that the greatest difficulty they encounter in their practice is in conveying to the seat of a disease the medicamen that will counteract and neutralize it. Electricity has been tried for this purpose, but it is now generally admitted that the electric fluid is oo subtle an agent to be made the vehicle of medication. It shocks the nerves, but can not Materia Medica, and there is no herbial extract which will not hold in solution with all its preventative and curative virtues unimpaired. Now the pure liquid stimulant of which

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Good Monongabela spirit is doubtless the mild est and most innocuous of all the varieties of liquor, but it only becomes a healthful medicine when impregnated with the vegetable elements employed in the preparation of the Bitters.

To Dyspeptic Sufferers.

Under the general head of Dyspepsia may be classed all the varieties of indigestion. Its symptoms are so various, and differ so much in different individuals, that it is almost impossible to classify them. In fact, some of them are utterly indescribable. It may be safely asserted, howindescribable. It may be safely asserted, howindescribable. It may be safely asserted, howindescribable. It may be safely asserted, howing the state of the content of the discussion of mankind spring the state of the content of indescribable. It may be safely asserted, how-ever, that half of the diseases of mankind spring from a disordered state of the stemach; and that the other half, whatever their origin, react upon that sensitive and important organ. Among the ordinary indications of dyspepsia are flatulence, a bloated and full feeling about the stomach and abdomen immediately after eating a gnawing sensation, or a sense of hollowness at the pit of the tomach between meals, a heavy dull feeling in bleness and disinclination for exertion, and some- excess of evil practices. times emaciation and a corpse-like pallor. These are a few of the direct signs of dyspepsia, but as technically attributed to other causes. The best abvice that can be given to any one who has the slightest predisposition to dyspepsia, is to fortify his or her digestive organs by the daily use of Hostetter's Bitters.

The disease proceeds from a lack of vigor in the stomach, and this vitalizing preparation will tone and renovate that organ. If the gastric apparatus is in good working order, and can perfectly dissolve and thoroughly assimilate the food submitted to its operation, there will be no dyspepsia. If it cannot do this, it requires reinforcement, and the best of all reinforcing agents hould be forthwith resorted to. The stomach is Auburn, Golden, Flaxen & Silken Curls, whole body suffers, and with it the mental fac-ulties. Therefore protect the "Commissary De-Descriptive Circulars mailed free. Consider the first indication of uneasiness in the stomach as a sign that dyspepsia is preparing to attack, and baffle it at once with this great repellant.
